PTION
tiseases of the
AND CHEST
the D HEART
reated by WILLIAMS,
P. S. C.,
IN ST.,
Los Angeles, Cal.
respiratory organs roved. Medicated in the remedies into ieases part. Those with proper con-
the liver, stomach,
ite. The efficacy of s attested by the fact ir and in Los Ano years; only twelve treatment only with

RONCHITIS
nunation of the munchial tubes, and is ed by spitting chitis more often a cold settles in e; dull pain under ids in bronchitis is ful on the chest,
et feel entirely well.
ld, and to expel ct of exercise, and breath, with more ion of his hands ppears, accompanied ce more, followed flesh and stre gth
e, when the patient ptoms of having a ption. But this is ps in a few hours.

e discuss the means bronchial tube self-tubes and air cells mmodate become
There are no over-ups, but nearly ger bronchial tubes.
e obstruction of the e cells of the lungs.
exhaustion and sufe expectoration and ion in the passage-ich in some cases is ntity, but more com-straw or yellowish, es of blood take mucous, and at times ly smell. These last ke a cold, at which ot clear and frothy, by the exercise of ce attacks.
ancer, to be the profuse quans which e mas from lungs. At times it the white of an egg.
daily attacks old per-disease, the very op-very common after-ho who read them, to-day under the inust surely becoming ous complaints are ge of air passages.
first be a slight hack-tention or a shrink-ain lies the danger, ing, and the pulse rate, after a time ed expectoration of rooning shortness of expression on the coals or on slight the cough becomes n paroxysms, and increases it almost sphnea. The sicken-es more and more from the frequent nt at last becomes changes have been ervitable results that system which will yes the treatment of Send for the new this with a healthy action.

of the necessity of systems of Medicated ment of the various ry organs, for when he system of medi-ent.
sult with me in rease, by letter, free
if impossible to do st of Questions and

LIAMS, M. D.,
, Los Angeles, Cal.
a. m. to 4 p. m.
Jun28

Sale!

IN MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS

BARGAINS!

f 9 rooms, bath room,
tand, closets, etc.;
Bath Room open
ar attachments, etc.;
on brick foundation;
anybody this is a gen-

Hill st., this side of ifa ranch; splendid

our rooms, hard finater with pump; se-for $15 per month;
Certainly cheap.
on Olive st., will

st of 8 rooms, bath, ard, wash house, and
st. cars; shrubbery

ntary home and very ul place, lovely lawn ge location. Must be
de. Here is be worth

3 large rooms, bath ar to business. Good on Walnut, Olive, at each and apple trees, side of Olive st., Saidence on Fort street;

ible; large lot, good hard finished rooms ust outside city; five rooms of two rooms mill, tank, etc.

ooms and fine
ce foundation; little wet cow; lot 80x150;
ood and shrubbery;
of fruit trees, bath
; two bay windows;
eighborhood; lot set
, black berries, etc.

parts of the city
ST.
st. Widney Block.

CKMAN,
countant
ROOM 36.

TURKISH, RUSSIAN, ELECTRIC
And Medicated Baths
—AT THE—
NEW HAMMAM BATHS,
74, 76 and 78 South Main Street.

Ladies' Department Open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.
Gents' Department Open from 9 a. m. to Midnight.

These baths are built on the same plan as those in the larger cities of the East and Europe. Elegant cooling rooms, where the bather can enjoy the comforts of an Oriental siesta. Hot rooms are large and well ventilated.

SUPERIOR & EXPERIENCED SHAMPOOERS.
ELEGANT TOWELING.
POLITE ATTENDANCE

An Immense Swimming Bath of Clear, Cold Water.

Barber, chiropodist and ladies' hairdresser. The Ladies' Department is under the management of an experienced lady shampooer, formerly of Las Vegas Hot Springs.

Electricity applied after the Bath, if desired, Free of Charge.

Single Baths, 81. - - - Six Tickets for 85.
fe15 1m

74° GASOLINE.

Pure Deodorized. Guaranteed of the Best Quality.

20c PER GALLON IN CASE LOTS.

WHITTIER, FULLER & CO.,

207 North Los Angeles Street, - - Los Angeles, Cal.
TELEPHONE 79.

REMOVED FROM 260 TO 267 S. SPRING ST. | OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 AM TO 5 PM

MASSAGE
Manipulation & Swedish Movement Cure
BY CAROLINA STAPFER, LATE OF BOSTON.

The above treatment is especially indicated in indigestion, rheumatism and all wasting nervous diseases, and is based upon my thoroughly scientific and physiological principles that a thorough course of practice recommended it, and I refer to all well-known physicians of Los Angeles.
fe19 1m

HOLMES & SCOTT, 157 S. Spring
BETWEEN SECOND AND THIRD, WEST SIDE.

Wellington Gallup and Sydney Coal.
All kinds of dry wood, hard and soft. Bay, Peat, charcoal and coke. Telephone 115.
Free and prompt delivery.

PACIFIC FRUIT CO.
SUCCESSORS TO HOWE & HALL.
Wholesale & Commission Dealers in California Green & Dried Fruits.
RAISINS, ORANGES, NUTS, HONEY, BEANS, PRODUCE, ETC.
408 and 410 Davis Street, - - - - - San Francisco, Cal.
ESTABLISHED 1865. INCORPORATED 1885. Ja25f

J. T. SHEWARD.
SPRING AND FIRST STREETS.

IF YOU ARE IN SEARCH OF BARGAINS
Do Not Fail to Visit
Our Big Basement Salesroom
IF YOU WANT CHOICE GOODS
At the Lowest Possible Prices, Do Not Fail to Visit Our MAIN SALESROOM.

LARGE LINES OF NEW GOODS
Are now being placed on sale for early spring trade. We are better equipped than ever before with choice new goods. Novelties that cannot be found elsewhere.

Choice Novelties in Ladies' Neckwear and Handkerchiefs Elegant New Designs in SILKS, SATINS, VELVETS AND WOOL DRESS GOODS.

The Largest Assortment of Corsets and Muslin Underwear in the City.

We are showing new Ginghams, Seersuckers, Toil du Nords, Prints, Muslin, Table Linens, Towels and Napkins. New things in Kid, Lisle Thread and Silk Gloves. All gloves fitted to the hand by polite and attentive saleladies. The only house in the city that understands the fitting of gloves.

NEW RIBBONS IN ENDLESS VARIETY,
HANDSOME NEW DESIGNS IN HOSIERY
And the Largest and Cheapest Notion Department
In Southern California.

Late improvements give us an abundance of light. The most perfect cash system in use and the addition of our new basement avoids all overcrowding, and gives us a room for really desirable goods and a room for job lots and cheap goods of every description.

It will Pay You to Come and See Us.

DURING THIS WEEK
WE WILL CLOSE OUT THE
ENTIRE STOCK OF A. FEINTUCH
Of No. 30 North Spring Street.

Our Center Tables will be laden with his goods and replaced daily. We will also sell the STOCK OF REINSTEIN & CO., Gents' Furnishers,
Of Kearney street, San Francisco, which was purchased at auction sale by our Mr. A. Hamburger.

We have just received 10 pieces of 44-inch all-wool sacking that we shall give you at 50c. It is worth that at the factory.

We shall open to-morrow about 15 cases of men's and boys' straw hats that range in price from 35c upwards.

We have received a lot or boys' suits and knee pants; the latter we offer at 75c a pair. You cannot buy the cloth for it. Suits from $2 50 upward.

A. Hamburger & Sons,
PEOPLE'S STORE,
41, 43 and 45 Spring Street, Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES SUNDAY TIMES.

VOL. IX.—NO. 64. LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 21, 1886.—EIGHT-PAGE EDITION. FIVE CENTS.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL SERVICE INDICATIONS.

At Sellgrad to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—8 p. m.—Indications for succeeding thirty-two hours: For California, continued warm, fair or clear weather, light variable winds, generally northerly in northern portion. Special prediction for Monday: Continued warm, fair weather.

LOCAL BULLETIN.

LOS ANGELES SIGNAL OFFICE, Feb 20.—11 of a. m. to-day the thermometer registered 76; at 1287 p.m. 74, and at 7.07 p. m. 60. Mean for corresponding periods, 80.86, 68.3. Maximum temperature, 78.0; minimum, 46.3. Weather at 7:07 p. m., clear.

The Times.

—Temple, Main and New High.

The next encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in Los Angeles.

The time the boy pulled back the hammer, "not thinking it was loaded," and killed his father.

Rev. B. F. WHITE, of New York, has been on trial, charged with assault upon a young woman and being the father of her child. The old tomcat!

The American Agricultural and National Dairying Associations stand pat in denouncing the adulteration of wines. The dairymen, it is presumed, have a fellow feeling.

JOHN RENICH, a Sacramento restaurateur, tried to cook his whole establishment for breakfast yesterday morning and failed. John is under arrest.

In a brief disagreement which occurred at Clarksville yesterday, Austin Leahy had the satisfaction of choking his mother-in-law to death. New application of the Keely Motor; caveat Bell.

A Baptist preacher at Cordelo, W. Va., has beaten the record by baptizing forty-four people in fifty seconds. They had to cut the ice and stir the water with a pole to keep it from freezing while the candidates were getting ready for the solemn ceremony.

The New York Sun inquires, "Which shall it be? Which ought to be saved, the Pan-Electric Company or the Democratic party? Which ought a Democratic and reform President to prefer?" These questions appear to be directed to the President in Washington, and the President does not respond.

LOCAL BULLETIN.

LOS ANGELES SIGNAL OFFICE, Feb 20.—11 of a. m. to-day the thermometer registered 76; at 1287 p.m. 74, and at 7.07 p. m. 60. Mean for corresponding periods, 80.86, 68.3. Maximum temperature, 78.0; minimum, 46.3. Weather at 7:07 p. m., clear.

The Sunday World has learned from long experience and says: "A newspaper and a newspaper editor that people don't talk about and sometimes abuse are rather poor concerns. The best and business that an editor sometimes feels it a duty to denounce, at the risk of making enemies of another class, are the very first to show ingratitude. The editor who expects to receive much charity or gratitude will soon find out his mistake; but he should be elated and say that he is conscientiously thinks right, without regard to the frowns of grumblers."

Col. Sprague's Lecture.

Col. Homer B. Sprague, formerly of Cornell University, now President of Ellis Seminary, lectured before a cultured audience in Y. M. C. A. Hall last night, the subject of the discourse was "Ellice." Col. Sprague speaks in an easy, flowing manner, and without a memorized word. Last evening he held the audience spell-bound from 8 o'clock until nearly 10. He reviewed the whole life of Milton from his boyhood to his old age, and the incidents of climax of his life. The speaker paid much attention to Milton's career as a teacher; his educational and political writings in early manhood; to the principles of human liberty enunciated by him, which have become the very cornerstone of modern freedom; to his political life, his reverence of fortune and the grandest accomplishment of his life, "Paradise Lost." Col. Sprague's lecture touched lightly on the poet's unhappy domestic relations. The discourse throughout was replete with quotations from Milton and from other classic authors. It was a literary treat such as the people of Los Angeles rarely enjoy. Col. Sprague has the gift of rare eloquence.

George Washington Crawford.

Daniel Crawford, the day-pressman of the Times-Mirror Company, received news from San Bernardino day before yesterday which made him smile all over. The boy only had to mention the brand of cigars they smoked—and a box came over forthwith. It is a son and heir, and welcome life with eight pounds of handsome. He is an able baby, and has will name him after the Father of his country, and later the problem whether the future president can tell a lie or not will be solved.

Basket Picnic.

Mothers, pack your basket lunch and take the children on a Saturday or Sunday to Lamanda Park, on the San Gabriel Valley Railroad.

A fine grove—"the grass grows growing all around"—nature in her most inviting mood. A good time and very cheap, Youth's portion. We offer every week "a happy return of the day." Round trip, 60 cents; children half fare.

"Stories of Wives to Husbands."

Powerful discourses by Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, delivered to-day at Brooklyn, in full in Monday's Express.—[Adv.

THE RATE WAR.

Northern Pacific Joins in the Fray.

ISSUES POOLED AGAINST THE ATCHISON.

The Pacific Mail Company Takes a Hand—A Picnic for Travelers Across the Continent.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 20.—The traffic department of the Northern Pacific has received instructions from New York in regard to transcontinental rates. Northern Pacific will make its Portland rate to correspond with the San Francisco rate daily. Though nothing has been said regarding the ocean line from Portland to San Francisco, but it is believed that Northern Pacific will work for business that way. A cut of thirty-five per cent. has been made in freight from the East to Portland and San Francisco. Passenger rates have also been cut, and first-class limited tickets are now obtained for $65 to $80 to San Francisco.

TO FIGHT THE ATCHISON COMPANY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—It is stated on excellent authority that a combined effort is to be made by all the roads in the late Transcontinental Association against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé. Meetings were held at the office of the Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, at which all officials of the various roads were present. Beyond the fact that the proposed boycott will take place immediately, and it to be carried on, not with the object of pecuniary benefit, but to show the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé people that the other roads regard them as responsible for the recent rupture, nothing further could be learned.

PACIFIC MAIL AND THE RAILWAYS.

It is said that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company intends to make a long and bitter fight against the Eastern roads, and the best-informed railroad men believe that it will hurt overland freight business to a considerable extent. It is also reported that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Company has two steamers ready to carry freight from San Diego to San Francisco. This move will compete in a measure with the steamship line whose interests are identified with the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company.

AN EFFORT FOR PEACE.

Prominent railroad representatives to the Transcontinental pool now in this city say that a meeting of members of the disrupted pool will, in all probability, take place early in April, when an effort will be made to restore rates and promote harmony among the present belligerent roads.

NORTHERN PACIFIC'S CUT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The Northern Pacific Railroad has issued the following table of passenger rates from St. Paul to Portland: First class, unlimited, $75; limited, $65, and emigrant, $35.

There are no new developments in regard to the Pacific Mail Company.

HOW THE POOL WAS DISRUPTED.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—In response to a telegram sent from the general office of the Associated lines in this city, S. R. Calloway, general manager of the Union Pacific Railway, asking for a statement from him respecting the disruption of the Transcontinental Association, Mr. Calloway telegraphs from Boston this evening citing that the pooling arrangement between the California roads expired by limitation months ago, but there was a tacit agreement among the roads to maintain rates pending the time when they could agree upon basis of reorganization. Nevertheless, all the lines appear to have cut rates more or less, and the Southern Pacific with their line to New Orleans cut the lowest. The Southern Pacific was allowed 25 per cent. in the pool, the Atchison 23 per cent., the Union Pacific 42 per cent., and Burlington and the remaining lines 10 per cent. At the New York meeting, Mr. Calloway says, the Atchison demanded 50 per cent. on Southern California business, and 50 per cent. of the remaining Pacific coast business; or, as Mr. Calloway asserts, 30 per cent. of the whole. He also declares that there are three classes of business between Southern California: The Southern Pacific, Atchison and Union-Central Pacific lines, and that objection was made to the Atchison obtaining one-half of this business. This would have increased its percentage 7 per cent., representing $280,000. Calloway states that the other companies were willing to leave the matter subject to arbitration, and even conceds something additional to the Atchison road, but the latter held to its demand, and the meeting adjourned, followed by the present open rate cutting.

PHENOMENAL RATE CUTTING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The difficulties growing out of the disruption of the Transcontinental Association are increasing, and the cutting of rates, it is said, will be something phenomenal. There has been no improvement in the situation though C. D. Simonson, of the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe road said to-day that Tuesday would be a lively day in regard to the rates of freight rates. Whatever reduction that road may make will doubtless be met by the other roads. The Sunset route will put on more cars, and convey passengers from New Orleans at a minimum rate in order to divert traffic from the Atchison road, which conveys its passengers to that point by way of Kansas City.

At the Union Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern companies' offices nothing new was developed. A scalper on Broadway is selling cards to San Francisco via the Baltimore and Ohio, and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Roads for $80, $67 and $44, the trip on the other routes costing $97, $73, $56 and $40, respectively, according to class. The tickets are issued to Kansas City, at which place the passenger is given an order for the remainder of the trip. A scalper, it is said, has made special arrangements with the Atchison road. The cut in freight has not yet begun, but as soon as the Pacific Mail steamers make a freight cut, and that will certainly be in less than a month, then the war will be prosecuted with earnestness.

A reporter called at one of the Pacific railroad offices and asked if a return ticket from San Francisco would be issued at the reduced rates. The agent said he could not give a return ticket, but would guarantee in writing that the reporter could return to New York at the same rate. At another office a still better offer was made, showing that the rival companies were anxious to secure business at any rate.

Aberdeen County Received.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Earl of Aberdeen, the new Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, made his state entry into Dublin to-day. There was no display of flags by citizens as usual on such occasions, and his lordship was but little cheered by the crowds assembled along the route by which he proceeded to the castle.

A body of students following the viceregal procession was attacked by a crowd at one point on the route, and a considerable encounter ensued, during which many of the students were wounded.

Four Men Drowned.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—This morning while four men and a boy were attempting to cross the Susquehanna river their boat was capsized, and the four men were drowned. The boy succeeded in clinging to the boat and was rescued. The names of the unfortunates were as follows: John and Frank Most, aged eighteen and twenty respectively; Lewis Decroch and Charles Mathies. The lad who was saved was a son of Mathies.

ANTI-COOLIE.

Dynamite Used in Alameda—Agitation Meetings.

OAKLAND, Feb. 20.—A lighted vulcanite powder cartridge was thrown into a Chinese wash house, at Park street station, Alameda, last night. A Chinaman extinguished the fuse before the cartridge had time to explode. There are no indications whatever of the perpetrator.

AN ANTI-COOLIE PLEDGE AT PLACERVILLE.

PLACERVILLE, Feb. 20.—The officers of the Anti-Chinese Association this afternoon made a canvass of the town with the following agreement, which has received over two hundred signatures:

We the undersigned, business men and others residing in Placerville and vicinity, do hereby agree to discharge, any and all Chinese that may be in our employ on the 1st next, and to thereafter refuse to employ them, and that we will withdraw all patronage from anyone who employs or patronizes Chinese after that date.

MEETING AT YREKA.

YREKA, Cal., Feb. 20.—An anti-Chinese meeting at the courthouse was largely attended, and resolutions were adopted declaring that the present restriction law being useless in preventing the immigration of Chinese, a modification of the law is desired to exclude all Chinese, except those coming in a diplomatic capacity. The resolutions oppose all mob violence and violations of laws. They also recommend the Supervisors to select worthy men as delegates to the Sacramento Convention.

AGITATION NOTES.

DUTCH FLAT, Cal., Feb. 20.—The anti-Chinese league of this place held a meeting last night, and after discussing the question at length delegates were elected to attend the State convention at Sacramento.

UKIAH, Feb. 20.—An anti-Chinese meeting was held here to-day. H. A. Peabody was selected as delegate to the State meeting at Sacramento.

WRECKED.

The John Rosenfeld Lost Near Port Townsend.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., Feb. 20.—The ship John Rosenfeld went ashore on a reef at East Point, near Jumbo Island, Georgia Straits, on Friday morning. The vessel was in tow of the tug Tacoma, coal laden from Nanaimo for San Francisco. When the reef was struck the vessel broke in two, a total wreck, and is now abandoned. The Tacoma took on board a part of the crew and their personal property, some of the sails, some of the cabin furniture and instruments, and started for Port Townsend, arriving at noon today. Twelve men staid by the wreck to break her up. The Rosenfeld has 1800 tons burden. Her owner is John Rosenfeld, of San Francisco. The vessel cost $220,000.

A Schooner Burned.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Feb. 20.—The schooner Clytie arrived to-day, bearing Capt. Sylva and the crew of fourteen men of the schooner Annie, which was burned on George's banks on Thursday last. The crew fought the fire three hours and then took to the dories.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Bay District Races—Released from Quarantine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—At the Bay District track this afternoon, the race between Ben, Mikado and Kate Carollton was won by Mikado in three straight heats. Time, 2:53, 2:53, 2:57. This was followed by a race between Rachael, Hayward Chief, Willie S., Vulcan and Empress. Five heats were run, each being a dead heat, and Empress won. The final heat was postponed until Monday next.

RELEASED FROM QUARANTINE.

The passengers and crew of the Belgic were to-day released from quarantine, where they have been for fifteen days on account of a case of smallpox being discovered on board the Belgic on her arrival here.

Accidentally Killed by His Son.

EUREKA, Nev., Feb. 20.—James Berryman, a rancher four miles from town, called at Thomas Fedler's house on Ruby Hill, last night, and while there pulled a small revolver from his pocket which he had just purchased. Mr. Fedler took the revolver in his hands and then handed it to his son Harry, a boy of sixteen years. The boy, believing that it was not loaded, pulled back the hammer, which slipped from his hand, and the gun exploded. Fedler received the bullet in the lower part of the abdomen, and died in half an hour.

Vanderbilt's Reading Stock Sold.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The Vanderbilt estate has sold to President F. B. Gowen, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad the stock of the company, held by the late William H. Vanderbilt. From 50,000 to 120,000 shares, valued at $50 per share or $2,500,000 at $12.50 per share. The sale was consummated yesterday at the Grand Central depot. The transaction is important, in view of the proposed organization of the Reading road by a syndicate headed by Drexel Morgan & Co.

Death of a Pioneer.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Feb. 20.—Col. John Danforth died here this morning, aged 69 years. He was Lieutenant-Colonel of the Thirty-seventh New Jersey Volunteers during the war. He was Captain in the Governor's Foot Guards of Connecticut. In 1849 he went to California. During Grant's term he was appointed Assistant Inspector of Customs at the New York Customhouse, in which position he continued to the time of his death.

The Running Championship.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Articles of agreement were signed to-day for a series of two or three running races between Lawrence E. Myers of this city, and Walter S. George of London. It is to be a match for a trophy emblematic of the middle distance championship of the world and $2000 in stakes, besides gate money. The first race is fixed for May 1st.

Flooded by a High Tide.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Feb. 20.—This city was visited to day by a tidal wave which submerged all the wharves to a depth of from one to four feet. The rising waters covered the floors of many stores and dwelling houses on the lower level of the city, and did immense damage. A gale is blowing from the southwest and to-night's tide will be still higher.

The Prewett Case.

HOLLISTER, Feb. 20.—From the special venire of fifty jurors returned to-day, John Mallory and W. Boggs were accepted in the Prewett case. The Court adjourned till Wednesday, when testimony will be offered.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

A Burlington, Vt., despatch says: The snow is six inches deep. A heavy snow storm is prevailing in all parts of Vermont.

Sheriff S. Messervey, ex-Mayor of Salem, Mass, died yesterday, aged 70. He was a member of the first party of whites to cross the plains, and was at one time in the Mexican army and confined in a Mexican prison. In 1853 he was Secretary of New Mexico.

The annual banquet of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation took place at the Hotel Brunswick last night. Letters of regret were read from Secretaries Bayard, Manning, Endicott and Postmaster-General Vilas and others.

A Henrietta, Tex., dispatch says: A Stengl's, charged with incest and with murdering his babe, was strung up by a mob by the neck. After he had hanged five minutes, the Sheriff cut him down. He is now in a critical condition.

WASHINGTON.

Bland's Minority Report on Silver.

A POWERFUL PLEA FOR HONEST MONEY.

Another Call for Ten Millions of Three Per Cents—Notes From the Capital.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Chairman Bland, of the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, has presented a minority report on the bill to provide for the free coinage of silver, which was reported adversely from his Committee, and which is now on the House calendar. The report is signed by Bland, Lanham and Bynum, and starts off with the declaration that the volume of metallic money is not subject to the control of legislation, but is regulated by nature. Recognizing the principle that nature should supply the volume of money, the only duty that devolves upon legislature is to establish by law the rates of value for the coinage of the two metals, and to provide for the unlimited or free coinage of both at the rates established.

In 1873, the report says, under the pretext of amending the mint act, silver was demonetized and this was in conflict with the constitution. Under the constitution Congress has power to prohibit or limit the coinage of silver as it has that of gold. As compared with gold, silver is now depreciated. It is, claimed that it will not be in good faith to our public creditors to pay them in silver dollars, and this is urged without going into the facts that the bullion contained in the silver dollar will purchase as many of the necessaries of life at this time and more than it would have done when it was dropped from coinage, and more than in 1885 or 1865 or in 1867. All interest-bearing coin obligations of the Government now outstanding were issued by virtue of the Act of 1870, except the 3 per cent. bonds issued under the Act of 1881, or since silver coinage was resumed, and are payable either in gold or silver. Therefore, to restore the silver dollar and compel its payment in redemption of these obligations would be a violation of the contract or of good faith on the part of the Government towards its creditors.

HOW MANTON MARBLE INVESTIGATED.

The report quotes from the work entitled "Great Metallic Powers," in which the writer says, referring to the free coinage of silver, "Very vexatious some would be those who would recommend the United States of America to undertake, single-handed, what France will undertake triple-handed." A commentator upon it by remarking that this pamphlet was evidently inspired by Manton Marble, who was sent by the government to investigate the subject in European countries in the interest of the gold mono-metallists, as the pamphlet seems to have reached every member of Congress with the compliments of Mr. Marble. The report then proceeds to discuss the question whether it would be safe for this country to coin silver free in the event of no change being made in the monetary policy of Europe, and expresses the belief that European countries cannot further demonetize silver without great disaster to themselves, while the tendency is towards the restoration of that metal. Another question which must be considered in connection with the coinage of silver was, with what is the maximum created by the retirement of the national-bank notes to be supplied. Now that the payment of the public debt was rapidly going on and would soon wipe out the foundation of the national bank circulation? The government must either issue legal tender notes to supply it or else provide for the unlimited or free coinage of both at the rates established.

The report goes on to discuss the possibility of a silver supply being disproportionate to that of gold. The world would be dumped down upon us and our $600,000,000 of gold displaced and dumped down in European countries, and the result would be a panic—a panic would be a great relief to both hemispheres. The result would be an increase in the monetary supply in European countries and a decrease in the volume of machines of industry in motion, giving the starving laborers of those countries employment, and enabling them to purchase our commodities. The silver placed in circulation here would place us on a sound metallic basis, revive industries and put to work a million laboring men now out of employment, and give them bread. Our revenue would swell, although taxes would be lighter per capita on the great masses of the people, because a greater number of them would be able to pay taxes. In this way, our national debt would soon be a thing of the past. It may be said that those owning fixed incomes from investments in bonds, State securities, mortgages, and others who have incomes from those liens would not receive the same amount of labor for a dollar that they now receive, forgetting that they lose in that regard they could gain by sharing in the general prosperity of the people. Money will be eagerly absorbed by our industrial classes. The silver certificates and silver certificates now circulating side by side, will continue to do so. The national debt ought to go, and with it the necessary bank notes. Silver and silver certificates will take the place of national bonds and bank notes. We will thus substitute good money for bad and rid ourself of an interest-bearing debt, over which all this controversy issues.

A debt, the manipulation of which has cost us a half billion of dollars, is at the bottom of all our financial tricks and monetary legerdemain, a constant source of corrupt legislation and downright swindling. With this debt and the banks on top of it out of the way, the money of the constitution will return to bless us. If the mints of this country were open to silver as they are to gold, silver would not be, as now, subject to the adverse whims of Treasury officials who heretofore have tried hard to keep it out of circulation.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion the report says: "The most important function of money in modern trade and commerce is a legal tender power. If gold only is a legal tender then debtors must depend upon this one metal to pay debts. All the silver and other products of christendom, except gold, would not pay a dollar of the debt unless they could be exchanged for gold. Should the world come to a gold unit as the sole legal tender, the metal might become so valuable as compared with other commodities and so scarce in proportion to the enormous demand made upon it, that the money barons of this and other countries controlling a few hundred millions of gold might control the destinies of nations, and absolutely dominate the welfare of mankind. Believing that the unlimited coinage of silver is a logical solution of the silver question, and since gold and silver seem to have been the constitutional money intended for the use of the States in adjusting their legal-tender laws, and for other reasons herein stated, and yet others that might be urged for restoring silver to where it was before it was demonetized by the act of 1873, we recommend the passage of House Bill No. 5960, which aims at that result."

A Brewery Burned.

FRESNO, Feb. 20.—The Fresno Brewery was destroyed, with its contents, at 4 o'clock this morning, by fire. Loss about $5,000; insurance $2,500. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin, as there had been no fire about the premises for some days.

NATIONAL NOTES.

Another Call for Bonds—Viticultural Interests.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a call for $10,000,000 three per cent. bonds, the principal and accrued interest on which will be paid April 1st next. The following is a description of the bonds: Three per cent. bonds issued under act of Congress, approved July 12, 1882, and numbered as follows—$50 bonds, No. 285 to No. 287 inclusive, and No. 1368 to No. 1875, both inclusive; $100, No. 2108 to No. 2148, inclusive, and No. 9864 to No. 9879, both inclusive; $500, No. 1042 to No. 1062, inclusive, and No. 4301 to No. 4360, both inclusive; $1000, No. 9031 to No. 9168, inclusive, and No. 23,588 to No. 23,653, both inclusive; $10,000, No. 15,459 to No. 16,448, inclusive. Total, $10,000,000. All of the bonds of this loan will be called by the original numbers only.

VITICULTURAL INTERESTS.

Mr. Wetmore, representative of the California Viticultural Commission, returned from New York much pleased with his visit. He thinks that the interest taken by the Agricultural Convention will help the viticultural cause. The convention called by the American Agricultural and National Dairymen's Association, adopted the following:

WHEREAS, We have heard with pleasure the address of Charles A. Wetmore, of California, in regard to the adulteration of wines we respectfully offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the adulteration of wines, and the putting on the market of poisonous compounds called wines is one of the most gigantic frauds and abuses practiced on the American public. This peril to health and its demoralizing effects upon the growers of grapes and honest wine producers of this country, we feel called upon to denounce, and hold that a stringent law should be enacted to arrest this gross evil and punish all offenders.

TO BE PROMOTED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—A Washington special to the Commercial Advertiser says: It is said to be practically settled that Howard and Terry will get the vacant Major-Generalships.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

Jack's Pay Not Reduced—The Eastern Strikers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—A strike of seamen on board the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Santa Rosa, which sailed to-day for southern coast points, was quelled in its incipiency. The wages of the seaman were ordered reduced from $45 to $40, when they refused to do duty. On their determination being made known, the old rate was restored, and the trouble ended.

A STRIKE ENDED.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—A telegram from Scottvale, Pa., says: The strike has ended in favor of the strikers, the operators at a conference Monday having granted their demands. Work will be resumed Monday.

WAGES ADVANCED.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—A Connellsville dispatch says: Notices have been posted up at all the works to resume Monday at an advance of ten per cent. This is what the strike was for. The Connellsville Coke Region Operators' Association will meet at 2 p. m., by Rev. S. G. Blanchard, of Grace Church, exchanging putpits with pastor. Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m. All cordially invited.

MAIN STREET M. E. CHURCH, corner of Main and Laurel streets. Rev. Spencer, pastor. Preaching to-day at 11 a. m. by the pastor, subject: "A New Commandment." Class meeting at 2:30 p. m., by Rev. S. G. Blanchard, of Grace Church, exchanging putpits with pastor. Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m. All cordially invited.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, Fort street, between Fifth and Sixth. Preaching at 11 a. m. by Rev. Oliver C. Miller, Mission of English Lutheran Church, at 7 p. m. by Rev. Wm. Taylor, D. D. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m. Seats free, and the poor and strangers cordially invited.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, corner of Fort and Sixth sts.—Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday-school at 9:45 a. m. Young people's prayer meeting at 6:45 p. m. Orchestral music at both services. All cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH, TEMPLE STREET, near Fort.—F. M. Kirkham, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme: "Conscience and the Word of God." Seats free, and all cordially invited.

GOOD TEMPLARS' HALL—THE SOCIETY of Friends will hold meeting to-day at 7 p. m. Miss Susie M. Johnson, lecturer.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, Fort street, between Fifth and Sixth.—Preaching at 11 a. m. by Rev. Oliver C. Miller, Mission of English Lutheran Church, at 7 p. m. by Rev. Wm. Taylor, D. D. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m. Seats free, and the poor and strangers cordially invited.

MAIN STREET M. E. CHURCH, corner of Main and Laurel streets. Rev. Spencer, pastor. Preaching to-day at 11 a. m. by the pastor, subject: "A New Commandment." Class meeting at 2:30 p. m., by Rev. S. G. Blanchard, of Grace Church, exchanging putpits with pastor. Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m. All cordially invited.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, corner of Fort and Sixth sts.—Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday-school at 9:45 a. m. Young people's prayer meeting at 6:45 p. m. Orchestral music at both services. All cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH, TEMPLE STREET, near Fort.—F. M. Kirkham, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme: "Conscience and the Word of God." Seats free, and all cordially invited.

GOOD TEMPLARS' HALL—THE SOCIETY of Friends will hold meeting to-day at 7 p. m. Miss Susie M. Johnson, lecturer.

NOTES.

Another Call for Bonds—Viticultural Interests.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a call for $10,000,000 three per cent. bonds, the principal and accrued interest on which will be paid April 1st next. The following is a description of the bonds: Three per cent. bonds issued under act of Congress, approved July 12, 1882, and numbered as follows—$50 bonds, No. 285 to No. 287 inclusive, and No. 1368 to No. 1875, both inclusive; $100, No. 2108 to No. 2148, inclusive, and No. 9864 to No. 9879, both inclusive; $500, No. 1042 to No. 1062, inclusive, and No. 4301 to No. 4360, both inclusive; $1000, No. 9031 to No. 9168, inclusive, and No. 23,588 to No. 23,653, both inclusive; $10,000, No. 15,459 to No. 16,448, inclusive. Total, $10,000,000. All of the bonds of this loan will be called by the original numbers only.

VITICULTURAL INTERESTS.

Mr. Wetmore, representative of the California Viticultural Commission, returned from New York much pleased with his visit. He thinks that the interest taken by the Agricultural Convention will help the viticultural cause. The convention called by the American Agricultural and National Dairymen's Association, adopted the following:

WHEREAS, We have heard with pleasure the address of Charles A. Wetmore, of California, in regard to the adulteration of wines we respectfully offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the adulteration of wines, and the putting on the market of poisonous compounds called wines is one of the most gigantic frauds and abuses practiced on the American public. This peril to health and its demoralizing effects upon the growers of grapes and honest wine producers of this country, we feel called upon to denounce, and hold that a stringent law should be enacted to arrest this gross evil and punish all offenders.

TO BE PROMOTED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—A Washington special to the Commercial Advertiser says: It is said to be practically settled that Howard and Terry will get the vacant Major-Generalships.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

Jack's Pay Not Reduced—The Eastern Strikers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—A strike of seamen on board the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Santa Rosa, which sailed to-day for southern coast points, was quelled in its incipiency. The wages of the seaman were ordered reduced from $45 to $40, when they refused to do duty. On their determination being made known, the old rate was restored, and the trouble ended.

A STRIKE ENDED.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—A telegram from Scottvale, Pa., says: The strike has ended in favor of the strikers, the operators at a conference Monday having granted their demands. Work will be resumed Monday.

WAGES ADVANCED.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—A Connellsville dispatch says: Notices have been posted up at all the works to resume Monday at an advance of ten per cent. This is what the strike was for. The Connellsville Coke Region Operators' Association will meet at 2 p. m., by Rev. S.

A SAD STORY.

WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE TIMES BY PROF. DE LERY.

CHAPTER III.

(Copyrighted.)

"Ah, me!
"Almighty Justice! in what store thou heap'st
"New pains, new troubles."
DANTE. Inferno, Canto VII.

It is a dear delight for the soul to have trust in the faith of another; it makes a pillow of softness for the cheek which is burning with tears and the touch of pain; it pours a balm in the very source of sorrow; it is a hope undeferred, a flowery seclusion into which the mind, when weary of sadness, may retreat for a caress of constant love; a refreshing and delightful oasis, where a warmth in the clasp of friendship is forever lingering on the hand; a dew of mercy falling on our bruised and troubled hearts. But, alas! there is no solace to the bitterness of broken faith.

So bearing the detrimental reports so skillfully spread by Wilbor, Lena Mansfield became a prey to the most poignant despair. What is possible that the man she loved was a felon? Paul Clifford an ex-convict! At the very thought she shuddered, the palpitation of her heart became fainter and fainter, and, unable to resist the overwhelming weight of her sorrow, she gave vent to bitter and silent tears.

After giving strict orders to admit no one, she retired to her apartment and wrote a brief letter to Clifford, countermanding the orders she had given him a few days before. On receiving the laconic and almost impolite message, Paul was overcome with a painful surprise, but strong in the thought that he had nothing to reproach himself, he attributed the letter to some passing fancy of the young heiress; but when a few days later, while walking on Main street, he bowed to several of his acquaintances, he was greatly astonished, and not less mortified, to see those who were formerly so friendly to him, turn their looks and pass him without recognizing his act of courtesy by the slightest sign. Days went by and his studio, which was the rendezvous of the elite of the city, was now always empty—not a sale, not an order, and everywhere shame and misery seemed to surround him in their odious embrace. Poverty also was approaching with gigantic steps, and, to cap the climax, a letter arrived from London announcing the sudden illness of his mother. Too proud to beg an explanation from those who scorned him, and conscious of having always led an exemplary life, he bent his head with resignation under the reiterated blows of fate, his faith in the immutable and ineffable kindness of the Almighty never weakening for a single moment. It was then in the middle of these moral and physical tortures that the noble, Christian teachings of his beloved mother, and the religious fervor he had always possessed, sustained and comforted him. He did not murmur against Providence, nor did he accuse the Omnipotent of having abandoned him, for he entertained the firm belief that whatever misfortunes befall us in this perishable world is a trial sent us by a Power whose decrees are impenetrable and to whose laws we must abide with faith and resignation. Three months after the Mansfield reception, Paul Clifford was a homeless, friendless wanderer; his former melody had returned more fierce, more alarming than ever, spurred on by wants and exposures of all sorts. The winter had come, a gentle, mild winter, as they usually are in Southern California, sweet and balmy during the interval of rainy days. Then the sun falls in a heavenly flood upon the blooming hills and picturesque roofs of the city of Los Angeles, while the margin of the town is defined by gilt with which tering orange trees shimmering with gold in their deeper shadows, and a variety of wild flowers that charm the eye and transport our fancy into fairyland, and of the dead the title a magnificent panorama set into a frame of the purest porphyry and decorated with resplendent tissues that seem woven from threads of molten silver by the hands of the fairies. To the southeast, tranquil as the vault it encloses, or cradle, less to the eyes, sublime in its immensity lay the broad expanse of San Pedro bay, whose perfumed breeze is ever caressing the splendid crown of the Queen of the Angels, and in the near view is clothed in inexpressible loveliness, and in the distance all bespeaks the grandeur of nature at peace. But unfortunately for Paul, the winter which followed his arrival in Los Angeles had been unusually severe, the rain had fallen in torrents, and the surrounding country had suffered in consequence. One stormy night Clifford, quite ill, and tortured by spells with fever and starving, fell in front of a small adobe house not far from the Catholic cemetery. An old Mexican woman, on hearing the agonizing voice of a human being, and being herself human) went out mindless of the rain, and taking the situation at a glance, ran to a neighbor for assistance. A couple of Mexicans were soon on the spot with a lantern, and a preliminary examination was made.

"Que cara simpatica!" cried the kind matron; "come, Manuel, come Pere, take the pobre joven into my house, and with the aid of Maria Santisima he shall be taken care of."

When Paul recovered consciousness he found himself in a small, carpetless room, scantily furnished, but neat and homelike. By his side sat the mistress of the house, a dark woman, with large, kind eyes and hair sprinkled with grey. A cough, painful to hear, brought the blood to the young man's lips, the nurse quickly filled a small glass with the contents of an earthern pitcher which stood on the table, and, holding the artist's head, medicine drink the soothing beverage. The patient's head was then carefully deposited on the pillow, and a look of gratitude beamed from his honest eyes.

"Pray, kind lady, who are you?" he asked in a feeble voice.

"My name is Dolores, señor, Dolores Peralta," answered the old lady, kindly, "you were brought here three nights ago, and you are sick, very sick, señor, you must not speak too much."

Clifford called to his aid all his intellectual faculties, and at last realized his distressing condition, he glanced around the room for a few moments, then his eyes rested upon a chair, on the back of which hung his coat. He motioned to the nurse to bring him the garment, and drawing from its pocket a letter, he handed it to Dolores. "I feel that my last hour is approaching, señora," he said slowly, "and I thank my creator for having given me strength enough to fulfil a last duty. This letter is for my mother, I beg of you, kind lady, to send it to her as soon as I am dead, and if she be alive, she will reward you nobly for your charitable action toward her son."

"Nay, good señor," replied Dolores in all simplicity, "I have not done a good action with any mercenary motive, thou can'st rest assured, pobre niño, that, dead or alive, thou will be taken care of as if thou wert one of my own children."

After returning the garment to its place, she approached the patient, and with the tenderness of a mother she raised the coverlet up to his emaciated throat, for the evening was unusually chilly and the room had no fire-place. A small lamp burned on the table and cast its feeble and yellow light upon the pale face of the young artist. Dolores resumed her seat, the tears running down her brawny cheeks, her heart overflowing with pity at the melancholy sight. She was about to commence the first verse of the De profundis, when she was startled by a shadow suddenly cast on the wall in front of her, and a voice trembling with repressed emotion murmured inquiringly, "Paul -Mr. Clifford—does he live here?" Dolores turned quickly and beheld a tall, handsome lady, deeply veiled, standing on the threshold of the door. On hearing this well-known voice, Paul felt new life given him, a sudden reaction, not selfish experienced by dying men, took place; a slight tint covered his forehead, and his eyes fixed themselves imploringly upon the person who had just spoken.

"Lena, Miss Mansfield!" he murmured.

"Yes," said the generous girl, putting aside her veil, "Lena Mansfield, who cannot believe you guilty; there must be some mystery, perhaps treachery, for my heart tells me, Paul, that you are innocent of the charges brought against you."

Paul became livid. Although he did not quite understand the meaning of Lena's words, his last hours were, however, disturbed by a horrible apprehension, he seemed to contend with an invisible foe that oppressed and harassed him, his respiration became shorter and the crimson liquid rose again to his lips. Dolores gently laid her hand upon Lena's shoulder. "In the name of the Lord," she said in a low but impressive voice, "do not disturb the last moments of a dying man."

Although Lena was prepared to meet Clifford in a critical position—for she had read in the newspaper a short article referring to the accident which had happened to Paul—she, however, did not expect to find the artist in such a depth of misery, the wings of Death already shadowing his brow. With a brusque movement, she bent nearer, and for the first time noticed the ravages made by sickness and sufferings upon the comely features of the man she so devotedly loved. Like most of California's fair daughters, she was possessed of a noble, generous nature, her heart was full of love and charity and her soul clung still more firmly to his, in spite or perhaps on account of the profound misery and pitiful condition he was in.

"Oh! Paul! Paul!" she exclaimed, falling on her knees by the narrow bedstead, "pardon me for having doubted you."

"What can I have to forgive you Lena?" said the moribund in a voice that was growing weaker and weaker. "Is not your presence at such a moment a blessing bestowed upon me by He who never forsakes his faithful creatures. I thank Him from the bottom of my heart for having sent you to me as a guardian angel in this supreme instant. Should you ever meet my mother, tell her, Lena, that—I die—with her—name on my—lips."

A profound silence reigned in the room, Dolores prostrated before a picture of the Madonna, prayed fervently, while Lena still kneeling besides Paul, her beautiful head buried in her hands, her throat heaving under the influence of suppressed sobs, appeared like the statue of Despair. Then the hoarse voice of the town clock sounded midnight, at the last stroke, and as if obeying the imperious command of an invisible and mighty genius, the electric lights without ceased to give forth their dazzling rays. At this very moment and by a singular coincidence, a sigh scarcely audible escaped from the lips of the moribund. Arising with an abrupt, nervous movement, Lena bent her anxious and tearful eyes upon the livid features of her lover, but her horrified glance only met the clay with which the body is moulded, for the soul of Paul Clifford had just departed from its ephemeral and earthly abode.

* * * *

The visitor to the Catholic cemetery, as he passes through the beautiful grounds of that treasure house of the departed, will observe among the numerous tombs with which it is sprinkled, a humble grave shadowed by two large pepper trees, forming an arcade above, while the two large trunks seem the silent guardians of the dead below. The grave, however, is now empty and abandoned, but at the time of which I speak a variety of rare and beautiful flowers with more than ordinary care. On the right was a large geranium, partly covering the little enclosure, or cradle, less to the eyes, sublime in its immensity lay the broad expanse of San Pedro bay, whose perfumed breeze is ever caressing the splendid crown of the Queen of the Angels, and in the near view is clothed in inexpressible loveliness, and in the distance all bespeaks the grandeur of nature at peace. But unfortunately for Paul, the winter which followed his arrival in Los Angeles had been unusually severe, the rain had fallen in torrents, and the surrounding country had suffered in consequence. One stormy night Clifford, quite ill, and tortured by spells with fever and starving, fell in front of a small adobe house not far from the Catholic cemetery. An old Mexican woman, on hearing the agonizing voice of a human being, and being herself human) went out mindless of the rain, and taking the situation at a glance, ran to a neighbor for assistance. A couple of Mexicans were soon on the spot with a lantern, and a preliminary examination was made.

"Que cara simpatica!" cried the kind matron; "come, Manuel, come Pere, take the pobre joven into my house, and with the aid of Maria Santisima he shall be taken care of."

When Paul recovered consciousness he found himself in a small, carpetless room, scantily furnished, but neat and homelike. By his side sat the mistress of the house, a dark woman, with large, kind eyes and hair sprinkled with grey. A cough, painful to hear, brought the blood to the young man's lips, the nurse quickly filled a small glass with the contents of an earthern pitcher which stood on the table, and, holding the artist's head, medicine drink the soothing beverage. The patient's head was then carefully deposited on the pillow, and a look of gratitude beamed from his honest eyes.

"Pray, kind lady, who are you?" he asked in a feeble voice.

"My name is Dolores, señor, Dolores Peralta," answered the old lady, kindly, "you were brought here three nights ago, and you are sick, very sick, señor, you must not speak too much."

Clifford called to his aid all his intellectual faculties, and at last realized his distressing condition, he glanced around the room for a few moments, then his eyes rested upon a chair, on the back of which hung his coat. He motioned to the nurse to bring him the garment, and drawing from its pocket a letter, he handed it to Dolores. "I feel that my last hour is approaching, señora," he said slowly, "and I thank my creator for having given me strength enough to fulfil a last duty. This letter is for my mother, I beg of you, kind lady, to send it to her as soon as I am dead, and if she be alive, she will reward you nobly for your charitable action toward her son."

"Nay, good señor," replied Dolores in all simplicity, "I have not done a good action with any mercenary motive, thou can'st rest assured, pobre niño, that, dead or alive, thou will be taken care of as if thou wert one of my own children."

After returning the garment to its place, she approached the patient, and with the tenderness of a mother she raised the coverlet up to his emaciated throat, for the evening was unusually chilly and the room had no fire-place. A small lamp burned on the table and cast its feeble and yellow light upon the pale face of the young artist.

OUR PORTRAIT GALLERY.

HORATIO SEYMOUR.

Horatio Seymour has passed away. Although he had been ailing for some time, a fatal result of his illness was not anticipated by those who best knew of his condition and physical qualities. He had had similar severe attacks previous to this one, through which his good physique carried him safely. On Sunday, February 6th, however, he became much worse, and suffered from indigestion and nausea. On Tuesday his symptoms were so favorable that he went out for a ride. He said that although he did not feel particularly sick, he had a feeling of exhaustion such as he had never before felt. Through Wednesday and Thursday he grew steadily worse, although his mind, as in the attacks of 1876 and 1882, was perfectly clear. On Friday he partook of some food and was able to move about in bed, inspiring his friends with hope, but the improvement was only temporary. At 4 p. m. he grew worse, his pulse beating feverishly; at a few minutes before 10 it became evident that he was passing away, and at 10 o'clock, without a struggle or tremor, he died, surrounded by his family, relatives and friends. He died at the house of his sister, Mrs. Roscoe Conkling, in Utica, N. Y.

Horatio Seymour, L. L. D., was born in Onondaga county, New York, May 31st, 1810. He was educated at Geneva College and studied law, and although he was called to the bar soon, he relinquished practice, devoting his time to the care of the large estate left by his father and father-in-law. In 1841 he was elected to the State Legislature, and was re-elected three times, being speaker in 1845. In 1842 he had been made Mayor of Utica, and in 1853 was elected Governor of New York, but was defeated for re-election in 1854. In 1856 he was again elected Governor and opposed the war policy of the National Government, but when the invasion of Pennsylvania took place, in 1863, he promptly forwarded more than the quota of militia required from New York. At the expiration of his term of service he retired into private life, and was not again a candidate for public honors until July, 1868, when he was, against his own wish, nominated by the National Democratic Convention for President of the United States, but was defeated by Grant. In 1874 he declined to be a candidate for United States Senator, although his election was certain, from the time he has positively declined all nominations for public office. If he would have accepted the nomination he would probably have been the Democratic candidate for President in 1876 or 1880. His only publications are some State papers, with some addresses on agriculture.

A Child with Two Brains.

A baby about a month old was taken by its mother to a dispensary at Bellevue hospital, New York, for treatment last week. When the child was born it had a large soft growth upon the forehead which slowly increased in size and firmness. Nothing could be done to reduce the protuberance, which was supposed to be a tumor, except to perform an operation on the child's head and take it out. Before this could be done the little thing died. The consent of the mother being obtained, Dr. Janeway held an autopsy at the morgue, and found that the cause of the swelling was a second brain, which was growing on the outside of the skull, independent of the brain inside, save through a connecting substance that passed through a slight fissure in the bone. Thaumatical specimen, which is a rare one, was put into alcohol to preserve it.

Where the Layman Comes In.

Boston Record.]

Rev. Dr. S., who is a prominent divine in a city not far from New York, had been spending a few days with his brother—an island on the Maine coast, and, intending to depart on a certain morning, he started for the boat, in company with a friend. A porter followed with the doctor's valise. Arriving at the wharf, they found that, to take advantage of the wind or tide, the boat had gone before the advertised time. Not aware of the clerical character of the company, the porter used several shocking oaths in quick succession.

"What do you think of that, doctor?" asked his friend.

"Well," said the doctor, slowly and impressively, "there are times when the services of a layman are indispensable."

What Became of the Boots?

Indianapolis Journal.]

The other day Dr. John Harty's small boy wanted a pair of rubber boots. The doctor tried to reason him out of it, but the youngster persisted in his demand. Finally, the doctor told him a little story—one he had read in the newspaper. The boy was all attention, and the story proceeded: "A little boy in Pittsburg had been given a pair of rubber boots by his father. He waded in the water with them—water ran over the tops of the boots—boy took cold—mother put his feet in hot water—grew worse—doctor came—little boy died—undertaker—funeral." The small boy listened attentively to the end of the story, and the father was congratulating himself on the impression he had made, when, with a long breath, the youngster asked: "What did they do with the boots?"

A Chihuahua Hercules.

Arizona Citizen.]

Out from the depths of obscurity there has come forth a man, now in this city, who is probably destined to become a modern Hercules. His size and appearance give no idea of the iron muscles with which he is gifted, as he is but an ordinary looking person, of medium size and weighs only 160 pounds. His name is Maxime Dantes, a native of Chihuahua, Mexico. He came to Tucson several months ago, since which time he has been engaged in such labor as he could turn his hand to that would yield him a livelihood. He has never had a day's training in his life, and yet, when his wonderful strength became known only last week, he became the center of attraction at the athletic entertainment on Friday night at the Park Theater.

One of the feats he performs is that of breaking in two a five-inch square piece of wood, about three feet long, laid across two chairs, with his naked fist. He will advance rapidly to the suspended wood, with uplifted hand, and bring down his fist like a cannon ball upon it, breaking the wood instantly.

He then placed six heavy men, aggregating about 1200 pounds, on a table, and he raised them up easily from the floor with his shoulders. He says he can lift nearly 1800 pounds in t is way.

Another feat was that of bending a five-eighths rod of iron by a stroke over the extended bare forearm, which seemed to have been very easily accomplished and caused only a small temporary swelling.

As before mentioned, this remarkable man has had no training tending to dev-lop his strength or to give him advantageous points in performing his wonders. He is a modest and quiet person of simple habits, almost unconscious of the great attraction he would make to some large circus or athletic performances, and some enterprising manager will yet recognize in him a valuable addition to his exhibition of wonders.

CALIFORNIA'S CAPABILITIES.

A Good Country from the Sierras to the Sea.

San Luis Obispo Tribune.]

The rejoicings at the north in the exhibits of the citrus fair are like the cacklings of a pullet over her first egg. The success of orange growing in that region is not new to any observant Californian, though the fact may have just been discovered by the general public and now first acknowledged. But a spirit is manifested, in many instances, rather meanly, to make invidious comparisons, to the disparagement of the fruits of Southern California, as if the injury of one section would redound to another's benefit. All Californians should rejoice in the great capabilities of the State. By this capacity and knowledge thereof, California will be better enabled to command and control the market. To California, its lovely clime, its grand domain, the superior quality and abundance of its fruits, the containments of the world will turn their eyes, and her products will have the first call of the markets. Let us all then rejoice at the success of the Northern citrus fair, as well as the Southern Californian triumph at New Orleans. If, at the great exposition at New Orleans, Riverside oranges beat the world, and at the Sacramento fair both Riverside, and Marysville gets a premium over Oroville, and Shasta and Mokelumne Hill and Bidwell's Bar and Sonoma and Auburn and a score of other places all win laurels for the excellence of their fruit, so much the better. We have a grand and glorious country, the best on earth—let us praise it all and make the most of it.

California's advances have all been made by hitch and rush. The pioneers were content to open the country for mining and cattle-raising only The great valleys of the Sacramento and San Joaquin were called deserts, excepting the margins of streams. From one stream or watering place to another was the dread "jornada." Some one bolder or more sensible than the mass planted wheat on the land, and produced an unexpected harvest. Another planted some peach trees, which others ridiculed. Others made wine which was condemned as unfit to drink, unless the bottle from which it was poured bore a French label. Some planted oranges, but blushingly apologized to all who contemptuously glanced at the growing trees that they were only for curiosity and ornament. Only a few years ago the chief occupation we are about becoming convinced of the capabilities of California. Let us now bunch the future. Let us now assert that we can grow anything as well as it can be grown in any locality, and manufacture anything; that we have the best soil and pleasantest climate in the world; that we have the richest and greatest varities of minerals; that our products now exceeds that of any manufacturing country (!) and is most favorably distributed, and that we have the foundation and the means and the prospect of being the richest, leading and most desirable section of God's earth.

The Suey Rancho.

The Lompoc Record publishes a lengthy opinion by James F. Stuart, Esq., of San Francisco, regarding the extent of the Suey Rancho, lying in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties, and the validity of the title. The grant was made April 6, 1837, to Ramons Carrillo de Wilson. No quantity of land was mentioned in the grant, but natural boundaries given. In 1843 a survey was made, and a crude map was drawn. The approval of this by J. Cavillo, said "there resulted about five leagues, a little over," and designated the boundaries: 1—in the Llano de la Larga; 2—in the ridge of the Potrero; 3—the head of the Arroyo of Santa Maria and the point of the table land in the plain of la Larga. The title to the rancho was confirmed to the grantee by the U. S. Commissioners, by the District Court and by the Supreme Court for eleven square leagues and no more, if found within the boundaries. The decision by the Supreme Court was rendered by Chief Justice Roger B. Taney in 1861, is regarded as settling the matter. The Rancho Nipomo was granted the same day, the Rancho Tepesquit on April 7, 1837; the Huasno Rancho, December 8, 1843; Rancho Guadalupe, March 21, 1840; Rancho Punta de la Laguna, December 26, 1844, and Rancho Todos Santos, August 26, 1841.

The Florida Fashion.

"The Man from Montana" in the Oakland Tribune.]

The real estate agents are frantic and naturally amusing in consequence. One man in Southern Florida has put himself on record as saying that he considers his young grove—which, of course, is for sale—worth 25 per cent. more than before the freeze; and land agents in places so far north that oranges won't grow outside of hothouses, have managed to get it printed that, so far from the orange trees being injured, not even figs and grapes have suffered. It might have been added that the jack oaks, the blueberries, and the tender pitch pines also would probably pull through.

Songs Unsung.

All day, all night, and forever,
Through winters and summers of time,
There floweth a rhyme in the river
Flows seaward, eternal, sublime.

A rhyme of my life all unwritten,
Unuttered and ever unsung—
Like music which slumbers unbidden
Too sweet for the lips and the tongue.

There are songs in the shady way places,
The ear-shot from no noises of the town,
Sweet songs that rude art but disgraces,
And fear as the hands o'er the down.

A music of sombre, weird sadness
Like music of harpises far borne;
With ripples upwelling of gladness
Fake songs of the linnets at morn.

There are songs that are born at the noontide
In many a rural retreat,
When the god pours downward the sunshine
In waves warm and welcome and sweet.

There are songs by the sands of old ocean,
By rocks where the waves are at play,
Flinging spume from the yeasty commotion
Far skyward in fine silted spray;

And where rushings of billows commingle
At the full and flow of the tide,
Ye roar on the shells and the shingle,
And wane as the torrents subside.

There are songs at the bow of the vessel
Oast seaward in lightning and storm,
Where billow meets billow to wrestle,
Nothing white, phosphorescent and warm.

Inspires of songs all unwrended—
Inspirer of songs is the sea;
By Deity's arm undergirded,
Unbounded, bound, fettered, and free.

There's a rhythm that runs with the carriage
Swift reeling the streets of the town,
As ev-er as the bells of a marriage
Or airs from fair Arcady blown;

And a murm'rous mellow uprising—
Soft, strength'ning, sweetest of sound;
A music of no art's devising
Where temples of traffic abound;

Where Croesus great wealth is amassing
In a Babel of word upon word,
And multitudes pass, and repassing,
Mid restless foot falls are heard.

In country, in suburb, in city,
The rhyme rhymeth on fair and fleet,
And though simply, yet sweet is the ditty;
Unfinished, yet full and complete.

EDWARD VINCENT.

Songs Unsung.

All day, all night, and forever,
Through winters and summers of time,
There floweth a rhyme in the river
Flows seaward, eternal, sublime.

A rhyme of my life all unwritten,
Unuttered and ever unsung—
Like music which slumbers unbidden
Too sweet for the lips and the tongue.

There are songs in the shady way places,
The ear-shot from no noises of the town,
Sweet songs that rude art but disgraces,
And fear as the hands o'er the down.

A music of sombre, weird sadness
Like music of harpises far borne;
With ripples upwelling of gladness
Fake songs of the linnets at morn.

There are songs that are born at the noontide
In many a rural retreat,
When the god pours downward the sunshine
In waves warm and welcome and sweet.

There are songs by the sands of old ocean,
By rocks where the waves are at play,
Flinging spume from the yeasty commotion
Far skyward in fine silted spray;

And where rushings of billows commingle
At the full and flow of the tide,
Ye roar on the shells and the shingle,
And wane as the torrents subside.

There are songs at the bow of the vessel
Oast seaward in lightning and storm,
Where billow meets billow to wrestle,
Nothing white, phosphorescent and warm.

Inspires of songs all unwrended—
Inspirer of songs is the sea;
By Deity's arm undergirded,
Unbounded, bound, fettered, and free.

There's a rhythm that runs with the carriage
Swift reeling the streets of the town,
As ev-er as the bells of a marriage
Or airs from fair Arcady blown;

And a murm'rous mellow uprising—
Soft, strength'ning, sweetest of sound;
A music of no art's devising
Where temples of traffic abound;

Where Croesus great wealth is amassing
In a Babel of word upon word,
And multitudes pass, and repassing,
Mid restless foot falls are heard.

In country, in suburb, in city,
The rhyme rhymeth on fair and fleet,
And though simply, yet sweet is the ditty;
Unfinished, yet full and complete.

EDWARD VINCENT.

Gen. N. P. Banks.

From the Springfield Republican.]

Gen. Nathaniel Prentiss Banks, the handsome old politician with the peerless white locks and young voice. What a world of memories are recalled as this well-preserved relic of other and great days passes the milestone! Think of what he has been, and seen, and figured in, and the most heroic epoch in the life of the nation rises up for review. The bobbin boy; member and Speaker of the State Legislature; member of Congress and elected Speaker on the one hundred and thirty-third ballot after a struggle extending over two months; Governor of Massachusetts for three terms; Major-General in the army of the Union from 1861 until May, 1864; then four terms more in the national House of Representatives, and now United States Marshal at Boston, in his second term of three years.

Social Solidity.

"The Man from Montana" in the Oakland Tribune.]

The battle of the social editors wages. The Examiner points with pride to its twenty-two solid columns "devoted to a record of social doings," while its hated rival, the Call, was able to dig up only thirteen and three-fourth columns. The battle is fought with a yard measure, and the Examiner boasts that it had twenty-two yards of "solid" matter, while of the petty thirteen and three-fourth yards in the Call, fully a yard and a half was made up of headlines and fashion notes. It is not considered right to trifle with the affections of your readers by feeding them on fashion notes and windy headlines. This, my children, is the battle of giants. Let us gaze on it with awe and prepare our measuring sticks for next week.

Retrospect.

I had a dream, which like some wierd tale
Of ancient times, from out the shadowy vale
Of years long past, came stealing o'er my brain
With magic power to bring them back again.
Around me stood the grand old forest trees,
Their branches tossing in the northern breeze,
And 'mongst them strayed at will a little child,
Where many colored flowers blossomed wild,
Where a dark rolling river hastens by—
The wind grows chill, and dark the troubled sky.
There comes a wail of some one in distress,
And all is one dark wilderness.

At length a pathway opens to my view,
The way is long, the scenes are strange and new
And, at the end, upon broad plains I stand
Where swells roll on in endless reaches grand.
The days fly past, a sound falls on my ear—
The muffled tread of slowly passing years.
An angel's brightness breaks all o'er the scene—
Then darkness comes with phantom forms between:
As oft in dreams the way grows rough and drear,
And, from afar, there comes a sigh too deep
For speech, but like a lover's silent prayer,
Breathed from a heart which has too much to bear.
The playful, guileless child I see no more,
But, for the varied throng which crowd the shore,
A thoughtful, toiling youth with kindly air
Draws from each vial its virtues rare.
The vision's fled—around I see the sky,
Around me rise the mountains bare and high,
Near "plain of life" comes from below
While o'er my grassy couch sweet zephyrs blow.

KANSAS BARD.

High Hill, Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7, 1886.

FASHIONABLE FLOWERS.

Spring Blossoms Now the Favorites —How they Range in Price and Popularity.

From the New York Morning Journal.]

Spring flowers, now in bloom in the hothouses, are the favorites this month, although the most of them are expensive. The late spring blooms, such as clover blossoms, buttercups and dasies, are very scarce, but snowdrops, jonquils, crocuses and tulips of all kinds are plentiful and retail for $2 and $3 a dozen.

The red and yellow mottled tulips, called "poll parrots," have a faint woody fragrance and make handsome center-pieces for dinner-tables or plaques and stars for ball-room decoration. Scarlet tulips, in both the single and double varieties, are unusually large this year and look like lilies when the petals are turned back. A few placed in a blue or yellow jar make an artistic bit of coloring for the drawing room or dinner-tables.

Yellow cabondalas, which resemble chrysanthemums, are among the early spring flowers, and are very popular just now for corsage bouquets. A large cluster costs from $1 to $3.

The Jacqueminot roses now grown by florists are exceedingly beautiful, being much larger and a deeper crimson than those grown in the early winter. The blooms cut for hand bouquets have stems almost a half yard long, from which the thorns are removed and the cluster backed by a broad and crimson ribbon. The leaves are left with the roses.

The new rose, the "American beauty," has become a great favorite. It is very large and a lovely pink in color, the petals being particularly heavy and closely set. A perfect specimen of this kind brings the grower $2, and a hand bouquet costs in the neighborhood of $50.

At a recent reception the doors were ornamented with panels of pink roses and hyacinths, falling in a long, loose garland. The effect was very pretty.

Belts of pink and red roses are worn with ball dresses. Garlands of roses and other flowers bordering the decollete bodice are also in fashion.

At a debutante luncheon given last week the favors were pink and white hyacinths formed into the monogram of the hostess, and held by pink satin ribbons embroidered with the date.

Pale pink crushed roses are made into lamp and globe shades, and used at entertainments. The heat throws off a delicious perfume, and a large apartment very fragrant, but the roses soon wither.

Forget-me-nots are among the most expensive of cut flowers at this season, as a very small cluster costs $1 or $2.

Russian violets have found a new use. Two or three of them are placed in each finger-bowl at dinner parties, and lukewarm rosewater is poured over them before the bowls are passed.

SHIP BELVEDERE.

New Discharging Two Thousand Tons of Wellington Coal at San Pedro, Direct from the Mines—Rented Rates

For wholesale and retail quantities. This superior coal has no equal in this market, and is guaranteed to give better results and greater satisfaction for the money than any other class of fuel used. It can be used in any ordinary grate or stove with wood, without two cords of the best stove wood. Special rates will be given for carload lots and over delivered on the line of the S. P. R. R. For sale at all of the principal retail coal yards in the city and county. Ask your dealer for it.

WALTER B. MAXWELL,
Wholesale and retail dealer, 10 Court street, Telephone 83. Yard: Corner of Alameda and Jackson Streets, Telephone 315.

The Woman's Exchange.

First—Is intended to benefit deserving and industrious women by affording an opportunity to dispose of their work to persons who are willing to purchase useful articles.

Second—The Exchange can furnish choice articles of food cooked to order, and many fancy articles, and everything that represents woman's work—and here is an opportunity for the generous-hearted to do a gracious act and yet get the full worth of their money. The commission for selling is barely enough to pay the small expenses of the Exchange. Call and see the work. 17 S. Main street.

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron, used before meals, creates a healthy appetite.

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron restores lost vitality and gives new life and vigor.

McKeon, Penny & Brodbeck

Have a choice piece of land near heart of the city for sale cheap. It will make about fifty lots. 19 N. Spring street.

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron cures dyspepsia and indigestion.

A Rare Bargain.

We offer one of the choicest corners in the city at an absolute sacrifice; must be sold at once—party must have money. McKeon & Brodbeck, 19 N. Spring street.

Electro-Magnetism, the New Means of Cure

Dr. E. Robbins' Electro-Magnetic Institute, corner First and Spring streets, entrance on First ste. et, is now fitted up in considerable expense, with everything that is necessary to cure chronic and so-called incurable diseases, by the finest electrical appliances in the world. Turk at any time may be he; also electric sulphur baths. Dr. Robbins has had several years' experience in the Institution of San Francisco, and in Salt Lake City, Denver and three years in Los Angeles, and hundreds of leading citizens will testify to the wonderful effects of electricity in curing chronic diseases when all other means had failed, and therefore all persons suffering should try this new remedy before abandoning all hope. After every treatment the patients are treated with the Massage treatment, by operators of their own as well as physicians. Diagnosis disease without explanation from the patient, free of charge. His office hours are 8 till 12, 1 to 5.

Running sixteen hours a day to accommodate the great rush and increasing custo No. 9 Alley street

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron
Is a fabulous discovery. Celery is the greatest nervine known. Beef is nutritive and invigorating. Iron is a tonic for the brain.

Wood Engraving.

Fred L. Cantin, designer and engraver on wood. First-class work at reasonable prices. 20 North Spring street, room 1.

Bartlett Springs Mineral Water.

We have just received an extensive shipment of the famous Bartlett Springs mineral water which is acknowledged by connoisseurs to be the best natural water produced in the United States.

CITY ICE AND SODA COMPANY,
Corner Second and Vine streets.
P. O. Box 1220. Telephone 344.

Heartless Barley

For sale. E. L. Mayberry, San Gabriel, California.

Gentlemen's clothes cleaned or dyed and repaired at short notice at MARTENS'S, co. 9 Alley street;

The Foreign Physicians.

The most eminent German and English physicians are now recommending celery for neuralgia. Try Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron.

All persons wishing to learn to sketch from nature will do well to join Miss M. S. Fish's class just beginning. Call and see her work, Room 104, fourth floor, Nadeau Block.

Open for Business to All Points.

The California Southern Railroad Company has established an office at No. 230 North Main street, for the transaction of freight and passenger business over its line and its connections, the Atlantic and Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads. By this route through Pullman sleepers start direct from Los Angeles and berths may be secured by application at this office.

Round trip tickets between Los Angeles, San Diego, Colton, San Bernardino, Riverside and Redlands as low as to be had at reduced rates.

For further information on freight or passenger business apply to

WILLIAMSON DUNN,
General Agent.
CHAS. T. PARSONS,
Ticket Agent.

Auction.

To sell your real estate at auction call on John M. Batchelor & Co., Room 35, Nadeau Block. $5000 bonds deposited with the County Clerk.

Real Estate.

Ventura County, Cal.,

REAL ESTATE,

—FOR SALE BY—

Barnard, Blackstock & Shepherd

Of San Buenaventura, Cal.

No. 121—50 acres of fine level land on a large water ditch, with water right; fenced, and in one of the best neighborhoods in the county. 4½ miles from San Buenaventura. Price $1800, one third cash.

No. 132—100 acres adjoining the above; well improved—a great bargain. Price $100 per acre, on credit.

No. 133—158 acres in apricots and petit grunes in full bearing, three miles from San Buenaventura; 60 in cultivation; 125 acres of choice land, and on time if desire; a fine chance to secure a home at a great bargain. Price and terms given on application to the undersigned.

No. 131—40 acres, a part of lot No. 16, of Rancho Santa Paula y Saticoy, 10 miles from Santa Paula and 10 miles from San Buenaventura, on the telegraph road; on the Farmers' Canal and Water Ditch; water right with this land for 50 acres; 125 acres west of John Cummings, and lying at the east end of the Todd bridge; 30 acres in cultivation; house of two and 6 horses; corn crib for 400 bushels; 2½ apple trees; 50 apricot, 18 plum, 30 peach, 17 grape, 6 orange, 6 lemon, 4 windmill affords abundance of water. Price $7000. No. 108. This land has all improvements desirable the hotel; everything tidy; well, etc. Price $600.

No. 13. 565 acres laying on Nordhoff road, a part of the Ojai rancho. Reaches from the highway to the top of the hill. Has a never water front of over a mile on a trout stream; 100 thousand cords of timber on the land ready to cut, sells on the ground at a net profit of $1.75 cords a cord; 300 acres can be plowed, portions are splendid for fruit. Price $8000.

No. 6. 2200 acres, a part of the Simi rancho lying in Ventura County, 30 miles from Los Angeles; 500 to 600 acres of good farming land; the best of pasture; a number of oil springs on the land. Price $16,000.

No. 12. 50 acres lying on the main road 3 miles east of Ventura; a comfortable house, barn, and 800 bbl. cistern; 10 acres of walnuts, 3 years old; 10 acres of bearing fruit. Price $1200.

No. 125. 450 acres of level land, all of which is fenced, divided into lots of 40 acres each, and lying at the east end of the Santa Clara valley, 3 miles from Hueneme, and 2 miles from the seaport town of Hueneme; 2 miles from the Oxnard beet sugar mill; 2 miles from the Oxnard beet sugar mill; 2 miles from the Oxnard beet sugar mill te.

ON.

, Cal.

TATE,

& Shepherd

ura, Cal.

l land on a large ght; fenced, and ords-Baca in the Baca-avenues.

tle above, well
Price $100 per ots to suit pur-

; a fine chance bargain. Price tion to the under-lot No. 16, of

, 10 miles from
; on the Farm-
; and on the Ar-
; 7 feet to water.
a year; house,
fenced; in good dental Hotel, a ith large lot—100

in at its present

ariest locations
Gallery; a gentle-on of lime's beauner road to the acre 00.

land, three miles land and barn; in Avenue; house,

arly all orchard.

tilding lots, two
; well protect-good; all under for 100 tons of of 1000 inches;

assez in alfalfa for 1, 2 or 5

; 300 acres of the overnment land, bridged; one-ed; 160 large
ed; 160 large
ed; 160 large

Farm and Range.

Vine-Growers to Congress.

The TIMES-MIRROR is in receipt of a memorial of a little more than six printed pages, entitled "Brief Resume of the Demands of Vine Growers Respecting Legislation by Congress." It is addressed "To the friends of Viticulture," and is signed and dated at Washington by Charles A. Wetmore, Chief Executive Officer of the Viticultural Commission of California. This memorial embraces, substantially the demands preferred by the Viticultural Association of California and the State Fruit-Growers' Convention held in Los Angeles last November. The principal claims are as follows:

1st. The legitimate wine and brandy industry ask protection against dishonest trade, the foundation of which trade is the rapid development of the manufacture of spurious, sophisticated, and adulterated wines and brandies, which are invariably used to defraud consumers, under the pretense of purity and genuine character, and to rob legitimate producers of a trade that rightfully belongs to them. The spurious goods find markets with retailers and compounders, because they are prepared and sold more cheaply than pure articles, and with consumers because they are sold under false representations. The result of this competition is loss and discouragement to the honest producer, injury and dissatisfaction to the consumer, demoralization in trade by reason of the leveling influence of unfair competition in prices and labels, and a positive decrease in the permanent wealth of the country.

As a remedy for this wholesale adulteration, the memorial suggests that the Internal Revenue service be required to place upon all spuriously manufactured wines and liquors stamps showing their true character; that a commission, consisting of the Surgeon-General of the Army, the Medical Director of Marine Hospitals, and the President of the National Board of Health shall determine doubtful questions as to adulterations injurious to public health and condemn the same. The memorial continues:

2d. Sweet wines require to be fortified by the addition of grape spirits to preserve them from disease and change. Such addition should be free of taxation, provided that nothing but brandy is used in fortification. Brandy should be legally defined as the distillate of fermented fruit juice, unmixed with spirits derived from other sources.

3d. It requires not less than five years to perfect a good brandy; many producers would prefer to wait longer. After brandy is perfect, it requires some time, according to the conditions of trade, to seek a market. Our people should demand that unlimited bonding is a just principle, as the Government has no right to confiscate the goods that a producer is unable to sell. But if any limit is placed on the term for bonding in bond, we demand that eight years be recognized as the least period to be fixed by law.

4th. In bonding brandies, the Government should require only security for the payment of taxes. Ample privileges should be granted for producers in bond to divide their packages into convenient sizes to suit the demands of trade and to so care for these, as is done with wine, that we may compete duly with the carefully nursed products of other countries. The producer should be enabled to take out of bond, with the stamp of the Government, indicating the nature of his goods as well as their age, any sized parcels required for trade, whether in wood or glass. And no compounds of brandy and other spirits, and no imitations of brandy should be suffered to bear a Government stamp, while branded falsely.

5th. In addition to the necessities for fortifying sweet wines, we need for certain trade in tropical countries to fortify to a small degree even clarets, as is the universal practice in Europe. If we send, as we shall soon, wines to Bordeaux in competition with those of Spain, they must be fortified up to the limit allowed by the customs service there, in order to obtain full market prices; this applies, of course, to ordinary grades intended for blending with light wines. For this reason we need a law permitting, free of tax, such fortification.

* * * * *

With respect to the tariff, the fruit-growers of California ask members of Congress why they should take any steps to stimulate a rival industry in Mexico, where peon and Chinese cheap labor is permitted, while at the same time they forbid the introduction of such labor in California. We demand that fruit shall be protected in any proposed treaty with Mexico or other countries; the only alternative to this is one that our producers would be sorry to adopt, viz: the advocacy of laws tending towards the introduction of cheap and degraded labor into the United States. We cannot look with patience upon Congressional propositions, which on the one hand deprive us, with our consent, of coolie labor, and at the same time propose to subject us to competition with the same labor in a rival country.

Our raisin-producers, who pay taxes for the support of our Government, and who are ready at the call of the President to defend the lives and property of our citizens, but who cannot live the miserable lives of the peasants of Spain, ask that a proper tariff be placed on their products so that they may continue to live equals of the lawyers and schoolmasters who, being free from foreign competition, are too often selfishly inclined as to the industries of those others on whom their own prosperity depends.

POULTRY.

At What Age Should Hens Be Sold?

American Agriculturist.

To those who desire the best possible profit on poultry, it is a question of no small importance: "At what age should the hens be sold?" I may, indeed, ship both poultry and eggs to the city, but the cost on small lots would eat up all the profits over and above that which I would receive from my country merchant. In my own neighborhood, spring chickens hatched in April, and of large, broiling size, are worth twenty cents apiece. This is but little, if any more than the actual cost to the raiser. If kept, the pullets at six months of age will begin to lay. This is some weeks before Christmas, at a time when eggs bring their best price. Between their start and the time when hens are in demand for market in the spring, these pullets, if well fed and cared for, will lay one hundred, or eight dozen eggs. These, at the usual price here in winter, viz: twenty-five cents per dozen, are worth two dollars. A good Brahma pullet, or any of the larger breeds, may be kept laying all winter and spring, and still be kept in good condition for the table. At that time a hen will sell for thirty cents, and this will pay for the feed the hen will consume up to that age, apart from what she will pick up in foraging around, if allowed free run upon the farm. There will then be a clear profit of two dollars on each hen at one year old, and this is more than can be reasonably expected at any other period of a hen's existence. After this, the expenses on a hen increase, to say nothing of the risk, and the profits diminish.

It is clear then that it pays better to let one year old, after getting one winter's laying, rather than to keep hens to a greater age, or to sell them as broilers. Young and vigorous hens produce the largest number of eggs. Do not keep old fowls, or indeed, old stock of any kind. Of course a number, say one or two dozen hens on each farm, must be kept to an older age for breeding purposes; but the stock poultry and the laying hens should always be kept separate, if possible. The breeders and layers require different treatment. Every spring a full quota of layers must be raised for the next winter's laying force. Only the male chicks are to be sold early, the layers are to be sold after one season, and the breeders at three years. Conducted in this way, there is some money in poultry, even when sold to the country dealer.

Cocoanut Culture in Florida.

S. F. Bulletin.

During the last forty years experiments have been made in Florida with the cocoanut palm. They were on a small scale, but sufficient to show that the tree will flourish in suitable localities in that State. About six years ago an attempt was made to plant with a view to business. Several thousand trees were set out at Lake Worth, some of which are now in bearing, and since then many plantations have been made on the small islands near Key West. The most extensive experiment, however, is that of Messrs. Field & Osborne in Dade county, between Cape Florida and Jupiter Inlet, where they have about eight thousand acres which they are devoting to cocoanut culture. The land was purchased from the Government at a low price. Being part of the Everglade regions it was considered of little value, although capable of improvement by draining. The land lies between the sea and a network of bays, rivers and sounds, disconnected by narrow strips of land, but themselves connected by inlets with the ocean. The strip varies in width from twenty rods to a little over a mile. The vicinity of the sea is deemed requisite for the successful growth of the cocoanut palm. This chain of inland channels receives the fresh water flowing from the Everglades, which prevents its leaching through this strip of land. Easterly winds frequently drive the Gulf Stream waters along the coast, producing a tropical climate and insuring a fine growth of vegetation. On this strip about 200,000 trees have been planted during the last two years. Northern labor is used, that of the vicinity being unfit and incapable; the planting is done during the winter and for the remainder of the year the trees take care of themselves, requiring very little attention. They are planted about one hundred to the acre, begin bearing in six or seven years, and produce almost continuously until seventy or eighty years old. There is no danger of overstocking the market, as besides the use of the nuts for eating and cooking, the tree and fruit together furnish a great variety of valuable commercial products, including cordage of excellent quality, oil, palm wine, arrack, copra, etc. Recently experiments have been made in France which prove that the husks of the nuts properly prepared furnish a valuable packing for the water-line of war vessels. After the passage of shot or shell through the mass it expands so as to stop leakage entirely.

California has shown her ability to compete successfully with Florida in her citrus products, but it is possible that in the successful cultivation of the cocoanut the latter has the field to herself. The tree naturally seeks salt water, a low, sandy soil, and a moist, hot atmosphere. These conditions are hard to find in California, but in some instances success has followed cultivation where some of them are lacking, particularly the presence of the sea, and it might be worth while for some of the residents of Southern California to try their fortune and test the possibility of adding a new industry to the future of the State.

Amber Cane for Stock.

Rural Press.]

We recently printed an interesting letter describing one of our readers' favorable experience with sorghum cane as a forage plant. His experience is like that of many others in different parts of the State, and should lead all who have land adapted to the growth of the cane to try it as a summer food when the pastures become short. It can be treated and used just as fodder corn, and the advantage it has is its superiority as a plant. We notice that L. Stortevant of the New York Experiment Station, has made a careful comparative test of corn and sorghum fodder and concludes in favor of the latter. The details are given in the last volume of the reports from this station. He tried both ordinary field corn (flint and dent) and sweet corn in comparison with amber cane.

Both were planted on the same day, on plats similar in character, and receiving the same fertilization and cultivation, and harvested on the same day, the corn then being in full growth, but the cane not having reached its full development. Taking six plats of corn and three of sorghum, the results in weight of green forage were as follows, viz: Average yield of corn per acre, 12.03 tons; highest yield, 16.30 tons; lowest yield, 7.95 tons. Average yield of sorgium per acre, 17.96 tons; greatest, 22.54 tons; smallest, 12.08 tons. It will be seen that the amount of green forage from sorghum per acre was considerably in excess of that from corn, and that, notwithstanding the sorghum, as stated, had not made its full growth. Had the comparison been made with some of our large varieties of Western corn the difference would not have been so great.

But then again, the early orange and other varieties of cane give a heavier growth per acre than the early amber, and would probably give a proportionately heavier crop of green forage than our large Western varieties of corn. Those who have fed green sorghum to stock, we think, very generally regard it as superior to green corn for feeding purposes, and since it gives a heavier crop in tons the inference would be that it is a better forage crop than corn.

Dr. Sturtevant mentions the fact in Eastern experience, that it requires a little more work to grow the sorghum, as it does not start and grow as quickly as corn, and therefore requires more cultivation. This we imagine may not be so noticeable in California, where there is not the same chance for a summer growth of weeds.

North American Bee-Keepers.

L. C. Root, of the American Agriculturist, presided at the 16th Annual Session of the North American Bee-Keepers' Association, held at Detroit, Michigan, during the closing days of the year. The leading beekeepers of many of the States, as well as the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec were present, and the gathering was a large one.

In his address, President Root gave a general review of the present aspects of bee-keeping, as a business. He said, among other things: "It is evident that the effort has been too much in the direction of increasing the production, rather than to create a corresponding demand for the same. I think I am safe in the assertion that no effort of ours is needed which shall tend to an increased production of honey for our present, general, overstocked market. Last season extracted honey was shipped to New York from California by carloads. The market was already overstocked with the best grades of Eastern honey, and the result was such that California bee-keepers will hardly care for a repetition of the experience. Honey has been shipped largely this year from the Eastern and Middle States to New York, and the outcome of this has been that the choicest white honey in sections has sold at ruinously low rates, and some of it has actually been returned to grocers in our own vicinity. We must enlarge our field of consumption. This can be done by encouraging home consumption, and also by opening up new avenues for the uses of honey. It has been a source of great regret to me that our Agricultural Department at Washington has taken no special interest in bee-keeping. I am now extremely gratified to report that our industry is be ginning to receive a share of attention. In the thorough revolution, which our business is destined to undergo, I foresee that the Government will become an efficient aid in the line of scientific investigation, and of protection to our interests. No greater good fortune has ever befallen bee-keepers than this new departure."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

It is estimated that of the two thousand million bushels of corn grown this year, less than five per cent. will be used directly as human food. The price of this large crop is, therefore, only slightly affected by that of wheat, and is more dependent on the prices of the pork and beef in the making of which the great bulk of corn is fed.

British farmers want a Minister of Agriculture. It was unanimously agreed at a farmers' meeting held last month that the government be urged to appoint such an officer, "in order that questions affecting the British agriculturist may be placed before Parliament in such a manner as to receive the consideration which from their importance they imperatively demand."

It was once thought that wheat would always be the staple crop of Minnesota, but this impression is undergoing a change. The dairy business now presses close on the wheat crop and will soon exceed it, though it is possible that there, as elsewhere, the improvement of the land by keeping more stock may enable farmers to grow more wheat than they could by devoting all their land and labor to that expensive and exhausting crop.

The brutal and wasteful practice of attempting to feed and rear cattle in the Western ranches without protection or food has received a severe and costly check within the past few weeks. A farmer would be arrested in New England for cruelty to animals who should turn adrift a herd of cows in January upon a clearing on the side of the White Mountains, yet in the far West, Eastern capital in the hands of Western speculators is trying to rear cattle in snow banks, without food, shelter or water, without protection from the destroying blizzard. Proper shelter and forage crops are among the essentials of future successful cattle raising in the West as well as in the East. Forty below zero is just as cold in Montana as in Vermont, and unprotected cattle freeze to death as quickly in the former Territory as in the latter State.

OUR PUZZLE CORNER.

[Readers are invited to aid in making our Puzzle Department interesting by the contribution of good original charades, enigmas, rebuses, etc. Communications for this department should be addressed to W. H. Eastman, East Sumner, Me.]

1.—Charade.

Now list, I pray,
To what I say;
If honored you would be,
My first avoid,
Nor be decoyed
By evil company.

To second friend,
Oh, never lend,
E'en once a listening ear;
That was the way
That old dog Tray
Came to his death, we hear.

You know the rest.
At least you've guessed
The whole, I'm sure, ere now
A sailor bold,
Whose story's told
In dates of long ago. ALDINE.

2.—Decapitations.

1. Behead an unmarried woman, and leave assistance.
2. Behead a man in command, and leave a flower.
3. Behead a girl, and leave an animal.
4. Behead a boy (as he would be called in Scotland) and leave a girl's name.
5. Behead a man of chivalric rank, and leave a time for rest.
6. Behead a superficial young man, and leave a boy's nickname.

J. O. H. N.

3.—Hidden Word-Square.

1. Here is a package of tapioca Melissa sent you.
2. When I see a boy smoking a cigar, I severely rebuke him.
3. I saw your cousin Sam in Talapoosa.
4. Have you plenty of tomatoes to plant in your garden.
5. I never saw any one else leap so far as Phil can.

In the above may be found words with the following definitions:

1. A beast of burden.
2. To get up.
3. A girl's nickname.
4. To hinder.
5. Springs.

These words will form a square.

AUN

4.—Enigma.

Composed of 48 letters.

My 44, 3, 37, 46, 10 is to turn about rapidly.

My 13, 21, 47, 12 is something soothing.

My 48, 46, 11, 32 is a sort of carriage.

My 18, 14, 6, 16, 35 is to evade.

My 36, 25, 31, 41, 26 is worn on the foot.

My 30, 8, 43, 29, 33 is a grain.

My 36, 20, 9, 5, 7, 2, 46 is a protection.

My 1, 17, 27, 42 is an adjective that always refers to more than one.

My 15, 45, 38, 6, 47, 43 is to handle affectionately.

My 19, 34, 46, 4, 22, 23, 10, 35 is to choke.

My 40, 39, 46, 18 is a place for crossing a river.

My 28, 24, 32, the farmers secure in summer.

My whole is from the New Testament. ETHYL.

5.—Transpositions.

Lalt sako mrof tellit corans wrgo,
Goral nasters mfro letlil tanoufns fowl.
LITTLE MAY.

Answers to Puzzles of Last Week.

1.—Fairies (fair eyes).

2.—
C A S H
A L T O
S T O P
H O P E

3.—Life is an unsolved enigma.

4.
s t u B b l e s h i n e
a S k
C
c U t p r I d e
f l a T t e n

5.—Lark, ark.

6.—Ginger.

RED STAR TRADE AND STAR MARK.
COUGH CURE
Absolutely free from Opiates, Emetics and Poison.
SAFE. SURE. PROMPT. 25 Cts.
AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Lumber and Coal Yards.

PEGON LUMBER COMPANY

The Oregon Lumber Company have lately opened a splendid assortment of

OREGON PIN and California Redwood Lumber

Of every Description at their New Yard on

Date, Chavez and Mission] Sts.

We have a fine stock of Laths, Pickets, Shingles and Finishing Lumber of a superior quality. We are also prepared to fill orders on short notice for building materials of every description. Particular attention paid to orders for unusual lengths and dimensions. Orders solicited. J. A. RUSH, Agent.
julyl6 3m

JAS. M. DAVIS, President. F. C. HENDERSON, Vice President. J. B. SHUNK, Treas. W. F. MARSHALL, Sec

DAVIS-HENDERSON Lumber Company,

Dealers in

Lumber and Building Material

LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Yard, 180 First Street

T. WALSH,

Sell their lumber as low as the reduced prices of any lumber dealers in Los Angeles.

Lumber Yard & Planing Mills

SAN PEDRO S., COR. SEVENTH

LOS ANGELES, CAL

Doors and Windows, Mouldings, Lath, Pickets, Shingles, Shakes, Posts, Lime and Cement.

Plaster of Paris, Hair and all Kinds of Mill Work

W. H. PERRY

Lumber and Mill Co.'s

Lumber Yard and Planing Mills,

COMMERCIAL STREET.

C. A. SHAFER,

Dealer in all kinds of

LUMBER,

Mouldings, Sash, Doors, Blinds.

Corner of Temple and Fireman sts Angeles, Cal.

Insurance and Banking.

First National Bank

OF LOS ANGELES.

CAPITAL STOCK $100,000
SURPLUS 100,000

E. F. SPENCE ..... President
J. M. ELLIOTT ..... Cashier

DIRECTORS.

J. D. Bicknell, J. F. CRANK, H. Mabury, O. S. Wilsberby, E. F. Spence.

STOCKHOLDERS.

Capt. A. H. Wilcox, Dr. R. J. McDonal, O. S. Wilsberby, James McCoy, J. F. Crank, William Lacy, J. E. Hollenbeck, L. Lankershim, H. Mabury, A. W. Harvey, I. H. Carlton, S. H. Mott, J. D. Bicknell, E. F. Spence. oct7

F. Q. Story

GEO. H. ROSECRANS, President. JOHN BRYSON, SR., Vice-President. F. C. HOWES, Cashier.

Los Angeles National Bank,

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY.

No. 54 N. Main St., Los Angeles.

CAPITAL ..... $100,000.

DIRECTORS:

W. G. Cochran, Col. H. H. Markham, Perry M. Green, John Bryson, Sr., H. Sinsabaugh, F. C. Howes, Geo. H. Rosecrans.

Exchange for sale on all the principal cities of the United States and Europe. au28

Farmers and Mechants' Bank,

OF LOS ANGELES.

Established in 1868.

Capital $200,000
Surplus & Reserve Fund 200,000

ISAIAS W. HELLMAN, President; L. G. GOODWIN, Vice-President. JOHN MILNES, Secy.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS—

Isaias W. Hellman, John S. G. Childs, C. E. Thom, Phil. Garnier, Ch. O. W. Lankershim, C. Ducommun, Jose Mascarel.

EXCHANGE for sale on New York, London, Frankfort, Dublin, Paris and Berlin. Receive deposits and issue their certificates. Buy and sell Governments, State, County and City Bonds. mar15-tf

Los Angeles County Bank

MAIN STREET, LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Capital Stock (paid up) : $100,000
Reserve Fund, : $205,000

JOHN E. PLATER ..... PRESIDENT
H. S. BAKER ..... VICE-PRESIDENT
H. MACNEIL ..... CASHIER

DIRECTORS.

J. S. Slauson, John E. Plater, John A. Paxton, Jotham Bixby, Robert S. Baker, Geo. W. Prescott, R. M. Widney.

Carries on a General Banking and Collecting business. jy18

Los Angeles Savings Bank,

No. 130 North Main Street,

CAPITAL, - - - - - $100,000.

PRESIDENT ..... L. C. GOODWIN
SECRETARY ..... J. V. WACHTEL

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Isaias W. Hellman, John E. Plater, Robt. S. Baker, John A. Paxton, L. C. Goodwin.

Term Deposits will be received in sums of one hundred dollars and over.

Ordinary deposits in sums of ten dollars and over.

Money to loan on first-class real estate
LOS ANGELES, July 1st 1886. 1lyr1 tf

NOTICE.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., January 20, 1886.

The undersigned banks hereby notify their customers that from and after this day all drafts drawn on banks in Northern Counties, outside of Los Angeles city, will be taken FOR COLLECTION ONLY.

FARMERS & MERCHANTS' BANK[OF LOS ANGELES.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES.
LOS ANGELES COUNTY BANK.
LOS ANGELES NATIONAL BANK.
a23 1m

DON'T BUY A RANGE

Until you have seen the

NEW MODEL MEDALLION

The Best and Most Economical

RANGE

EVER PUT ON THE MARKET

Hardware, Rubber and Leather Belting, Rubber Hose, Cotton Hose, Iron Pipe, Pumps, Shovels, Spades, Forks and Rakes. Spray Pumps for the Scale Bug, Stamped Ware, Agate Ware, Tin and Steel Iron Ware (our own make). The Best Selected Stock in Town,

And as low as can be bought anywhere.

anitar Plumbing, Metal Roofing.

Artesian Well Pipe a Specialty

—THE BEST STOCK OF—

Refrigerators, Water Filterers and Coolers

In the City, and the Cheapest

W. C. FURREY

da10 59 and 61 Spring St.

Custom Boot and Shoe Store.

T. SHOOTER,

MAKES ALL KINDS OF

Ladies' and Gents' Boots, Shoes and Slippers.

Also boot and gaiter uppers to order. Cripple cures a specialty. First-class repairing done on short notice.

17 Temple Street, Near Spring.

Late with C. L. Fisher. feb9f

Real Estate.

H. H. H.

HEALTHFUL, HAPPY HOMES.

A chance is now offered to those desiring a tract of the choicest land in Southern California.

THE PHILLIPS TRACT

Is being sold in lots of ten or more acres at prices ranging from

$65 to $100 Per Acre,

With water rights and a share of stock with each acre. The soil is of a very superior quality, rich, sandy loam, easily cultivated, and retains the moisture to a wonderful degree, not requiring water for vineyards. This is the home of the orange and lemon. As fine fruit as is produced in the State is raised in the

Upper San Gabriel Valley

Equal in every respect to the Riverside Orange. Also adapted to all kinds of deciduous fruits and vines; and strawberries and raspberries can be raised the year round; also potatoes, tomatoes, peas and vegetables of like character.

The climate is as fine as there is on this coast, exceedingly healthful, free from fogs and but seldom frost, being protected by the Sierra Madre range of mountains on the north, gently sloping south and west.

This beautiful tract of land is located five miles from Puente Station, on the Southern Pacific railroad, and eight miles west of Pomona, on the extension of the beautiful San Gabriel Valley.

This land must be seen to be appreciated.

It has settled up very rapidly during the past year, and while it possesses all the advantages that any portions of the valley does as regards, soil, climate, etc., this land is being

Sold at Almost One-Half

What is being asked in other sections in the same valley. The extension of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley Railroad will run close to this tract and the town of Covina, which will give it additional advantages.

COVINA.

This town is located on the tract. Contains a number of good houses, stores, newspaper, livery, carpenter and blacksmith shops, good hall, churches and a fine school. The lots in the town are 60x175, and to those desiring to improve are

BEING SOLD AT FROM $50 TO $100 EACH

To actual settlers inducements are being offered as regards payments, making it easy for one with moderate means to obtain a desirable home at a very reasonable outlay. Persons desiring to see the lots or land can go out any day from Puente Station, there being a regular Daily Mail to Covina.

The tract has broad avenues, and streets through the land and town.

The land is not only wonderfully rich and productive, but LEVEL AND CLEAN.

For additional information, maps, prices, etc., please call on or address

L. W. DENNI,
242 Main street, Los Angeles, Cal.
(BAKER BLOCK.)

C. C. COOK,
55 Spring Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

J. S. PHILLIP,
Covina, California.
ja19 6m Thfm

Miscellaneous.

BOERICKE & SCHREOK'S

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES

ARE THE BEST.

Ask your Druggist for a copy of our "Homeopathic Guide to Health," containing outline of Homeopathy, and useful notes and hints on Homeopathic Treatment. If not obtainable, send direct to our address,

No. 234 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

And it will be mailed free.

MOTHERS BUY B. & S. COUGH & CROUP SYRUP. HAS NEVER YET FAILED TO CURE CROUP.

PRICE PER BOTTLE, FIFTY CENTS.

The Safest, Most Reliable, and One of the Oldest Family Medicines in the Market.

Thousands of families are constantly using it in different parts of the Union, recommended by physicians as the most convenient and surest remedy for CROUP, always at hand for emergencies. The attacks of Croup come on so suddenly and usually so terribly in the middle of the night, when medical aid cannot so readily be procured, that a POSITIVE REMEDY FOR CROUP AND CROUPY COUGH—one that is speedy in action, pleasant to the taste, and always ready for use—becomes a great desideratum. These conditions are fulfilled by B. & S. Homeopathic Cough and Croup Syrup.

This preparation has been in use for over twenty-five years, and thousands of precious lives have been saved. As a remedy for Coughs, Catarrh on the Chest, Bronchitis, Pneumonia it is without a peer, for children as well as adults. In Asthma, Hay Fever, Humid Asthma, it greatly aids in cutting short the paroxysms and preventing the distressing after effects. B. & S. Homeopathic Cough and Croup Syrup does away with the use of opium in all its forms in all sorts of soothing syrups, which annually destroy as many little lives as does the dreadful destruction never. It is wise nature in curing or relieving all diseases of the respiratory organs, whether acute or chronic.

The above to be had at all drug stores, or may be obtained direct from our

Wholesale and Retail Depot,

224 SUTTER STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

BOERICKE & SCHREOK.

ja19

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Just received, carload 74 degrees double deodorized Red Eagle Brand Eastern Gasoline. The most economical in use. One gallon being equal to five quarts of ordinary Gasoline.

Call and see our Kitchen, where we have Stoves in Operation.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

OILS, GASOLINE AND STOVES, CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, LAMPS,
TINWARE & HOUSEHOLD GOODS

The Cheapest Place in Town—5c, 10c and 15c Counters.

OILS, GASOLINE AND STOVES A SPECIALTY

Trade Supplied.

Acme Oil and Lamp Co.,
No. 108 South Spring Street, Los Angeles.

P. S.—Ask your dealer and be sure you get Red Eagle Brand Gasoline. Use Acme Oil, weight guaranteed, 35 lbs. per can.

LYONS'

NEW CARPET STORE

HAS JUST OPENED WITH AN

Elegant Stock of Carpets,

LINOLEUMS, MATTINGS, ETC.

Being an exclusive Carpet Store, we are able to show all the latest styles. Give us a Call.

LYONS' CARPET STORE,

No. 116 West First Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

FRANK A. MILLER, Proprietor. ALICE E. MILLER, Manager.

HOTEL PALOMARES

POMONA, CAL.

This elegant and complete Resort Hotel will be open to the public

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23D.

The house is constructed with all modern improvements, gas, electric bells and

FIREPLACES A SPECIALTY.

PURE WATER, the Great Requisite in Securing Health,

Piped Directly from Flowing Artesian Wells.

GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY! FINE DRIVING!

Electric, Medicated, Sulphur, Turkish

STEAM AND RUSSIAN BATHS.

The Bath Department in Dr. Robbins' Electro-Magnetic Institute

Cor. First and Spring Streets. Entrance on First Street.

Is Now Open for the Public

The Baths are under the supervision of a thorough physician, and are excellent for cleansing purposes and curing cold, rheumatism, paralysis and general debility. Persons attended to by first-class shampooers of their own sex. Office Hours—8 till 8.

Single baths, $1; six tickets for $5.

Patients treated skillfully by Electric, Medical and Magnetic treatments.

FOR SALE--WILLOWDALE,

San Gabriel, near Pasadena, adjoining Governor Stoneman, B. F. Smith and A. Richardson. Can be bought at a price that will yield a fine interest on the money. The place has 17½ acres of land. Good house of nine rooms, and the best of water. Completely furnished and handsomely papered and decorated. Dairy, woodshed, poultry house, barn, corrals and chicken house. Several springs with abundance of water for irrigation. Water stored in three reservoirs and piped throughout the place. Reservoirs stocked with carp 7 years old. Semi-tropical and deciduous fruits in full bearing; 4000 Mission grapes 12 years old; 1000 Muscat, Raisin, Table and Wine grapes; Hamburg, Flaming Tokay and Sweetwater, 8 years old; 3500 Bliss Bijou 2 years old; seedling orange trees (Wilson's best) 16 years old; 30 budded orange trees, Washington, Mediterranean Sweet, 8 years old; 13 lemon, 10 lime, 50 peach, 30 apple, 10 pear, 10 pomegranates, 20 loquats, 22 quince, 10 figs; also almonds, cherry, nectarine, apricot, mulberry, English walnut, olive, guava, blackberry, Lawton blackberry, raspberry and bamboo; 2½ acres in alfalfa. Large live oaks, sycamore and willow trees on the place. Eucalyptus grove of 800 trees for wood, and all the necessary farming implements, carpenter's tools, etc. This elegant property is near San Gabriel River, in the foothills, commanding a fine view. Apply to J. G. ELLIS on the premises. jul6 3m

ROSES ROSES

NEW VARIETIES. Wm. F. Bennett, Sunset, Etc., Etc.

STANDARD SORTS. La France, Bon Selene, Etc.

Large Fine Stock. Send for price list to

A. C. WEEKS, San Gabriel P. O.

Nurseries, Alhambra Tract.

Koster's Bakery,

Ice Cream, Coffee & Oyster Parlors

ARE THE

HANDSOMEST IN THE STATE.

Hollenbeck Block,

SPRING STREET.

KERCKHOFF, CUZNER MILL AND LUMBER CO.

DEALERS IN

LUMBER, DOORS, BLINDS,

WINDOWS, MOULDINGS, LATH, PICKETS, SHINGLES.

Corner Alameda and Macy Streets, Los Angeles, Cal.

HAVE THE LARGEST STOCK IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA OF EASTERN HARDWOODS such as OAK, HICKORY, ASH, WALNUT and POPLAR, which they offer at San Francisco prices. Also PARQUETRY FLOORING, made of MAHOGANY, ROSEWOOD, WALNUT and ASH, in a variety of patterns.

BOYS AND GIRLS.

Concluding Chapter of the Crow Chronicles.

HOW MADAM MAD HER WAY AND SANG.

And the Consternation that was Caused Thereby—Grace and Charlie Write Some Nice Letters.

Mrs. Crow's Concert.

(Concluded.)

On swift wings the birds went flying,
Blown before each breeze sighing—
They were a pretty crowd.

Miss Robin Redbreast flew along,
Looking downward all the way,
Eyes the sunshine and the roses
Could not make her spirits gay.

For she missed while she was flying,
Is it right for us to go,
When we know she is no singer?—
Poor vain, foolish Mrs. Or w?

But the Bobolink beside her
Ready was to have some fun,
And the cruel Hawk was saying
Just to have the sport begun.

And the merry Thrush said softly,
When she comes to do her best,
We that she will surprise us,
I will go with all the rest.

And the Nightingale that singeth
Only in the woods at even—
Whose soft voice within the twilight
Through the starry dusk is driven,

Held a tender thought of pity,
For the Crow, within her heart,
And she said, "Can any help her,
I will surely do my part."

There the Oriole and Canary,
And the brown Thrush swept along,
And the happy Lark, that rising,
Paved the morning skies with song—

And the blinking Owl, his eyelids
Drooping to shut out the light;
And the Eagle, proud and haughty,
Free with swift, impatient flight.

And the Mocking Bird, that singer
Whose whole breast is full of song—
Not a bird within the forest
But went with Mr. Crow along.

O, what lovely spot for concert,
Right behind, the hillsides climb,
Semi-covered, tree-wreathed, sprinkled over
Too with wealth of eglantine.

And the brook ran liquid silver,
And the meadows shone with light,
Starred with daisies and with cowslips,
And lilies of the valley white.

Far away the forest wandered,
Far away the meadows spread,
Green with slender swaying grasses,
By the brook's clear waters fed.

And the sun rained golden brightness,
Flecking all the forest ground,
And the waters leaped and sparkled
On the pebbles white and round.

Mr. Crow flew on before them—
And they followed in his wake;
While chatting sunbeams on their wings
A line of glory make.

Cool and green and widely spreading,
With its leafy curtain fair,
Was the oak tree rising upward
Like some God-built temple there.

On its topmost limb sat waiting,
With a smile upon her face,
Mrs. Crow in blackest feathers,
With an air of studied grace.

Though the oak was big and branching,
Scarcely was there room for all;
There were hundreds, from the Eagle
To the pretty Linnet small.

But at length they all were ready
For the concert to begin,
And Mrs. Crow, her feathers smoothing,
Stood up there at last to sing.

Such a hush fell on the forest,
I think you could have heard
If e'en the smallest little leaf
Had for a moment stirred.

"Caw, caw," sang Mrs. Crow, then stopped
As if to clear her throat,
While pitying Robin Redbreast longed
To strike one little note.

But she was mute, and all the birds
Sat silent in their place,
And e'en the Hawk drew down his chin,
And sat with solemn face.

Then Mrs. Crow began again—
Was like a concert was,
So harsh and so unmusical,
That endless "Caw, caw, caw."

She strove to touch some other note,
To sing the Robin's song,
To make such music as the Lark
Sings to her young.

But only "Caw, caw," could she sing,
No other sound could utter,
Till the Hawk laughed, and all the birds,
Amazed and scornful, flutter.

And the bright sunshine overhead
Laughed softly through the shade,
And e'en the very echoes fled
From th' discords that she made.

And Mr. Eagle, who I fear
Is an ill-mannered bird,
Jeer-mocked with laughter, and Mrs. Crow
To dreadful passion stirred.

She flew down at him from her perch,
And sought to peck his face,
But Mr. Crow he seized her wing,
And led her to her place.

"And now keep still, you shameless thing,"
He said aside to her,
"And don't you dare attempt to sing
Or from this bough I'll stir."

And then he turned unto the birds;
"I am ashamed," said he,
"Of this attempt by Mrs. Crow
Of bird-like minstrelsy.

"Perhaps," I was not right to let
My wife this trial make,
And if I am to blame, I will
Your ready censure take.

"But I have striven long with her,
When she in jealous mood
Has boasted she could sing more sweet
Than all the bird choir could.

"I strove to teach her such as we
Were never made for song,
But for some other use, but she
Is headed that I was wrong.

"Good friends, excuse her and forget
What she has done to-day,
And give to us a concert sweet
Before you go away."

Then Mrs. Crow stood up again,
With meek and humble face,
And air was pensive and sad,
As there she took her place.

And then she spoke with downcast eyes,
And with a tumbled tone,
Which showed how much of fear broke
This folly I have done.

"And then henceforth I'll be content
Without attempt to sing;
Content to fly above the woods,
Upon my strong, true wing.

"Content to caw, caw, to my mate,
And to my brethren free,
While they shall fly the upper air
Through all its paths with me.

"And as a sign you pardon this—
My folly vain and wild,
I too ask you will sing for us
Before you from us seek."

Then such a joyous twitter rang,
Through bending bough and leaf,
So glad, so softly musical
The Crow forgot her grief.

And such a flood of glorious song
From the bird choir there
It seemed as if the leaves sang too,
And all the flowers fair.

The dancing echoes flew along
And sang it o'er again,
The purling waters of the brook
Sang out a sweet refrain.

Since then the Crow has always kept
Her place within the aisles,
Filled with a glad content she goes
Caw, caw, as she likes.

I like to hear her as she sails
So far above my head,
So calm and fearless swoops she on,
With her black wings outspread.

Caw, caw, o'er summer woods in June
And summer skies she flies,
And happy children watch her still
Caw, caving through the sk es.

ELIZA A. CRAIG.

* * *

Well now, the little folks did not all forget me, did they? Here are two letters already for the children's column. Let us see what they are:

DEAR E. A. C.: I like your crow story very much. I live in Los Angeles, and read the SUNDAY TIMES. I like it as much as a story book. I've got a parrot. She is very funny. She says when she steals sugar, "Set a thief to catch a thief!" Then we laugh, and she laughs, too. We have got a big black cat. She sometimes sits in the window. She is sitting in the window now. I don't think of anything more. CHARLIE.

Thank you, Charley. This is a very nice letter that you have written, and I hope that we shall hear from you again. I had a pussy once that was very cunning. She was a little gray kitten, and she used to lie in the sunshine rolled up like a little round ball. We had a rooster with whom she was a great pet. He used to go and lie beside her in the warm sunshine, and stand by her when she was eating her bread and milk, and would not allow the hens to come near to steal her food. And he would never take any himself until she was through. Then, if she left any, he was not slow to eat it, and when he

Miscellaneous.

BOERICKE & SCHRECK'S

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES

ARE THE BEST.

Ask your Druggist for a copy of our "Homeopathic Guide to Health," containing an outline of Homeopathy, easily useful advice and hints on Homeopathic Treatment. Dist. etc. If not obtainable, send direct to our address.

No. 234 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

And it will be mailed free.

MOTHERS BUY B.&S. HOMEOPATHIC COUGH & CROUP SYRUP. HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME.

PRICE PER BOTTLE, FIFTY CENTS.

The Safest, Most Reliable, and One of the Oldest Family Medicines in the Market.

Thousands of families are constantly using it in different parts of the Union. Recommended by physicians as the most convenient and surest remedy for CROUP. Keep it handy in case of emergencies. The attacks of Croup come on so suddenly and unexpectedly, usually in the middle of the night, when medical aid cannot so readily be obtained, that a POSITIVE REMEDY FOR CROUP AND CROUPY COUGH—one that is speedy in its action, pleasant to the taste, and always ready for use—becomes a great desideratum. All these conditions are fulfilled by B. & S. Homeopathic Cough and Croup Syrup.

This preparation has been in use for over twenty-five years, and thousands of valuable lives have been saved. As a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, on the Chest, Bronchitis and Pneumonia it is without a peer, for children as well as adults. In Asthma, especially Hasten's disease, it greatly aids in cutting short the paroxysms and preventing their recurrence. B. & S. Homeopathic Cough and Croup Syrup does away with the necessity of resorting to all sorts of smoking syrups, which annually destroy so many little lives as this preparation the nerves. It assists nature in curing, or relieving all diseases of the respiratory organs, whether acute or chronic.

The above is for sale by all drug stores, or may be obtained direct from our

Wholesale and Retail Depot,

234 SUTTER STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

BOERICKE & SCHRECK.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Just received, carload 74 degrees double deodorized Red Eagle Brand Eastern Gasoline. The most economical in use. One gallon being equal to five quarts of ordinary Gasoline.

Call and see our Kitchen, where we have Stoves in Operation.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

OILS, GASOLINE AND STOVES, CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, LAMPS, TINWARE & HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

The Cheapest Place in Town—5c, 10c and 15c Counters.

OILS, GASOLINE AND STOVES A SPECIALTY

Trade Supplied.

Acme Oil and Lamp Co.,

No. 108 South Spring Street, Los Angeles.

P. S.—Ask your dealer and be sure you get Red Eagle Brand Gasoline. Use Acme Oil, weight guaranteed, 25 lbs. per can. fe19

LYONS'

NEW CARPET STORE

HAS JUST OPENED WITH AN

Elegant Stock of Carpets, LINOLEUMS, MATTINGS, ETC.

Being an exclusive Carpet Store, we are able to show all the latest styles. Give us a Call.

LYONS' CARPET STORE,

No. 116 West First Street, Los Angeles, Cal. fe26 1m

FRANK A. MILLER, Proprietor. ALICE R. MILLER, Manager.

HOTEL PALOMARES

POMONA, CAL.

This elegant and complete Resort Hotel will be open to the public on

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23D,

The house is constructed with all modern improvements, gas, electric bells etc

FIREPLACES A SPECIALTY.

PURE WATER, the Great Requisite in Securing Health,

Piped Directly from Flowing Artesian Wells.

GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY! FINE DRIVES!

de24 1m

Electric, Medicated, Sulphur, Turkish

STEAM AND RUSSIAN BATHS.

The Bath Department in Dr. Robbins' Electro-Magnetic Institute

Cor. First and Spring Streets, Entrance on First Street,

Is Now Open for the Public.

The Baths are under the supervision of a thorough physician, and are excellent for cleansing purposes and curing cold, rheumatism, paralysis and general debility. Persons attended to by first-class shampooers of their own sex. Office Hours—8 till 8.

Single baths, $1; six tickets for $5.

Patients treated skillfully by Electric, Medical and Magnetic treatments. fe3

FOR SALE--WILLOWDALE,

San Gabriel, near Pasadena, adjoining Governor Stoneman, R. T. Smith and S. Richardson. Can be bought at a price that will yield a fine interest on the investment. The place has 17½ acres of land. Good house of nine rooms, and bath, newly and completely furnished and handsomely papered and decorated. Dairy, woodshed, good stone room, barn, corrals and chicken house. Several springs with abundance of water for irrigating. Water stored in three reservoirs and piped throughout the grounds. Reservoirs stocked with carp 7 years old. Semi-tropical and deciduous fruits in full bearing; 4000 Mission grapes, 32 years old; 1600 Muscat, Muscatel, Zante currant, Black Hamburg, Fleming Tokay and Sweetwater, 8 years old; 3500 Rhine Riben 3 years old; 500 seedling orange trees (Wilson's best) 16 years old; 80 budded orange trees; Navel and Mediterranean Sweet, 6 years old; 25 lemon, 10 lime, 50 peach, 30 apple, 15 pears, 20 plum-granados, 20 loquats, 22 quince, 10 figs; also almonds, cherry, nectarine peaches, guavas, Mandarin orange, English walnut, citron, guava, blackberry, pineapple, bananas, asparagus, and bamboo 2½ acres in alfalfa. Large five oaks, sycamore and willow trees adorn the place. Everything ready for wood, and all the necessary farming implements, carpenter's tools, etc. This elegant property is near San Gabriel Mission foothills, commanding a fine view. Apply to J. G. ELLIS on the premises. jan3 1m

ROSES ROSES

NEW VARIETIES. STANDARD SORTS.

Wm. F. Bennett, La France,

Sunset, Etc., Etc. Bon Selene, Etc.

Large Fine Stock. Send for price list to

A. C. WEEKS, San Gabriel P. O.

Nurseries, Alhambra Tract. de31 3m

Koster's Bakery,

Ice Cream, Coffee & Oyster Parlors

ARE THE

HANDSOMEST IN THE STATE.

Hollenbeck Block,

SPRING STREET. oct1

KERCKHOFF, CUZNER MILL AND LUMBER CO

DEALERS IN

LUMBER, DOORS, BLINDS,

WINDOWS, MOULDINGS, LATH, PICKETS, SHINGLES.

Corner Alameda and Macy Streets, Los Angeles, Cal.

HAVE THE LARGEST STOCK IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA OF EASTERN HARDWOODS such as OAK, HICKORY, ASH, WALNUT and POPLAR, which we sell at San Francisco prices. Also PARQUETRY FLOORING, made of MAHOGANY, ROSEWOOD WALNUT and ASH, in a variety of patterns. ma19

Wholesale & Commission Dealers in California Green & Dried Fruits.

RAISINS, ORANGES, NUTS, HONEY, BEANS, PRODUCE, ETC.

405 and 410 Davis Street, San Francisco, Cal.

ESTABLISHED 1863. INCORPORATED 1885. ja25f

BOYS AND GIRLS.

Concluding Chapter of the Crow Chronicles.

HOW MABEN HAD HER WAY AND SANG.

And the Consternation that was Caused Thereby—Grace and Charlie Write Three Nice Letters.

Mrs. Crow's Concert.

(Concluded.)

To spell wraps the birds went flying,
Few live a minute or two Before sort breezes sighing—
The wind's pretty crowd.

For Bobbie Redbreast flew along,
Looking for worms all the way,
And the robin and the rosee
Could not make her spirits gay.

For she missed while she was flying,
It is right for us to go,
We never she heard singer?—
But wait, Bobbie Mrs. Or wi

For the Bobolink beside her
Really was to have some fun,
And the coral flaws was aching
Just to have it begun.

For the merry Thrush said softly,
When she comes to do her best,
Note that she will surprise us,
I will go with all the rest.

And the Nightingale that singeth
Late in the woods at even—
Thought the starry dusk is driven,

Had a tender thought of pity,
For the Crow, within her heart,
And she said, "I can also help her,
I will surely do my part."

Then the Oriole and Canary,
And the brown Thrush swept along,
And the Sparrow Lark, that rising,
Paved the morning skies with song—

And the blinking Owl, his eyelids
Preparing to shut out the light,
And the Rose, proud and haughty,
Flew with swift, impatient flight.

And the Rocking Bird, that singer
Whose words breast is full of song—
He's held within the forest
But went with Mr. Crow along.

A what lovely spot for concert,
Right behind, the hillside climb,
Covered, tree-wreathed, sprinkled over
The with wealth of eglantine.

And the beech ran liquid silver,
And the meadows shone with light,
Starred with daisies and with cowslips,
And lilies of the valley white.

For away the forest wandered,
For away the meadows spread,
Green with sleeker swaying grasses,
By the brooks' silver waters fed.

And the sun raised golden brightness,
Flushing all the forest ground,
And the waters leaped and sparkled
To the notes of the wild sound.

Oh, flew for on before them,
And they followed in his wake;
Then singing choristers on their wings
A tune of glory make.

Out and green and widely spreading,
For its leafy curtain fair,
Up the hill the rising upward
Showed God-built temple there.

On its topmost limb sat waiting,
With a smile upon her face,
Crow in blackest feathers,
With an air of studied grace.

Though the oak was big and branching,
Scarcely was there room for all;
There were hundreds, from the Eagle
To the pesky Linnet small.

But at length they all were ready
For the concert to begin,
And Mrs. Crow, her feathers smoothing,
Stood up there at last to sing.

Such a trash fell on the forest,
I think you could have heard
If you the smallest little leaf
Had or a moment stirred.

"Caw, caw," sang Mrs. Crow, then stopped
As if to clear her throat.
Then spoke Robin Redbreast longed
To add one little note.

But she was mute, and all the birds
Sat silent in their place,
As on the Black Crow's down his chin,
And all with pleasure face.

Then Mrs. Crow began again—
"Caw, caw, caw," she said,
In harsh and so unmusical,
That unless "Caw, caw, caw."

Because to touch some other note,
Being the Robin's song,
Then such music as the Lark
Right in the ear of Morn.

Boldly "Caw, caw," could she sing,
Neither would alter;
So the Hawk laughed, and all the birds,
Amused and scornful, flutter.

And the bright sunshine overhead
Laughed softly through the shade,
And to the very echoes find
Into its discords that she made.

And Mr. Eagle, who I fear
Is ill-mannered bird,
Sat amused with laughter, and Mrs. Crow
Is heartily passion stirred.

So she down at him from her perch,
And sought to peck his face,
But Mr. Crow he seized her wing,
And her to her place.

"And now keep still, you shameless thing,"
He said aside to her,
"And don't you dare attempt to sing
Or from this bough to stir."

And then he turned unto the birds;
"I am ashamed," said he,
"Of this attempt by Mrs. Crow
Of birdlike minstrelsy.

"Perhaps I was not right to let
My wife this trial make,
And so I have to blame, I will
Your ready censure take.

"And I have striven, long with her,
From she in jealous mood
Is heard to have decried sing more sweet
Than all the bird choir could.

"I strove to teach her such as we
Can never made for song,
But for some other use, but she Declared that I was wrong.

"And friends, excuse her and forget
That Mrs. Crow stood up again,
And give to us a concert sweet
Before you go away."

Then Mrs. Crow stood up again,
With head and humble look,
As she was penitent and sad,
Where she took her place.

And then she spoke with downcast eyes,
And with a humbled tone,
"I hope you will forget, dear birds,
What I have done.

"And then henceforth I'll be content
Without to sing;
Content to fly above the woods,
Upon my wings, true wings.

"Content to caw, caw, to my mate,
And to my nestlings free,
And humbly with the upper air
Through all its paths with me.

"And as a sign you pardon this—
Fully and with weak,
I'll not sing for us
Before your humane you seek."

Then such a joyous twitter rang,
Through bending bough and leaf,
As glad, as softly musical
The Great forgot her grief.

And such a flood of glorious song
Rose from the bird choir there
As if the heaven sang too,
And all the rivers fair.

The humming echoes flew along
And hung it o'er again,
Through waters of the brook
And sang a sweet refrain.

Then that the Crow has always kept
Her place within the skies,
Filled with glad content she goes
Out, courting as she flies.

Like to hear her as she sails
Far above my head,
While her black wings outspread.

Caw, caw, o'er summer woods in June
Another fields she flies,
And happy always, never still
But, caring through the sk es.

ELIZA A. OTIS.

Well now, the little folks did not all forget me, did they? Here are two letters already for the children's column. Let us see what they are:

DEAR A. G. O.: I like your crow story very much. I live in Los Angeles, and get the SUNDAY TIMES. I like it so much its a story book. I've got a parrot. She is very funny. She says when she steals sugar, "Set a thief to catch a thief." Then we laugh, and she laughs, too. We have got a big black cat. She sometimes sits in the window. She is sitting in the window now. I don't think of anything more.

CHARLIE.

Thank you, Charley. This is a very nice letter that you have written, and I hope that we shall hear from you again. I had a pussy once that was very cunning. She was a little gray kitten, and she used to lie in the sunshine, and roll up like a little round ball. We had a rooster with whom she was a great pet. He used to go and lie beside her in the warm sunshine, and stand by her when she was eating her bread and milk, and would not allow the hens to come near to steal her food. And he would never take any himself until she was through. Then, if she left any, he was not slow to eat it, and when he was done they would walk off together as contented and happy as well could be.

And here is another letter from some of the dear little readers of the TIMES. We will all read it:

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—Dear E. A. O.: I think it a fine plan to have the children write letters for the Boys and Girls column. I will try and write you a letter. Your crow story makes the life of the birds seem a good deal like the way we live. I have thought more about the crow than I ever did before. I used to see them in New England when I lived there, flying up over so high in the blue sky—higher than the tops of the highest trees. I used to like to hear them caw, caw. I saw an eagle once. He was a big fellow and he had carried off a lamb. I read once about an eagle carrying off a little baby to his nest away up on the rocks of a high mountain—one of the Alps, and how the baby's mother climbed up and up till she reached the eagle's nest and got her baby. It was all safe, wrapped up in its blanket. I'm glad we don't have eagles in Los Angeles.

GRACE.

You have done beautifully, Grace, and I shall be very glad to hear from you again. I am glad that you like the story of the crow. You will see that Mrs. Crow did not turn out so very badly in the end. She learned that she was not made to sing the sweet songs of the robin, and so was content in the sphere for which she was made. If we could all learn that lesson—that we each have a place of our own to fill, and have our work to do, and learning what that work is, do it cheerfully and well, we should be wiser and happier.

But our column is full, so good-bye little friends. E. A. O.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

Causes of Consumption.—After a study of nearly 12,000 cases, Dr. Hermann Brehmer, an able German physician, rejects the theory of the contagiousness of pulmonary consumption. He finds the disease to be due to deficient nutrition of the lungs, which may result from various antecedent causes, such as inherited defects of constitution, and vital organs impaired by disease, injury, or mode of living. He believes that the operation of all these causes may produce such changes that it may be possible—years, even decades, in advance—to predict with great probability which members of a given family will be afflicted with pulmonary consumption, and which will remain healthy.

The generation of heat by friction has been applied in England to the production of a friction still, with which survivors of shipwrecks may obtain steam and fresh water from sea-water without the aid of fire.

Statistics are said to show that over ninety per cent. of mad dogs are retrievers, or animals so-called, and that mongrels are much more liable to hydrophobia than dogs of pure breed.

A comparative statement of the death-rate in England and Wales in the two decennial periods 1871–1880 and 1861–1870 has just been published, and shows a decrease of 1100 deaths a year in each million inhabitants. The deaths from diphtheria and fevers supposed to be due to unhealthy surroundings were greatly reduced in number.

Elephant Intelligence.—The author of "Two Years in the Jungle," Mr. Hornaday, defends the elephant from the charge that its sagacity is of a very mediocre description, and its reasoning faculties are far below those of the dog and possibly other animals. He declares it to be the most intelligent of all animals. "A horse," he remarks, "which will promptly back at the word of command, or a dog that will bark or stand on its hind legs when told to do so, is considered quite accomplished; but in India any well-trained elephant, at a word or touch from his driver, who sits astride his neck, will hand up, feed, speak (trumpet), salaam (salute with his trunk), stop, back, lie down, pull down an obstructing branch, gather fodder and hand up to his attendant, turn or lift a log, or drag it by taking its drag-rope between his teeth. He will also protect his attendants or attack a common enemy with fury. * * * Contrast with this the performances of our most intelligent breed of dogs, the pointer. Even when young and trained under the most favorable circumstances, they are at best but capable of being taught a few things, as to 'go on,' to 'charge,' to go in a given direction, and retrieve."

A race of hairless Americans is threatened. It has been estimated that already one-half the adult men of American birth living in our cities are bald, and baldness is extremely liable to be propagated in the male line, and to appear a little earlier in each successive generation.

It is computed that a twelve-inch wall of hard-burned bricks and good lime and sand mortar could be built 1600 feet high before the bottom layers would be crushed. If Portland cement were added to the mortar, the height might reach 2700 feet.

The germs which give rise to malarial fever have been found by two Italian physiologists.

Water-Absorbers of Plants. — The adaptations with which plants are provided for making the most of the water that comes to them in the form of rain or dew are thus classified by Landstrom, who has made much recent study of special investigation: Depressions, in the form of leaf-cups or of grooves in the epidermis; hair formations, in tufts or borders; hydroscopic membranes, as spots or stripes on the epidermis; and anatomical adaptations, such as water-absorbing textures and swelling glands. None of these features are found in the submerged parts of plants.

Lunar Influence on the Compass.—In a communication to the Meteorological Society of Austria, M. G. Ligner has described the remarkable discovery that the moon has an influence on a magnetized needle. The phenomenon is said to be more prominent when the moon is nearest to the earth, and to be very marked when she is passing from the full to her first or second quarter. The disturbance reaches a maximum when the moon is in the plane of the equator, and is greater during the southern than the northern declination.

Layers of stone containing some of the supposed human foot-prints lately found near Lake Managua, in Nicaragua, have been sent to the Vienna Natural History Museum. The stone is a volcanic tufa, and the impressions are extremely sharp and distinct, and, if genuine foot-prints, prove the existence of man in Central America at a very remote period.

The Paris Horticultural Congress, to open in May, is to discuss, among other questions, the influence of the age of seeds on the quality and quantity of the plants they produce, and the possibility of cultivating other mushrooms than the common edible variety.

The tuberose is now cultivated extensively as a field plant in Natal, South Africa, and so favorable is the climate that flowers in open air may be had every month in the year.

Every Woman Should.

"I hear of a woman of fashion, says London Truth, "who has ordered a dress to be trimmed with canaries. It would be well if the crack-brained votaries of such detestable innovations were to be boycotted in society. If any woman tries the experiment of going to court ornamented with singing birds, I will venture to predict that she will be ignominiously turned back, as the Queen strongly objects to all such barbarities."

Forty Years Ago.

The sea gives up its dead sometimes in a peculiarly tragic way. Portions of a wreck have been washed ashore on the coast of Maine which have been identified as the remnants of a ship that went down with all on board over forty years ago.

HOUSE AND HOME.

Well-Lighted Houses and Plenty of Sunshine.

A PICTURE OF BEAUTY FROM THE KITCHEN

A Batch of Recipes—Home-Made Candy—Yeast and Bed Spreads—A Rug Craze.

I was out over the cable line one day last week, enjoying the beauty of the green hills, noting the improvements made, and going through some of the fine new houses recently erected in that part of the city. I noted one most desirable feature in many of these houses—they were well lighted. The sides of the rooms have broad and high windows, and at the ends are generous bay or octagon windows, affording a many-sided outlook towards mountain and sea, towards town and the green and beautiful hills. I am growing more and more in favor of many windows in a house—and such as give a generous outlook into the world beyond the walls of our homes. Sunlight in our homes is essential to health, and no less essential to cheerfulness, and these wide visions of the outer world which come to us through spacious windows, enter into our daily thoughts and dwell with us even in the midst of our every-day cares and duties. The matter-of-fact work of dishwashing may have a little poetry in it if your table or sink is near an open window through which you may glance, from time to time, as your hands are busy, at green fields and nodding flowers; at trees and hills, and the infinite blue sky. One with the least bit of imagination, even, is apt to work mechanically while the thoughts are busy with all that are suggested by the beauty before it. But if you want to grow dull, impatient, and carry all the time the consciousness of your burdens, shut yourselves up in dark rooms. I do not care how elegantly the rooms may be furnished, if you cannot look abroad from out them into God's great world, your thoughts will grow narrow, and your life will feed upon itself.

That old theory of many housekeepers and house-builders, that it doesn't matter much what the kitchen is like, is all a mistake. When I build a house my kitchen shall be one of the best lighted rooms in it. It shall open, too, on pleasant grounds—on a green lawn, and the back sides of barns, chicken houses and woodsheds shall not be allowed to stare in at me through the kitchen door.

The housekeeper who does her own work, either through choice or necessity, necessarily is compelled to spend a good deal of time in her kitchen. Her life will naturally take some of its tone from it. It should not be a dark and dingy room, half way underground, or fronting the cowshed or the barnyard. But it should open into a pleasant garden, with trees where the birds may come. I had a home once where that back door outlook was the pleasantest in the whole house. It was always like the voice of comfort to me, and its memory warms my heart today while its bird-music comes rippling up through the channels of memory. I could sing all day at my work then, and I wrote many a bit of verse in that sunny kitchen. What work I had to do in it I did not mind, for there was the beautiful lawn at my elbow, the gay flowers to look upon, and just the grandest bird choir in the world thronging the peach and apricot trees. Kitchen work was a new experience to me then, but I found so many charming accessories to it that I really began to enjoy it. That kitchen often made me think of Bunyan's Pilgrim Chamber of Peace.

***

Remembering the lady who wrote me not long since in regard to home-made candy, and thinking that she may have some little folks who are interested in candy-making, I will give her a new recipe that I came across today, which is said to be good:

"To two cups of granulated sugar, and one of boiling water, add one tablespoonful of butter. Boil till it readily candies when dropped in cold water. Then remove from the fire, and stir in nearly two cups of Brazil nuts, cut up small, and one tablespoonful of lemon flavoring. Pour out upon three large buttered plates to cool. Always use a silver spoon in stirring candy."

In "The Housekeeper" I find the following rule for Perfection Yeast: "Put one heaping teaspoon of meal in a teacup, add to this two tablespoonsful of new milk, a pinch of salt and one of soda; to this add boiling water until it is two-thirds full; stir well, cover and set in a warm place to rise (on the stove hodder is where mine puts hers). If set in the morning, it will be ready for use in the afternoon; but better set it in the afternoon, and next morning it is ready for use. It will be injured in the least by setting it away and using it any time, only don't let it remain long enough to sour. When used, the sponge will be very light, and after it is moulded into loaves it rises with railroad speed, and disagreeable odor, with salt rising.

Sarah Dundee, in the same journal, tells us how to make a dainty bed comforter: Cut a piece of double-width cheese cloth large enough to reach from the pillows to the foot of the bed. Put over this a layer or two of nice batting. Cover it with a piece of cloth like that underneath and catch it through and through in spots with blue zephyr or worsted parsed lightly, without drawing tight, and cut these loops left by the thread on the right side. If preferred, a strand or two of yellow can be added to the blue worsted; the general appearance will be that of daisies scattered over it. Besides being cheap and very soft looking, it makes a very useful addition to a bed and can be easily ripped up at any time and made over. The edges can be caught together by overcasting with worsted or binding with narrow ribbon.

A good many people have the rug craze, and really a supply of rugs is most desirable in the house. Another correspondent of the "Housekeeper," Jannet by name, makes these suggestions:

"I must tell you about our crazy patchwork rug. We used a coffee-sack for the foundation; the patches of black, brown, blue and grey cloth are sewn down lightly with black thread without being turned under, as for silk patchwork. The outlining and fancy stitches are done with bright colored knitting cotton, using a coarse needle and taking long stitches. On the larger pieces we appliqued some figures of animals."

Among the conceptions of the English vegetarians is what they are pleased to call "brown bread steaks," which are thus prepared: "A large slice of bread fried in very little butter; when turned, pour on the bread two beaten eggs, fry onion at the same time in a pan, to be used with steak if liked."

The shoulder piece of beef can be made into a tender and delicious dish by letting it cook in its own juice in the oven without a particle of water. A stone jar, with a tight-fitting cover (or a lid of plain dough), will keep in all the flavor and juices, and the tough fibres and gristle are softened by the mild heat. It must be put in three or four hours before dinner time. The heat that comes through the stone is very different from that of hot iron, and it is the slow action of the steady heat that makes a rich dish out of a cheap joint. I have often bought these pieces and found them tender and as delicious as the more expensive portions of beef. It is the cooking which determines whether the part shall be good or otherwise.

SUSAN SUNSHINE.

Homeopathic Physicians.

Dr. Kiger.

HOMEOPATHIST, NO. 14 N. SPRING ST. Chronic and private diseases receive special attention. fe9 1f

Theodore Koeberle, M. D.,

HOMEOPATHIC AND ELECTRO-HOMEOpathic physician. Office and residence At 125 Chestnut st., East Los Angeles. Treatment of diphtheria and diseases of children and ladies in general a specialty. Calls answered at all hours. fe5 1m

Dr. J. S. Owens,

HOMEOPATHIST AND SURGEON. MAKES a specialty of diseases of women. Also all forms of chronic diseases. Office hours 10 a. m. to 12 m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m. Office 16 Pantoffen block, rooms 6 and 7. Night calls answered at office. Telephone 192. mars-dkw-tf

G. H. BEACH, M.D. G. F. MOSS, M.D.

Drs. Beach & Moss.

HOMEOPATHIST. OFFICE, 45½ N. Spring st., over People's Store, Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 285. no19tf

E. A. Clarke, M. D.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, NO. 34 SOUTH Spring st., Los Angeles. Office hours, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Telephone 302. oct17

A. E. Wheeler, M. D.,

23 S. SPRING ST., ROEDER BLOCK. Hours—10 to 12 a. m., 1 to 4 p. m. ja11f

J. S. Mathers, M. D.,

HOMEOPATHIST—No. 227 Bill Street. Special attention paid to diseases of infants and children. Office hours—9 to 10 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m. Night calls promptly answered. au15 1f

Isaac Fellows M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIST—Office: Nos. 4 and 5 Odd Fellows' Building, Los Angeles, Cal. Office hours: 11 a. m. to 12 m.; 2 to 5 p. m. jy29 1f

DRS. COOK & BIRD,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIANS AND SURgeons. Office—Room 14, Nadeau Block

M. P. Chamberlin, M. D.,

LOS ANGELES, CAL. OFFICE AND RESidence, cor. Fark and Boyle aves., Boyle Heights. Office hours, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Obstetrics and diseases of women a specialty. ja8 1f

J. Mills Boal, M. D.

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office and residence, No. 39 N Spring street, over People's Store. Hours, 10 to 12 p. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. Office at Los Angeles Office, No. 58 Daly street. Hours, 10 to 12 a. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Telephone at both offices, No. 136. Special attention given to diseases of the throat and lungs. my21-1f

Dorothea Lummis, M. D., Homœopathist.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, 347 FORT ST. Office hours, 9 to 10 and 1 to 3. no20tf

A. S. SHORB M. D.,

HOMŒOPATHIST.—Office 126 N. Main St. Masonic Block; residence, 173 Spring St., Los Angeles. Office hours, 11 to 12 a. m., 1 to 4 p. m. Telephone Nos.—Residence 52, office 276. 110-1f

Eclectic Physicians.

J. C. Hill, M. D.,

ECLECTIC, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, in Office No. 28 S. Spring st., Rooder block. Residence 704 Sixth st. Office hours, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Will give special attention to the treatment of functional and organic diseases of the heart, and diseases of the nervous system. Calls promptly attended to, day or night. se20tf

Dr. J. Adams,

ECLECTIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON —In charge of Medical and Surgical Dispensary. Chronic diseases a specialty. Special attention given to the treatment of all female diseases, both medical and surgical. Office hours—10 a. m. to 12 m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12 a. m. Calls in the country promptly attended to, day or night. Office—270 N. Main st., opposite the St. Elmo Hotel. Residence, 1612 S. Main st. Telephone No. 393. au2 1f Dentists.

1883. —ESTABLISHED— 1883.

Dr. L. W. WELLS.

DENTIST, HAS REMOVED HIS office to 33 South Spring street, Rooder Block. Practiced 25 years. The best work at moderate prices. Teeth extracted without pain. Special attention paid to filling teeth. d1-tf

Dr. S. H. Tolhurst, Dentist.

PAINLESS EXTRACTION BY VITALIZED air. Filling, regulating and plate work warranted perfect and at Eastern prices. ROOM 3, OVER POSTOFFICE. d19 dkw

Dr. C. V. Baldwin,

DENTIST—PRACTICED TWENTY YEARS East. Rooms 11 and 12 Widney block, 21 First st., between Main and Spring. se12 tf

H. E. Smith,

DENTIST, NO. 40 N. SPRING ST., WILcox block, Los Angeles. se10 1f

Specialists.

Dr. Wong,

THE WELL-KNOWN AND WELL-LIKED Chinese physician has returned from his visit to China, and invites his old patients and as many new people to consult him and try his remedies. 125 Upper Main st. fe21 6t Clairvoyant.

MRS. E. M. ROBBS, PHRENOLOGIST, teacher and cure, Mosher Block, 39 S. Main street, over People's Store. Hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Examinations, health and business in life. Will give phrenological readings from photographs and send chart. Price for each mail $2. fe13 1m

MRS. C. E. BOURCY, M. D.

HAS HAD TWENTY-SIX YEARS' PRACtice, and gives all attention to Female Diseases. Has cured hundreds of chronic cases, and can furnish the best of references. Consulting rooms especially will be promptly attended to at all hours. Ladies suffering from piles can be permanently cured by calling on me at my office, No. 117 W. First st. Hours from 9 to 5. Residence corner of Montreal and Bellevue. d jy13 1f w my17 tf

Dr. J. N. Baratta.

ITALIAN PHYSICIAN, MAKES A SPECialty of all Chronic diseases. CONSULTATION FREE. Can be consulted at McDaniel's rug store between 4 and 5 p. m., at residence, Orange ave., below Washington Gardens, from 10 to 12 a. m. fe7

Dr. E. A. de Gailhol,

OCCUPATION, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON —Office and residence, 210 Temple street. Special attention given to the treatment of chronic cases and the diseases of women and children. au28 tf

Doctor Wong Him,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON—The greatest Chinese Doctor. May be consulted at all hours and cures Consumption, Diseases of the Head, Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Blood, etc. Office No. 117 Upper Main st., Los Angeles. P. O. Box 562. jun10

Mrs. Lonzberg,

TEST AND BUSINESS MEDIUM. HOURS, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. 58 Clay st., between Hill and Olive sts., near Fourth st.

Teachers.

Night School.

BOOKKEEPING, PENMANSHIP AND Arithmetic thoroughly taught at room 24, Bellanacar block. L. B. LAWSON Principal. fe9 1m

LOS ANGELES

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, No. 406 South Main street, near Fifth. Every advantage for a complete musical education. Elocution, art and modern languages by superior teachers.

MRS. E. J. VALENTINE. de4 1m

Lock box 650.

Prof. A. J. Stamm,

ORGANIST IN THE CATHEDRAL, teaching the violin, organ and piano in the highest branches of artistic playing. Terms reasonable. 113 N. Hill st., Los Angeles.

Mrs. N. Catching,

INSTRUCTION GIVEN IN VOCAL, PIANO and Guitar Music. Careful attention is given to voice culture. Sixteen years experience in teaching. Apply to Mrs. N. CATCHING, 307 Temple st. au19 1f

Jewelers.

James Montgomery,

PRACTICAL WATCHMAKER AND Jeweler, 22 South Spring street (in Niles Pease & Co's new store). Special attention paid to fine watch repairing, in all its branches. All work intrusted to my care will be done promptly, carefully, and with the best quality of materials. No better work can be done anywhere; charges always moderate; ordinary watches cleaned for $1.50, all which work warranted for one year; jewelry of every description made to order in the newest designs and neatly repaired. A good stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and spectacles on hand at very close prices. fe2 dkwtf Miscellaneous Orders.

Magnolia Division, No. 21.

MEETS EVERY FIRST AND THIRD Tuesday evening of each month in Pythian Hall, in uniform, for drill. By order of P. MARSH, S. K. C.

J. T. RICHARDSON, S. K. Recorder.

Loan Office.

STAR LOAN & BROKERS' OFFICE

NO. 6 COMMERCIAL STREET, advances money on, also buys and sells, all kinds of personal property, watches, jewelry, pistols, guns, etc. All transactions strictly confidential. fb9 tf

Physicians.

Elisabeth A. Follansbee, M. D.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, 210 S. FORT street. Office hours, 8 to 10 a. m. and 4 to 6 p. m. sp16tf

H. S. Orme, M. D.,

OFFICE, 120 MAIN ST., LANFRANCO Block, rooms Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Residence 187 Bunker Hill ave., near cor. Temple st. Telephone, office 65, residence 306. ja10tf

Dr. A. J. Arbeely,

LATE PRACTICING PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon in Washington, D. C. Office, No. 216 Second st. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. Residence, 142 S. Olive st. no25 1m

J. M. Hagan.

OFFICE COR. SECOND AND SPRING. Residence 547 Spring. no16 4m

A. F. Darling, M. D.,

OCULIST AND AURIST. OFFICE HOURS, 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. Office, 120 N. Main street, Los Angeles, Cal. fe14 dkw 1f

W. G. COCHRAN, M.D. E. M. MAYNARD, M.D. 129 South Olive st. 26 Tenth st. Telephone 307. Telephone 307.

Drs. Maynard Cochran.

OFFICE OVER LOS ANGELES SAVINGS Bank. Hours, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Telephone (Mascarel block) 276.

OFFICE— RESIDENCE— 45 N. Spring St. 36 S. Fort St.

Dr. F. A. Seymour.

OFFICE HOURS—9 to 10:30 a. m.; 2 to 4 p. m.; 7 p. m. au5 1m

Dr. Huckins,

OFFICE, ROOMS 18, 19, 20 AND 21, No. 17 North Main st. Hours—9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 4 p. m. Telephone 586; Answer day and night. Residence, Nadeau Hotel. Specialty of eye, ear and throat diseases. au1 1m Rebecca L. Dorsey,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. CONSULtations in English, German and French. Office, rooms 17 and 18, Nadeau block. Hours —2 to 11 a. m., 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. fe3 1m

M. Metcalf, D.,

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO CHEST, venereal and skin diseases. Rooms 8 to 12 Bryson block, 29 and 31 S. Spring st. ja21 1m

WALTER LINDLEY, M.D. W. EDGAR LINDLEY, M.D. Office hours 2-4 p.m. Office hours 10-12 a.m.

Drs. Lindley & Lindley,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, 216 S. FORT st. Telephone 65. ja15 1f

Julia Wellman Urmy, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE and residence 28 Buena Vista st., near Temple st. Hours—11 to 12 and 1 to 3. fe15tf

Dr. J. P. Widney,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE, Widney Block, First street, between Main and Spring. Office hours: 11 to 12 a. m., 2 to 4 p. m. Residence, 321 South Hill street. Telephone—Office, 59. House, 593. no12 tf

Dr. Chas. A. H. de Szigethy,

LOS ANGELES, CAL. RESIDENCE, FRARI Tower, corner Ninth. Office, Temple Block opposite Postoffice, Rooms 20 and 21. Office hours, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 8 p. m., at residence. Telephone No. at office and residence, 169. Day and night calls answered. ja13 1f

M. Hilton Williams, M. D.,

M. C. P. S. O.—No. 278 North Main st. (next Diamond House). Office hours from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Specialty—Diseases of the HEAD, THROAT and CHEST, including the EYE, EAR and HEARING. oct1 1f

Mrs. Dr. Minnie Ellis,

RESIDENCE, 341 SPRING ST.—Office hours from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Ladies can rely on being treated with skill and delicacy. Calls promptly attended. au30

Architects.

W. R. Norton,

ARCHITECT, 21 AND 22, NADEAU Block. de18tf

Archit

LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.
PUBLISHED
EVERY DAY EXCEPT MONDAY,
BY THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.
PROPRIETORS.
H. G. OTIS, H. H. BOYCE
Office: Temple, Main and New High Sts (Principal entrance, 9 Temple st.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
IN ADVANCE. POST PAID.
One copy, one year $7 50
One copy, six months 4 00
One copy, three months 2 00
PAYABLE INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.
Delivered by Carrier at 20 cents per week, or 85 cents per month.

WEEKLY EDITION (THE MIRROR).
One copy (8 pages), one year $2 00
One copy, six months 1 00
INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

SUBSCRIBERS, when writing to have their address of their paper changed, should also state the former address.
CORRESPONDENCE solicited from all quarters. Timely local topics and news given the preference. Use one side of the sheet only, write plainly, and send real name for the private information of the Editor.

THE "TIMES" IN SAN FRANCISCO.
The TIMES may hereafter be found on sale at the Palace Hotel News Company's stand, Palace Hotel, San Francisco.

Entered at the Los Angeles Postoffice as second class matter.

The Times.

EIGHT PAGES.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1886.

An Epidemic of Bribery.

Recently, in the city of New York, a gentleman who has heretofore occupied a very high position in society, a soldier of honorable fame, a man whose reputation as a citizen was regarded as unblemished—General Shaler—was placed on trial under a criminal indictment, charged with having accepted a bribe in connection with a transaction growing out of official duty. His trial came to naught only because one stubborn juror stood out against conviction. In the same city several of the aldermen stand charged with having received money in consideration of valuable privileges extended to Jake Sharp's Broadway Surface Railway Company. In Detroit the action of certain aldermen is to be made the subject of an investigation by the Grand Jury. In Ohio a distinguished Senator is charged with having procured his seat by improper influence.

In Illinois, and particularly in the city of Chicago (says the Inter Ocean), the subject is not new, and if it were it fit one to boast of, our contemporary thinks Chicago might present as fair a showing as any other section or locality. The laws defining bribery, as well as the extent of the punishment meted out, differ somewhat in the different States, but it is about as difficult to reach the offender under one statute as another. But there is little doubt that the evil they are intended to reach is greatly on the increase.

Both the giver and the receiver of a bribe, it is to be presumed, are pledged to the strictest secrecy, and any revelation of their plans would be as dangerous in its results to one party as to the other. The knowledge of this aids in maintaining secrecy.

But aside from this, the devious means adopted in carrying out such nefarious transactions usually baffles the most skilful expert in its efforts to discover any positive proof of wrong doing. Irregularities of this kind are not confined to any particular State, locality or department, nor is any uniform system adopted to accomplish such unlawful ends. The offender can readily adjust his tactics to the occasion. In New York it is alleged the scheme was to employ a third party, yclept "Johnny," a saloon-keeper, to badger the aldermen and make bets with them. For example, he wagered the aldermen $20,000 against a new hat that they did not dare vote for the measure. Of course Johnny lost the bet and the measure passed. The matter is now being investigated by a State Senate Committee. There is danger that the press, in its endeavors to deal with the subject—to denounce speculating from a proper desire to be sure of its ground before openly preferring grave charges—and in the timidity it often displays in treating of bribery at all, may unconsciously err, and in this way not only fail in the discharge of a duty it owes to the public, but unwittingly encourage such unlawful schemes.

The rule of action or of human conduct which is laid down by the lawmaker needs to be faithfully followed by him who originates it. Integrity and independence are the cardinal virtues that should mark his course of conduct, not being led by social influence, blinded by prejudice, or having his sensibilities blunted by a desire to pander to public opinion.

In our day evidences of such dishonor have yet proved comparatively few. Human nature, however, has not materially changed in its character in different ages, and this knowledge shakes our confidence. The existence of such abuses in the past may reasonably lead us to inquire to what extent such corrupt practices have increased, in order to guard against and prevent, if possible, a condition of things so pregnant with injustice and dishonor.

Too Dilatory.

The people in the Boyle Heights section of the east side have good reason to grumble at the dallance of the City Council in placing the Aliso avenue and First street bridges in a passable condition. While the Downey avenue bridge was reinstated within a week after the flood, the lower bridges referred to have remained untouched until within the past week, and will not be serviceable for perhaps a week to come. The Council seems to have halted between two opinions, having a mind at first to place another hundred-foot span on each bridge at the west end, and again to construct embankment approaches as before. The latter seems to be the prevalent opinion now. It seems that while the city authorities are hesitating about the width of the river, and the concurrent dilemma of the length of the bridges spanning it, the problem is likely to be worked out in a practical way by the railroad companies. The San Gabriel Valley people are extending a line of piles along the west bank, from their railroad bridge to the Downey-avenue bridge. With this line completed and planked and backed by the embankment, it is to be hoped an effectual resistance will be offered to the encroachments of the flood. If the Company then continues its bulkhead and embankment along the river front, in accordance with its franchise, the problem will be solved as it goes. The official margin of the river, the line allotted to the railroad company, will then be the correct bank. To suit this bank the bridges on Aliso avenue and First street should be reconstructed. That will end the whole difficulty, and the Boyle Heights people will no longer be obliged to exemplify the old saw that "the longest way round is the surest way home."

Prohibitory Legislation in Iowa.

There is an old saying that experience is the best guide. The Prohibitionists are, many of them, well-meaning people, and honestly believe that the only remedy for the evils of the liquor traffic is absolute prohibition. They denounce high license and all other palliative measures as delusions and snares. The State of Iowa has now for a considerable period had a strong prohibitory law. In order that there could be no possibility of a breakdown in the judicial machinery, prohibition was engrafted into the State constitution, and everything that could be done was done to make the law perfect. Prior to the adoption of the prohibitory ordinance, Iowa, like most of the States, had a license law. From liquor licenses, or rather from a direct tax on the liquor traffic, a considerable revenue was derived. When prohibition became the law this tax was done away with, and the State now assumes that there is no such thing as liquor selling within its limits. In order to ascertain for his own satisfaction what had been the effect of prohibitory legislation, a leading Prohibitionist recently made a canvass of a number of the principal cities, and, as a result, was much disappointed. His investigation showed that, in many cases, the number of saloons have trebled within the past two years, while the State has lost the benefit of the tax and the non-liquor-selling taxpayers have to bear the burden of expense of the increased crime and pauperism. The following are his figures, the first column showing the number of saloons in the principal cities before prohibitory legislation went into force; the second, the revenue derived from the tax under the license system; and the third, the number of saloons at present open and doing business:

Des Moines	60	$60,000	200
Dubuque	145	14,500	250
Davenport	138	20,000	196
Burlington	69	27,500	100
Council Bluffs	65	26,000	64
Sioux City	49	4,700	75
Cedar Rapids	33	13,400	100
Keokuk	30	14,800	47
Ottumwa	30	13,185	75
Ottumwa	22	22,000	43
Muscatine	22	None	25
Marshalltown	13	7,000	30
Creston	5		9
Waterloo	20		30
Iowa City	40	4,000	29
Fort Madison	17	4,000	20
Fort Dodge	4		13
Lyon	11		13
Oskaloosa	10	4,000	15
Boone	8	4,000	12
Totals	774		1,594

The investigator thinks that in many of the rural districts the prohibitory law has been of considerable benefit, but admits that the good results in the country do not over-balance the increased liquor selling in the cities. He is forced to conclude that prohibition in Iowa is a failure, and says that he can suggest no improvement to make the present law more effective. The whole matter lies with public sentiment, and in its large cities it is impossible to get the law enforced.

The above discouraging report is strongly in conformity with the statement made a few weeks ago in the TIMES regarding the success of the high license experiments in Illinois and other States. High license has proved to be the only restrictive measure at present practicable, and its opponents have evidently not given the other side sufficient consideration.

"Country Girls."

The unblushing effrontery of the English attorney in the Dilke case, who so boldly asserted that the criminal conduct of which his client was guilty was but "indiscretions of which no man was free," has been equaled here in Los Angeles by one of the counsel of E. J. Baldwin in his arraignment of California girls, and the large and respectable class of young women who are seeking to win an honest and independent livelihood as saleswomen in this city. The statement which this lawyer advanced at the jury, that "it is a peculiarity of the country girls here that they lose their virginity and never think anything of it," is an insult to the daughters of every home in this city, as well as to the thousands of homes throughout the country. The allegation is so shocking and sweeping as to take from it all semblance of truth or probability. Col. Howard overdid the business entirely. He could not possibly have measured his words deliberately or, meant what he said to be seriously taken as an expression of his matured conviction on the subject. We do him the justice to say this much. Certainly he must have a better opinion of his countrymen and countrywomen than he is credited with. If not, he is deserving of the severest condemnation.

Many indignant correspondents have written to the TIMES denouncing the statement and sentiment of Col. Howard, so derogatory to the honor and fame of our girls. We publish a number of these letters, and indorse the sentiments expressed. The daughters of American homes will never lack defenders.

Let's Have It All.

The TIMES published in its local columns yesterday a full report of the investigation by the Supervisors of the Hall jail-plans affair. While the developments are startling, we consider them by no means complete. We suspect that others, not now accused, are implicated. With witnesses testifying solely on their own volition, even though under oath, it can hardly be expected that they will make so clean a breast of matters as in a regular judicial investigation. Enough has been shown, however, to make it imperative that the matter be probed to the bottom. With the disclosures but half made, as they manifestly are, we do not feel warranted in assuming the guilt or innocence of any of the parties implicated, but, in a spirit of justice to guilty and innocent alike, we demand that the fullest possible light be shed on the matter. "Let justice be done though the heavens fall." If need be, let a grand jury be summoned, to institute a deep and searching investigation.

THE appreciation which some people have of fine works of art was shown the other day in a manner not to be mistaken. Two elegantly-attired ladies stopped before a window on Spring street where was displayed a fine painting, a picture so complete and true in all its details that Nature herself would scarcely hesitate to acknowledge it as her own. These ladies, with other passers-by, stood looking at it, and one of them at length remarked, "It's a lovely frame, isn't it?"

BROADBRIM.

The Sacredness of New York's Sunday Concerts.

HARRY HILL'S ENDURANCE OVERTAXED.

And the Sensation He is Making in the Police Force—Hints of Official Corruption.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, February 14, 1886.—"It was a slashing mill and lasted two hours and fifty minutes, being one of the gamest fights on record." This is the announcement, with leaded headlines, that one of the most influential New York dailies gives of one of the most disgraceful fights that has taken place in the city. Seventy-five men witnessed the battle, and fifty of them paid twenty-five dollars a ticket, and sat up all night in a miserable rookery in the slums. Most of the so-called gentlemen had handsome homes of their own with every luxury that a reasonable person could wish, or were quartered at our nobbiest hotels. Yet they were willing to forego the comfort and respectability of their own homes, pay twenty-five dollars for a ticket, and run a sharp chance of a year in the penitentiary, and all for the pleasure of seeing two brutes pound each other to a mummy. In the particular battle spoken of, one of the brutes got his jaw and his nose broken, which disfigures him frightfully for life, and received as a compensation for his hurts two hundred and fifty dollars; and his brutal backers or seconds robbed him of two-thirds of that. I was in hopes, after Sullivan's disgraceful fiasco, a year and a half ago, that men were done with prize fighting in New York; instead of which, there never was a time in our history, not even when the thugs ruled the city forty years ago, when prize fighting and its concomitant brutalities oppressed us so much as now. Only two Sabbaths ago, while the church bells were ringing, in a barn not three hundred yards from Dr. Talmage's Tabernacle a battle was being fought—which was only decided just before the congregation sang the doxology. And right here I am reminded of a conversation which I heard in a street-car. Two gentlemen were conversing about the very large sum of money which a prominent politician laid out in a late escapade, and which brought him to the verge of bankruptcy, so that he could not pay his tailor. "Yes," said one of the gentlemen, "our vices are cash, but our virtues have to go on credit;" and so even our police sustained, at an expense of three or four millions of dollars annually, prey upon the haunts of vice, and levy blackmail upon criminals as the price of their countenance and protection.

The keeper of a low den, not a hundred yards from the police headquarters, and on the same block with the Excise Commission, is refused a license. Prize-fighters, cracksmen, pickpockets and harlots have resorted to his den for years. The man has made a fortune out of the criminal classes; he has kept himself and his place constantly before the public for years, through the columns of the Police Gazette, or some of the sensational Sunday papers, and only this week he gets a respectable coat of whitewash from a leading metropolitan journal, whose circulation is said to be over 300,000. He was a legitimate subject for blackmail, and is a splendid illustration of that homely adage of Burns's, that "The best laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft-a-gley." Mr. Harry Hill thought he had a friend on the police on whom he could rely, in the time of trouble, as he had been transferred to his district. But Mr. Hill soon found out that there is no friendship in business and that his new friend was ten times worse than his old enemy. The precinct shelters a larger criminal class than any other in New York, and if they all paid at the same liberal rate for their police protection that Mr. Hill did, it is not at all astonishing that police captains grow rich, and that the position of an ordinary ward detective sometimes is worth a prince's ransom. Harry Hill stood bleeding like a stuck-pig, while the checks ranged from fifty to a hundred dollars. He had taken his punishment in the P. R. and never squealed; in fact, he rather liked it; but when they struck him for $500 at a clip, flesh and blood could stand it no longer; and now our police department is turned upside down at the shameful revelation of official dishonesty and villainy. It comes most opportunely just after the trial of General Shaler for bribery, who for the present appears to have escaped the terrible consequences of his offense by the pig-headed obstinacy of a single juror.

Some months ago I recorded the case of a wealthy German who ran away with the wife of his nephew. This nephew eventually sued his uncle, and recovered $5000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affections. Divorce proceedings were begun at once, and then the uncle married his niece. Against this disgraceful act the whole family rose in rebellion. He had six children by his first wife, the oldest thirty-three and youngest nineteen, and they were all in court this week against their amorous old father. Some years ago he gave his daughter a mortgage on a house which he possessed, with the understanding that it was not to be recorded, but after his row with his family he disinherited all his children, and settled his property on his niece-wife. Then the daughter recorded the mortgage, and the children have to live it out as best they can. Another case of the kind is that of Mrs. Dexter Horton, of Seattle, who has left her husband and run away with the Rev. Mr. Hill, a Congregational minister. Mrs. Horton is a daughter of Judge Lewis, of Olympia, and a sister of Mrs. Governor Squire. She has left a husband and two children, and has gone off with a man who has a wife and children. Mr. Hill has resigned his pastorate, and the two have gone to Portland, Oregon, where they will live in single blessedness. Mr. Horton is a millionaire, and his wife will have no trouble in getting a divorce and marrying again. Mr. Hill's wife is a poor woman, and will have a hard time of it. Mr. Hill is a man of fine presence, and a good preacher, and has a large following. He is a Mormon convert, and has been preaching in Utah for the past two years. He has been married twice, and has children by both wives. His first wife died in Utah, and he married his present wife there. She is a Mormon convert, and has been preaching in Utah for the past two years. She has been married twice, and has children by both husbands. Her first husband died in Utah, and her second husband is living in Salt Lake City. Mr. Hill's

XCURSION

—AND—

ND AUCTION SALE

day, February 23rd, 1886, rt of Pasadena, of Villa and Homestead Lots

THE DR. CONGAR TRACT.

spot is all set out in 10-year-old bearing orange and lemon trees, also bearing varieties of Muscat, Sultana and other table grapes, and is surrounded by the ces of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Carr, "Carmelita," Stanley P. Jewett, Superintendent of V. R. R.; Dr. Congar, "Arroyo Vista," and many other of these beautiful villa that magnificent and now world-renowned drive, Orange Grove Avenue. portunity seldom offered to purchase this class of property. Its situation, within of the postoffice, churches, schools, free public library and depot, can but commend restment and desirable spot for residence purposes. This large fine tract having great sacrifice by a syndicate composed of Messrs. P. M. Greene, Judge A. C. n, Esq., H. G. Bennett, Esq., and Ward Bros., all well-known Pasadenians, they public an opportunity of securing a choice residence site in Pasadena, without a ey. The orange and lemon trees are now loaded with lucious and golden fruit. he architect's hands for several first-class Queen Anne residences to be built on this ate.

ve Downey Avenue Bridge at 9:30 a. m. and return 4 p. m. Fine band of music train, and discourse popular airs on the ground during the sale.

ROUND TRIP TICKETS 50 CENTS.

e at Hirshfeld & Co.'s, Downey Block, 215 N. Main street, or at Railroad Depot. rkling Water piped to each lot direct from the Mountains.

meet the trains upon their arrival at Pasadena, conveying the excursionists, where everything will be in readiness to proceed at once with the sale. All llowed and credited upon their purchase the cost of their fares or tickets. ny weather due notice will be given of date of postponement.

CH WILL BE AMPLY SERVED ON THE GROUNDS.

all further information apply to

BROTHERS' Loan and Insurance Office,

Postoffice Block, Fair Oaks Avenue, Pasadena, show you the property at any time, or

J. BELL, Auctioneer, 126 Nadeau Block, Los Angeles.

fel4td

hland Home.

T. E. ROWAN,

NO. 114 NORTH SPRING STREET,

Real Estate and Commission Agent

AND NOTARY PUBLIC.

FOR SPECULATORS

OR A RICH MAN!

$10,000 One-half cash, and balance on reasonable terms, will buy a handsome, improved block of land on Downey avenue, having a frontage of 300 feet and a depth of 568 feet. The grounds are all planted throughout in bearing orange trees and vines, all healthy—No scale Bugs. Over $3500 has been expended on water improvements, the land having an abundance of water, and more than sufficient pressure to cover all portion of the tract. The above is one of the finest locations in the city for a First-class Hotel or Residence, being on the Central street car line and nearly under the Electric Light Mast, or can be subdivided into twenty handsome residence lots.

☞ Must be sold at once, on account of departure of owner.

FOR A FINE RESIDENCE!

Block 5, Orange Slope Tract.

Containing 9 32-100 acres on Magnolia avenue. The view is simply superb, and only one and one-half miles from the Courthouse. This fine piece of property can be bought for $3000.

Fifty Lots in the Park Tract,

East Los Angeles, on the installment plan. Price from $100 to $250. Near the 30 acre City Park. Will be worth $500 in less than one year.

10 Orange Groves and Vineyards,

All bearing. Ten acres each. Adjoining the city limits on the south. City water on the land. Price $350 to $550 per acre.

For a First-class Investment

We would call your attention to

320 ACRES OF LAND

Lying between San Gabriel Depot and Savannah, on the line of S. P. R. R.

ONLY EIGHT MILES FROM THIS CITY.

And in the favorite locality. 100 acres of this land is in fruits and vines, all bearing, and of the best kind. The balance is all in grain, looking fine. The land has on it two of the best wells in the county for quality and quantity. 6000 gallon tank full all of the time. Water can be had at any point on the land at from 30 to 50 feet. Baldwin and Rose, owners of the adjoining land, have artesian wells from 80 to 100 feet deep. Every foot of this land is first class, and can be bought at the low price of $70 per acre, all or a part. And for further particulars call at office of de20 15t No. 114 North Spring Street.

T. E. ROWAN,

LEWIS & BARD, Proprietors. T. J. McDERMOTT, Sole Agent.

Fruit Trees! 90000 Fruit Trees

THE LARGEST STOCK IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Our immense stock of choice Fruit Trees, Apples, Pears, Plums and Prunes, Peaches, Nectarines, Cherries, Apricots, Figs, Walnuts and Almonds, Rooted Grape Vines, Cuttings, etc., cannot be equaled in Southern California. We warrant all our stock to be shipped free from scale or aphis. We have nothing in particular to do with San Jose fruit trees or locally grown trees. Our trees are all grown in FRESNO. Our imported stock of choice Japanese Persimmons, Camellias, Daphne, Grafted Chestnuts, Lilies, Roots, etc., and Tree Peonies are fashionable. Ornamental and Flowering Plants of all kinds, etc.

Per 1000, $15. 250,000 BLUE GUMS AND MONTEREY CYPRESS transplanted in boxes at lowest rates.

☞ We most cordially invite an inspection of our stock before purchasing.

DEPOTS—No. 130 Fort street, between Second and Third, and No. 14 First street, near Main, and City Hall lot, Spring street, near Second.

Address T. J. McDERMOTT, Agent,

P. O. BOX 764. (Send for Catalogue.) LOS ANGELES, CAL.

fe9 26t

OTTO BROTHERS. M. C. McKOON

McKOON AND BRODTBECK

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Land and Loan Agency

Collect Rents and Pay Taxes for Non-Residents

Branch Agencies in all the Principal Towns of Southern California.

No. 19 N. SPRING STREET

Opposite Post Office, Los Angeles, Cal.

SOLE AGENTS FOR INGLEWOOD LAND AND WATER COMPANY

Wholesale & Commission Dealers in California Green & Dried Fruits.

RAISINS, ORANGES, NUTS, HONEY, BEANS, PRODUCE, ETC.

408 and 410 Davis Street, - - - - - San Francisco, Cal.

ESTABLISHED 1865. INCORPORATED 1885. ja19tf

FOR SALE.

A Block on Main Street, between Fourth street and Ozier lane, 215.15 feet on Main street, 150 feet on Fourth to 20-foot alley, for $21,515. One hundred dollars per front foot. But little cash required. Possession after ninety days.

Two Lots on south side of Sand street, at corner Prospect place, 60x130 feet. Price $1150.

Choice Lots on the west side of Beaudry stret, 180 feet south of Cable Road, 60x155, to a 20-foot alley. $1000.

140 Acres of Land between San Rafael and Providencia ranch; last season in wheat; surface water near; fine soil, suited to grapes, apricots, etc.; nice bearing orchards and vineyards adjoining. Price for choice $35 per acre in 20 acre lots, net acres, no roads sold; terms, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, at 8 per cent.

4000 Acres of land in Tejunga Rancho, at from $5 to $100 per acre; abundance of irrigation water, at 500 acres will have the first right to and all that is necessary for its use out of five-eighths of all the water of the ranch, the other three-eighths belonging to the Monte Vista settlement; $30 per acre of the price of the irrigable land will be left on the land, to be expended in improving the irrigation facilities. A flag station, at a convenient point on the Southern Pacific Railroad will be at once established. There is on the tract a beautiful cove in the foothills of 350 acres of irrigable land, surrounded by low hills, suitable for vines. This would make a beautiful place for a settlement.

Antelope Valley.—Choice selections out of twelve townships in Antelope Valley, in Los Angeles county, thirty-six miles due north of Los Angeles city, in lots of 160 acres or more, at six dollars per acre. Water is obtainable on all parts of the tract, in many places good wells of pure water being obtained at a depth of ten feet. The land is of every variety, from a heavy black soil to a chocolate gravel and sandy loam.

M. L. WICKS,

Rooms 1 and 4, Postoffice Block, Los Angeles City, Cal.

FOR SALE.

Town Lots of good size for sale at moderate figures. Come and see that everything desirable in Los Angeles county is not out of the reach of men of moderate means. Terms—One-third cash, one-third in two years, and one-third on or before five years, at 7 per cent interest. M. L. WICKS.

M. L. Wicks does not act as an agent, and generally can make terms and prices to suit the purchaser.

Several Hundred Acres of land two miles northwest of Orange at from $15 to $65 per acre. Irrigation right, about $12 per acre, in addition. Surface water at shallow depth. Examine this, as it is too far for me to look after, and is low priced.

40 Acres in the Puente Ranch, on the south side of the county road, extending to railroad. Fine chocolate soil, a beautiful building site, gentle slope to the south, water ditch to be hereafter constructed. Present price, $40 per acre.

Three Beautiful Lots on south side of Seventh street, slight elevation above the street, uniform slope to rear, size 60x141 feet to 16-foot alley. Price $700 for corner lot, $600 for inside lot.

My business is buying and selling real estate on my own account. I do not hold it for an advance, but sell it at what it will bring. I try to sell lower than others, as I buy only when I see a margin at the then current rates.

Call at the office, Nos. 1 and 4 Postoffice Block, if you desire to buy real estate. I am willing to sell, and I mean business.

M. L. WICKS,

Rooms 1 and 4 Postoffice Block, Los Angeles City, Cal.

FOR SALE.

The Lick Tract.—Come and investigate the Lick Tract. It adjoins Los Angeles city, contains twenty-four hundred acres, and equals anything in Southern California. It will be sold in lots of five acres or more at prices from forty to one hundred and fifty dollars per acre, with water. This is the choice of the county. Title perfect; a full abstract will be furnished with each lot sold.

I have beautiful lands adjoining Ontario at $80 per acre, water piped to the land.

I invite comparison of prices.

Nice ten-acre home, improved, in Orange, for $2400. Fine twenty-acre tract, improved, in Orange, for $5400.

Fine walnut orchard, vineyard and alfalfa place, 50 acres, for $3800, supposed to be worth $4000.

Manufacturing or Warehouse Location.—Five and a half acres of land on Mission street, south of and adjoining the tract of the Southern Pacific Railroad. The San Gabriel Valley Railroad will cross the east part of the tract. For sale reasonable.

A large number of first mortgages, balance on purchase money, on real estate, in sizes from $300 to $3500 each, for sale at a discount, so as to net 10 per cent per annum interest. Also one of $10,000 to net 9 per cent.

M. L. WICKS,

Rooms 1 and 4, Postoffice Block, Los Angeles City, Cal.

PACIFIC WAGON COMPANY.

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF

COLUMBUS BUGGIES,

OF OHIO.

The best goods in quality and style ever offered on this Coast.

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF

HENEY BUGGIES,

OF FREEPORT, ILL.

The favorite vehicle. Durable, stylish and easy driving.

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Emerson, Fisher & Co. Buggies,

OF CINCINNATI.

Thousands have been sold in Southern California. The best offered for the money.

Also a full line of spring wagons, and buckboards. Top Buggies from seventy-five dollars to two hundred and fifty dollars. We will sell as cheap as any other house on the Pacific Coast.

No. 303 North Main Street, Los Angeles.

J. R. M'MANIS, MANAGER.

NEW DIRECTORY

—FOR—

Los Angeles City and County

Having had a large experience in the Directory Publishing Business, the undersigned respectfully announces to the citizens of Los Angeles that they are engaged in a thorough canvass of the city and county for the names of residents for their new directory. To ask the co-operation of all in the work of making the directory of names correct as the rapidly increasing and incessantly changing population will permit.

The book will contain a complete Street Directory, a Horse Car Directory and Cable Directory.

Full particulars of all Churches, Schools and Societies, together with the information proper to be found in first-class city directories.

NEW FEATURES.

In addition to the usual matter of a Directory, there will be a full description of all the Public and Private Institutions of the city and county, as well as a truthfully written sketch of the Leading Business Houses and business interests.

A NEW COUNTY MAP.

Will be given with each copy of the Directory. The map, prepared by the well-known solicitor, J. D. Stevenson, of this city, will have upon its margins the names, business and address of every subscriber to and advertiser in the Directory, and will be suitable for hanging on the wall.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED COPIES

Of the book and map have been contracted for. The work to be done in the very best possible style of the art. Of these, 150 copies will be distributed in the hotels and reading-rooms of the Gold Coast, and 150 copies to the leading hotels of the Eastern States and Canada. The placing before the whole country, in a handsomely bound, substantial volume, the business and general interests of Los Angeles in an attractive and reliable form, where it will remain for two years.

To ask a liberal patronage from the business men, pledging them in return a Directory of which they will be justly proud.

For agents are all gentlemen of culture and ability, and we bespeak for them a cordial reception.

Persons or firms making changes in business or residence after they have been canvassed, should report the changes to us, and they shall be carefully attended to.

A. A. BYNON & CO.,

ja31 No. 39 Franklin Street, Los Angeles.

SANTA ANA BUSINESS DIRECTORY

Santa Ana Hotel, corner Fourth and Main streets, Santa Ana, Cal. Neatly furnished rooms. Bus from all trains.
J. W. LATHAM, Proprietor.

J. Belcher, Pres. W. S. Bartlett, Cashier.
Commercial Bank of Santa Ana. Capital, $100,000.

Geo. H. Sleeff, REAL ESTATE, acres, alfalfa, fruit lands. Office, Main st., Court Rank Building.

R. W. Grant, UPHOLSTERER, BEDDING, CARPETS, OIL cloth, matting, wall paper, etc.

C. D. Allen, WHOLESALE and retail dealer in sporting goods, guns, rifles, pistols, etc.

Geo. E. Freeman, NOTARY PUBLIC OF THE PEACE, notary public and conveyancer. Main st., Santa Ana.

Dr. H. G. Kermodie, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, Office Fifth and Bush streets, Santa Ana, Cal.

Taylor House, Santa Ana, Cal. NEWLY FURNISHING SANTA ANA VALLEY will find this a new, comfortable and desirable. Free 'bus from trains.
J. C. TAYLOR, Proprietor.

R. J. Sattlebury, DEALER IN REAL ESTATE, FOURTH st., Santa Ana.

Robert Eccles, SANTA ANA Pork Packing Co. Wholesale dealer in Los Angeles.

Spurgeon Bros., DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, GROCERIES. Cor. Sycamore and Fourth, Santa Ana.

R. W. FELTON. GEO. PEYSER. THEO. LACEY.
Felton & Co., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES, Corner Fourth and Sycamore sts. Elegant rigs furnished traveling men and tourists. Terms reasonable.

C. S. French, GENERAL LAND AND INSURANCE AGENT. Suitable tracts for colonies. Write him.

The Great Eastern.
THE CHEAPEST AND BEST DRY GOODS, Clothing, Furnishing Goods, etc.
M. HUFF, Proprietor,
Under Santa Ana Hotel.

Attention Tourists!
IF YOU WISH to invest in profitable property, lands of all kinds in the vicinity of Santa Ana, Westin, etc., send your name, and you will be shown around, to BUSINESS, Times-Mirror Co., Los Angeles.

Splendid Chance for Investment.
VINEYARD AND FRUIT RANCH OF 47½ acres, equidistant from Santa Ana Tustin and Orange. Tiles barn; cemented floors. Will pay over 20 per cent. Address ORANGE, care Times office, Los Angeles, Cal.

John R. Fant,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER, Fourth st., opposite Postoffice.

H. F. Stafford, C. E., SURVEYOR—Office, Fourth st., above Commercial Bank.

R. R. Rowe, BOOKS, STATIONERY, FANCY GOODS, periodicals, etc. Fourth st., Santa Ana.

W. O. Clayton, MANUFACTURER OF AND DEALER IN harness, saddles, bridles, whips, combs, brushes. Repairing done neatly. All work warranted. Agent for the celebrated Uncle Sam Harness Oil. Santa Ana, Cal.

NILES PEASE,

NO. 22 SOUTH SPRING STREET,

Dealer in New and Second Hand

Furniture, Carpets, Mattings, Oil Cloth, Linoleum, WINDOW SHADES & FIXTURES, Etc.

☞ The highest price paid for second hand furniture, carpets, stoves, and crockery. no13tf

DENTISTRY

For Less than Cost of Material

U. SMITH,

THE WELL-KNOWN DENTIST,

Has opened a Branch Dentistry Department adjoining his present office in ALLEN BLOCK, CORNER OF TEMPLE AND SPRING ST

PRICES: SETS OF TEETH $3, $4 and $5 EACH.

Extractions and Fillings proportionately low. 50,000 Teeth on hand of every shade

ENTRANCE FROM 220 TO 227 S. SPRING ST. OFFICE HOURS FROM 8:30 TO 5:30 P. M.

MASSAGE

Manipulation & Swedish Movement Cure

BY CAROLINA STAPFER, LATE OF BOSTON.

☞ The above treatment is especially indicated in Indigestion, Rheumatism and all Nervous diseases, and is based upon so thoroughly scientific and physiological principles that all schools of practice recommend it, and I refer to all well-known physicians of Los Angeles.

327 S. Spring St., bet. Third and Fourth. fe19 1m

J. W. BROWNING,

REAL ESTATE,

No. 7 South Main Street, Opposite the Opera House.

IS THE ONLY AGENT

In the city who makes a specialty of city and adjoining country property. It will pay those who wish to invest to call and get a price and descriptive list before buying.

REMEMBER

I will sell you just as good land within one mile of the city limits for $100 per acre as you can buy anywhere in the State. Why go out ten, twenty or thirty miles, when you can buy so close to the best market in the State.

Boyle Heights.

Every stranger coming to this place to settle should, before buying, take the green car at junction of Spring and Main streets, take a ride over to Boyle Heights, which is by far the best residence part of the city, for a number of reasons:

FIRST—It is free from all malaria. The ocean breeze coming from the direction of San Pedro gives pure fresh air, without being tainted by being blown over the city.

SECOND—During the rainy season you do not require boats to travel through the streets.

THIRD—It will have in a short time a cable road, the charter for which has already been granted.

FOURTH—Lots can be bought at the present time for one-third of what they can be bought in any other part of the city, the same distance out and of the same size.

FIFTH—Some of the best houses in the city are now being built there.

SIXTH—It is only one mile from the center of the city.

SEVENTH—It has all of the city improvements, such as electric lights and city water, of which there is no part of the city has a better supply.

For prices of vacant lots, houses and lots and acre land, call on MR. FARMER, at the two-story building next to the Boyle Heights Bakery, or at my office, No. 7 S. Main street, opposite Grand Opera House.

THE BEST SPECULATION IN LOS ANGELES

There is $10,000 in this to the man that has money to handle it. 200 acres within one mile of the city limits. Splendid soil, price only $100 per acre. There is no land near it that can be bought for less than $150 per acre. Be sure and see it.

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS!

You will seldom get a chance like it. One of the best hotels in this city for sale. Call on J. W. BROWNING, No. 7 S. Main street, opposite Opera House, for particulars.

ORANGE GROVES,

Alfalfa Ranches, Apple, Pear, Peach and Apricot Orchards

CITY BUILDING LOTS,

At all prices, ranging from $150 up to $5000.

J. W. BROWNING,

No. 7 S Main Street, Opposite Grand Opera House.

PERFECTION ORANGE WRAPPERS.

Cheapest and best in the market. The only real Orange protector. Perfect absorbant of all moisture. Non-conductor of heat and cold, and

Free From All Chemicals.

We have given our special attention for the past year to produce an Orange Wrapper that would be low price and economical, also a protection to the Orange and not an injury to the fruit. (Chemical prepared papers are injuricus to the Orange, causing decay and rot.) As to the cost of the Perfection Orange Wrapper, it is much cheaper than any other Orange Wrapper in the market. The Perfection Orange Wrapper has been highly indorsed and recommended by the leading fruit growers.

HELLMAN, STASSFORTH & CO.,

Wholesale Paper Dealers, 120 N. Spring and 115 and 117 N. Main Streets, Los Angeles, Cal.

We also print wrappers to order. Prices furnished on application. A complete assortment of Shipping Receipt Books, Stencil Brushes, Stencil Inks, etc. fe9 1m

PACIFIC FRUIT CO.

SUCCESSORS TO HOWE & HALL,

Wholesale & Commission Dealers in California Green & Dried Fruits.

RAISINS, ORANGES, NUTS, HONEY, BEANS, PRODUCE, ETC.

408 and 410 Davis Street, - - - - - San Francisco, Cal.

ESTABLISHED 1865. INCORPORATED 1885. ja19tf

A List of Genuine Bargains in Real Estate

IS OFFERED BELOW BY

L. W. DENNIS, 242 N. Main Street, Baker Block.

80 acres, desirably located, portion in city limits, surrounded by beautiful hedge; comfortable house, well, windmill and large tank; 60.0 bearing orange trees, 500 finely assorted deciduous trees; choice soil; city water for irrigation; will be sold altogether or divided, and at attractive prices.

70 acres in San Gabriel Valley, all in bearing fruits and vines; desirably located. Will sell at a bargain, or exchange for desirable property in Los Angeles.

Cosima—The "Phillips Tract," also cost self in the county for oranges, lemons or deciduous fruits; selling up rapidly; climate unexceptionable; lots $50 to $100 each; land in ten acre tracts at from $65 to $100 per acre, with water right.

6 acres in the city, on street car line; choice location; full bearing orange trees. A decided bargain.

Lot on Main street, 60x150, for $1000. Lots on Pico street, $44344, near cars and electric light. Cheap and easy terms. Also property on Boyle Heights, Pasadena and Ontario at attractive prices. Four lots one block from Main street, $1200.

Business Lot, centrally located; good house.

East Los Angeles—New two-story house of seven rooms, all complete, desirable location, $2250. Also lots $400 to $800, each on easy payments. ja19sTh1m

JUST RECEIVED AT 213 and 215 LOS ANGELES STREET.

Marbelized Iron Mantels and Grates, new and beautiful patterns, and at the lowest figures. Also Slate Mantels of beautiful design, Marble Hearths, Rideau Grates. Headquarters for the Cincinnati Safe and Lock Company's s.

ja10Su&Tu J. A. BARROWS.

ROSE HILL.

The Loveliest Spot in Pasadena

FOR SALE!

That choice building site, the home of Thomas Croft, on Orange Grove avenue, opposite the grand home of E. F. Hurlbut, is offered for sale for a short time at a great bargain.

The following are some of the commending points:

First—The finest view, excepting the Raymond, in Pasadena

Second—It is entirely free of frost.

Third—Thirty minutes' drive from Los Angeles.

Fourth—Five minutes' walk from Postoffice and railroad depot.

Fifth—Five minutes' walk from street car line, to be built at once.

Twelve hundred bearing fruit trees of the best varieties. Drives, shrubbery, and an extra amount of water.

Call on or address

ja24Su T. P. LUKENS, Pasadena.

HOLIDAY GOODS.

THE MOST COMPLETE LINE OF

Parlor Furniture, Brass Goods, Cheffoniers,

MANTELS, MANTEL MIRRORS,

Shades, Portiers, Lamberquins, Etc.

Ever offered in Los Angeles. Call at the

LOS ANGELES FURNITURE CO.

Nos. 259 and 261 NORTH MAIN STREET,

And make a selection at Eastern prices. de20

THE GREAT NERVE TONIC.—Prescribed as a remedy for General Debility, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Neuralgia, Nervousness, and all forms of "Nervous Constitution." Sold by all Druggists and Country Dealers.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. TAKE ONLY DR. HENLEY'S.

AUCTION SALE

And Grand Excursion to Pasadena Highlands

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1886.

Seventy-one residence lots, without exaggeration the loveliest location near Los Angeles. The view from this si is in every direction is of the most magnificent description, overlooking the new Raymond Hotel, beyond for miles in extent a broad stretch of blue ocean, with its passing sails and steamships in plain view; San Gabriel Valley, of which Pasadena is a part, spreading before you in all its far-reaching loveliness, altogether makes the scene truly sublime. Grounds in this vicinity have never before been sold in resident or small sections.

These lots, averaging 65x170 feet each, are situated 1¼ miles from mountains in Pasadena Highlands, 800 feet above Pasadena, ten minutes' easy drive from the pretty Olivewood railroad station. Perfectly level, abundance of water for each lot, beautiful grounds and residences in sight in all directions. Little or no fog or frost. Warmer in winter and cooler in summer than Pasadena or Los Angeles, because of conformation of surrounding country. Soil dark and rich. Every lot covered with vines and fruit trees of particular or choice variety. In fact the loveliest piece for a home conceivable. Visit the site before day of sale, for language cannot convey a tithe of its beauties.

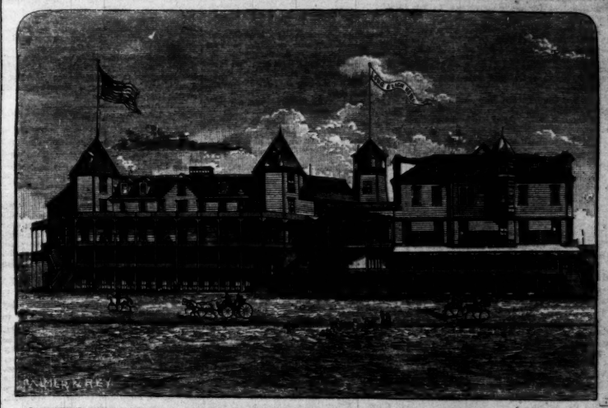
C. A. Sweet on Bonnie Brae car, will, until day of sale, in person or deputy, meet at Pasadena all who wish to see the grounds, if they will call at Harper & Reynolds Co.'s hardware store, near railroad station, and convey them free of charge to and from the grounds. Those wishing to drive out please send him notice by mail the day before. At day of sale ample provision will be made to convey guests free of charge from and to Olivewood railroad station. Lunch served on the grounds.

Purchasers wishing a large section can have refusal of adjoining lots at prices accepted for one. All persons desiring a home that embraces all the luxuries contained in Southern California in one site, be sure and visit this ground before purchasing elsewhere. Terms of sale—Half cash, remainder in one year at 10 per cent interest. A deposit of $25 on each lot will be required at fall of the hammer. Title perfect. For further particulars apply to JOHN E. HATCHER & Co., Auctioneers, Rooms 45 Bryson Block, this city, or to G. A. SHARTWOUT, Esq., Pasadena.

A special excursion train will leave Downey avenue station, L. A. & S. G. V. R. R., at 10 a. m. for accommodation of guests. Fare 50c round trip.

As we propose to provide for all we take, tickets will be limited in number to 500. Intending or possible purchasers will do well to apply early and secure a ticket, as the demand will exceed supply. Tickets for sale by Messrs. Stull & Thayer, stationers, No. 8 S. Spring street, from Thursday, 18th inst., to Wednesday, day before the sale. Auction sale at noon. fe18td

LONG BEACH HOTEL.



Open all the year. The most desirable Resort on the Coast. Only twenty miles from Los Angeles. The hote is pleasantly situated, only 100 feet from the ocean. Rooms single or en suite. Fireplaces, electric bells, etc. Trains twice each way daily. The Hotel Four-in-Hand meets all trains from Los Angeles.

de29tf COWLEY & MITCHELL, Proprietors

TURKISH, RUSSIAN, ELECTRIC

And Medicated Baths

—AT THE—

NEW HAMMAM BATHS,

74, 76 and 78 South Main Street.

Ladies' Department Open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Gents' Department Open from 9 a. m. to Midnight.

These baths are built on the same plan as those in the larger cities of the East and Europe. Elegant cooling rooms, where the bather can enjoy the comforts of an Oriental siesta. Hot rooms are large and well ventilated.

SUPERIOR & EXPERIENCED SHAMPOOERS.
ELEGANT TOWELING.
POLITE ATTENDANCE

An Immense Swimming Bath of Clear, Cold Water.

Barber, chiropodist and ladies' hairdresser. The Ladies' Department is under the management of an experienced lady shampooer, formerly of Las Vegas Hot Springs.

Electricity applied after the Bath, if desired, Free of Charge.

Single Baths, $1. - - - Six Tickets for $5.

fe13 1m

Furniture and Carpets,

WALL PAPER, SHADES, OIL CLOTH, MATTING

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL,

Prices Lower Than Ever,

Liberal Discount to Cash Customers.

WM. S. ALLEN, 32 S. Spring St.,

LOS ANGELES, CAL. jan11tf

74° GASOLINE.

Pure Deodorized. Guaranteed of the Best Quality.

20c PER GALLON IN CASE LOTS.

WHITTIER, FULLER & CO.,

207 North Los Angeles Street, - - - - Los Angeles, Cal.

fe13tf

W. R. MORFORD, JR. W. R. MORFORD

MORFORD & SON,

REAL ESTATE BROKERS,

(No. 110 N. Spring Street, Temple Block.)

Houses, Orange Groves, Vineyards, RANCHOS AND FARMS FOR SALE AND TO LET.

Refer by permission to R. Toberman, ex-Mayor; Hon. George Hansen, Governor John E. Plater, President L. A. County Bank; J. Dalliath Short, Viticulturist; R. S. Baker, Vice-President L. A. County Bank; I. W. Hellman, President Farmers and Merchants Bank; E. F. Spence, President First National Bank; Gen. John Mansfield, ex-Lieut. Gov. 27tf

For Sale at a Bargain.

20 ACRES OF THE CHOICEST VINEyard or fruit land, within seven miles of the city; healthful location; good neighborhood; close to railroad; splendid water right; price $185 per acre, if sold in next ten days; payments reasonable. Apply to

L. W. DENNIS,
oct27 242 N. Main st.

J. W. POTTS

HAS FOR SALE

20 ACRES OF FINE ORCHARD

Good locality, plenty of water, with house of seven rooms, three-quarters of a mile from the proposed present terminus of the Temple street cable road. Price $10,000.

Two lots on the hill, near the Second street cable road depot; $800.

Three lots, a half block from Temple st., near school house; $900.

One lot on Sand street; $1200.

One lot on Bellevue avenue; $800.

Also nursery trees of all kinds for sale. No scale bugs. Inquire at Gould & Mathews's room, 42 Temple Block, or apply to

J. W. POTTS,

On the orchard place, 2½ miles out, near Temple street. ja5 2m

CHEAP FRUIT FARM

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Ten acres, with house of 6 rooms, stable, etc., three acres in oranges, apples, peaches, pears, pecans, figs and English walnuts in full bearing; four acres raisin grapes, four years old; one acre alfalfa patch and some guin, pepper and Lombard poplar trees; excellent facilities for irrigating. Will sell for $3000 on easy terms, or exchange for city property. Call on R. VERCH, room 60, Temple block. ja27 1m

FOR SALE

A Five-Acre Home.

I WILL SELL, AT A BARGAIN, A FIVE-acre place near the University. All kinds of fruit trees and grapes. A new house, with 7 rooms, bathroom and closets, 2 porches and double bay window front. Artesian water and windmill; stable, etc. The best of land; does not require irrigation. Inquire of DR. J. ADAMS, at the Medical and Surgical Dispensary, opposite St. Elmo Hotel. de19 1f

Rent Union flag in Los Angeles after the outbreak of hostilities. The TIMES declares to the doubtless correct recollection of its veteran contemporary in this matter.

the bill upon the attention of the Senate, and he believed it of greater importance to the agricultural, industrial and mercantile interests of this country than any that had been proposed for years.

transacted a business of $8,000,000 a year, but was bankrupted by the Chicago fire, died suddenly at Alamosa, Colorado, this morning. At the time of his death he was travelling for a Kansas City dry-goods house.

The cause of the shooting was the seduction of Conover's daughter by Deany under promise of marriage. According to Conover's statement two of his daughters have been ruined by Patrick Deany and his brother Thomas.

summoned, and, with some difficulty, took up the artery, the patient fainting meanwhile from loss of blood. At 1 o'clock this morning the injured man was able, with some assistance, to walk home. Dram slept in the calaboose.

PERSONAL.

IF CHARLES CONKLIN will call at the St. Elmo he will see a friend from Decatur, Illinois. fe22 2t

FOR EXCHANGE.

FOR EXCHANGE—Country property for property in overflowed district in city. M. L. WICKS, rooms 1 and 4, Postoffice block, city. fe7tf

ALL ABOARD!—Violet's Overland Excursion No. 9 leaves Monday, March 15. Lowest rates; best accommodations on the road. See the plan before deciding your route. O. H. VIOLET, Manager, St. Charles Hotel. fe19tf

For Sale at a Bargain.

20 ACRES OF THE CHOICEST VINEyard or fruit land, within seven miles of the city; healthful location; good neighborhood; close to railroad; splendid water right; price $185 per acre, if sold in next ten days; payments reasonable. Apply to

L. W. DENNIS,
oct27 242 N. Main st.

J. W. POTTS

HAS FOR SALE

20 ACRES OF FINE ORCHARD

Good locality, plenty of water, with house of seven rooms, three-quarters of a mile from the proposed present terminus of the Temple street cable road. Price $10,000.

Two lots on the hill, near the Second street cable road depot; $800.

Three lots, a half block from Temple st., near school house; $900.

One lot on Sand street; $1200.

One lot on Bellevue avenue; $800.

Also nursery trees of all kinds for sale. No scale bugs. Inquire at Gould & Mathews's room, 42 Temple Block, or apply to

J. W. POTTS,

On the orchard place, 2½ miles out, near Temple street. ja5 2m

CHEAP FRUIT FARM

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Ten acres, with house of 6 rooms, stable, etc., three acres in oranges, apples, peaches, pears, pecans, figs and English walnuts in full bearing; four acres raisin grapes, four years old; one acre alfalfa patch and some guin, pepper and Lombard poplar trees; excellent facilities for irrigating. Will sell for $3000 on easy terms, or exchange for city property. Call on R. VERCH, room 60, Temple block. ja27 1m

FOR SALE

A Five-Acre Home.

I WILL SELL, AT A BARGAIN, A FIVE-acre place near the University. All kinds of fruit trees and grapes. A new house, with 7 rooms, bathroom and closets, 2 porches and double bay window front. Artesian water and windmill; stable, etc. The best of land; does not require irrigation. Inquire of DR. J. ADAMS, at the Medical and Surgical Dispensary, opposite St. Elmo Hotel. de19 1f

PRINTING AND BINDING.

There is nothing in the Printing and Binding line which the TIMES-MIRROR Printing, Binding and Ruling House, the oldest and largest in Southern California, is not prepared to execute in a manner equal to that of any office in the State. All kinds of Mercantile, Railroad, Legal and general Printing done. Books, Magazines and Pamphlets bound in Turkish leather, Morocco, cloth, sheepskin, or in any style desired Our work is guranteed to be equal to that done in San Francisco. PROMPTNESS! ACCURACY! EXCELLENCE! REASONABLE PRICES!

"TIMES" TELEPHONE:

Editorial Room.....No. 29
Business Office.....No. 29

THE CITY.

Dots.

E. A. Miller, 364 North Spring street, will sell you a nice house cheap.

Orange box shooks for sale by G. F. Dickson, agent Capitol Box Factory of Sacramento, 221 North Los Angeles street

Type-writing: Legal, and other papers; dictation copying; type-writing taught; Miss Schenck, room 26, Temple block.

Remember the race meeting of the Los Angeles wheelmen, at the corner of Sixth and Flower streets, to-morrow afternoon.

Dr. E. Robbins has decided to again use his magnetic powers to heal the sick.

Stoll & Thayer's new city map only 25 cents.

Three rooms can be had in the Hermosa Vista. The air, water and scenery are all that can be desired and the hotel first-class. Only 15 miles from Los Angeles. The hack is at Raymond street, at 9:15 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

The genuine Rogers Bros. silver-plated ware is always kept in stock at Pohlhaus & Vollmer's, No. 10 West First street.

In another column appears the card of A. L. Austin & Co., real estate and loan agents, who have opened an office at 113 North Spring street. They have a choice list of city and county property for sale.

The residents of Fifth street, east of Main, declare that they have their end of the street sprinkled as well as the west end. It is a much-traveled street, and they complain that the dust is becoming unbearable.

Rev. O. C. Miller, missionary of the Evangelical Lutheran Church on the Pacific coast, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Second and Fort streets, on this Lord's day, at 2:30 p. m. All who are interested in the organization of an English Lutheran Church are invited to be present. He will also preach at the Methodist Episcopal Church South at 11 o'clock this morning.

The Vienna Theater will be opened tonight by the Emma Frank Dramatic Company. The interesting drama of "The Convict's Daughter" will be presented. No smoking or drinking will be permitted on the premises and everything will be conducted in a strictly first-class manner.

The Connecticut Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford, will occupy Room No. 11, Jones Block, next to Herald office, on February 25, 1886.

In another column appears the professional card of Dr. E. C. Manning. The doctor is well known as a successful practitioner in this city.

The one mile walk by the members of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, at the corner of Sixth and Flower streets, tomorrow afternoon, will be well worth seeing.

Los Angeles souvenirs at Stoll & Thayer's.

At the close of the Perkins-Baldwin trial the jury was photographed by A. C. Golsh, the photographer opposite the Plaza.

Read the programme of the first annual race meeting of the Los Angeles wheelmen on the fourth page of the TIMES to-day.

Members Los Angeles Council No. 11 R. and S. M. see special notice on first page.

Dr. Todd, dentist, Nadeau block.

Excursion East. Special inducements by Warner Bros. & Crosby, 302 North Main street, Los Angeles.

Best meal in city, 261 S. Spring street.

Dr. Townsend, dentist, 237 S. Spring st.

There is much interest felt in the one-hundred yards race to-morrow by members of the L. A. A. C.

New styles of colored glassware at Pohlhaus & Vollmer's First street crockery house.

Whittier, Fuller & Co., 307 Los Angeles street, have reduced the price of 74 degree gasoline for stove purposes to 20¢ per gallon.

J. C. Fitz Henry's boot and shoe store in Pasadena, which has been closed for several days owing to misunderstanding in reference to the failure of Fisher & Co., will reopen on Monday with the finest stock of goods, it is said, ever offered in that town.

Some of the best city lots and acre property can be found on the books of H. J. Shoniberg & Co. Read their advertisement.

Dr. Urmy, Dentist, Schumacher Block.

If you have money to loan call on Wilcox & Robbins, 34 N. Spring.

Dr. Williams, specialist in diseases of the head, throat and lungs.

PERSONAL NEWS.

Mrs. S. B. Bliss returns home to-day.

Prof. J. M. Coyner, of Pasadena, was in the city yesterday.

L. M. Holt, of the Riverside Press and Horticulturist, was in town yesterday.

C. P. Longstreet and wife are passengers aboard to-day's San Francisco express.

Miss Mary B. Gard, of Los Angeles, is visiting at Dr. Bailey's.—[Orange Tribune.

Miss Annie Woodhead, of Los Angeles, is visiting at Rev. Bovard's.—[Orange Tribune.

Harlow P. Bancroft, of the firm of A. L. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, is at the St. Elmo.

R. B. Davis, representing the New England Soap Company, San Francisco, is visiting this city.

Gen. Sheehan and bride went to Santa Monica last evening, and will spend Sunday at the beach.

J. B. W. Spargur, the leading banker of Bainbridge, O., is in the city with his family, and may conclude to remain.

The TIMES had a pleasant call Friday from Gen. John F. Sheehan, one of the editors and proprietors of the San Francisco Post.

Mrs. Otis, of the TIMES, left for Santa Barbara yesterday, to be present at the fair which begins there on Tuesday. She will be absent probably a fortnight.

Robert Cunninghame of the Boston Journal, arrived here on Friday with his wife. He will remain some weeks, and will see the whole coast before going home.

The friends of Rev. A. J. Wells, pastor of the First Congregationalist Church, will be pleased to learn that he has regained his health sufficiently to resume his pulpit to-day. He is still weak, however—too weak, it is feared, to continue his work.

At the St. Charles: H. D. Sutliff, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; H. Kruse, M. Rosenburg, J. M. Hixson, San Francisco; Miss Armstrong, J. N. Armstrong, Hannibal, Mo.; Henry Clark and son, Duluth, Minn.; B. M. Moore, Pinecate; A. M. Meier, Cincinnati, O.; L. M. Holt and wife, Riverside; D. W. McCormack, Orange; M. McCormack, Newhall; James Smith and wife, Pasadena; Mrs. L. Gildmacher and two boys, Santa Ana; D. H. Healey, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

At the Grand Central: Mare Hontschke, Lugonia; Augustus Blair, Boston; Daniel Myers, West Baltimore, O.; Mrs. S. A. Gordon and two children, Des Moines; Dr. F. J. Fox, Dr. Bozarro, H. H. Cornell and wife, Star Medicine Company; Joseph Schanig, New York City; Valentine Lopez and wife, San Fernando; H. J. Austin, Colton, Cal.; J. Ellis; C. C. Patton, Pasadena; Charles Bessay, Madera; Wm. E. Moore, Abilene, Kan.; F. E. Armstrong, Bryan, Tex.; S. J. Thrailkill, Iowa; Geo. Clark, Duarte; Rev. C. Johnston, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; G. D. Wilson, San Francisco; H. N. Elliott, Oakland; C. Fahrig, Anaheim; J. Thomas, New Orleans; A. D. Norman, New York; D. C. Orman, Tucson; G. W. Warner, Chicago; F. J. Cash, San Francisco; A. F. Morton, New York; R. W. Hall, Calico; Jesus Lopez, San Bernardo.

Under a New Management.

Mr. Pierce, a photographer of great experience, has taken the Elite photograph gallery until recently owned by T. A. Stanton. Mr. Pierce has inaugurated many improvements, and has reduced the price of the best cabinets to $4 per dozen. His large card in another column will give particulars.

State Associations' Picnic.

All who failed to procure tickets for the picnic can do so at the Downey Avenue Depot Monday morning.

OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.

The Board of Trade Asks Its Improvement in Some Ways.

To the Honorable Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.—DEAR SIR: At a meeting of the Los Angeles Board of Trade, on the 16th day of February, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, Serious interruptions of the mail service between Los Angeles and points north and south have occurred in the past, and are likely to occur as frequently in the future if no remedy be provided, by arranging to have the mails transported by the Ocean route at such times; the interruptions referred to being the result of washouts caused by heavy rain storms that visit us at times; and

WHEREAS, There were, in the winters of 1883 and 1884, thirty consecutive days when railroad communication between Los Angeles and San Francisco was suspended, and railroad communication between Los Angeles and San Diego was cut off during the greater part of the year 1884; and

WHEREAS, There were eleven consecutive days in January of this year when we were without mail communication with San Francisco, all by reason of washouts as above; be it

Resolved, That we respectfully petition the Honorable Postmaster General to relieve us from the possibility of such embarrassments in the future by arranging now for the conveyance of the mails at such times by the Ocean route, by the steamers of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company; and it is also

Resolved, That, to foster our growing commerce with San Diego, Humboldt, San Buenaventura, Santa Barbara, Gaviota, Port Hasford, San Luis Obispo, Cayucos and Santa Cruz, and to better accommodate our correspondence with those places and to give it more prompt and certain delivery, a regular mail service to and from those places by sail or steamship company is needed.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Hon. Dorsheimer Prentiss, Attorney General, through the hands of our Congressional Representative, Col. H. H. Markham, who is hereby requested to respectfully urge our petition at the Post-office Department.

W. C. T. U.

Report of the County Convention Held this Week.

The County Convention of the W. C. T. U. was in session Tuesday afternoon and evening, Wednesday and Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Prof. More delivered the address of welcome, to which Mrs. Cash, county President, responded. Papers were read in the evening by Mrs. Dorsey and Mrs. Dr. Seymore.

Wednesday forenoon papers were read by Mrs. Evans of Garden Grove, Mrs. Bowen of Pomona, Mrs. Woodin of Pasadena, Mrs. Chaffee of Garden Grove. The discussion on the question, "What shall we do with our young men?" was led by Mrs. McPherson of Los Angeles

In the afternoon the subjects of "Franchise," "Temperance Instruction in the Schools," "Sunday School and Band of Hope Work," were considered in papers and discussions. Mrs. Hawkins of Pomona; Mrs. G. T. Hanley, Mrs. Blanchard, Mrs. Dr. Lord of Pasadena, Miss Emma Harriman and others taking part. In the evening Mrs. Olive A. Bird, State President, read a very able paper on heredity, and Emma Harriman delivered a short address on prohibition.

Miss Dunham, President of the J. W. C. T. U., spoke of the work of the young ladies in a most instructive manner.

A quartette of Los Angeles singers furnished excellent music, and Dolly Henley recited beautifully "Anna Gordon's "Collection Poem."

The convention was a successful and interesting one from first to last, and the reports from various sections of the county were, on the whole, very encouraging.

THE CALEDONIANS.

Programme of To-morrow Evening's Entertainment.

The Caledonian Club will give a musical and literary entertainment at Opera House Hall to-morrow evening, with the following programme:

Piano Solo—Scotch airs, Mrs. Ide.
Vocal Solo—"Bonnie Sweet Bessie, the Maid of Dundee," Mrs. W. W. Buckingham.
Vocal Solo—"Mary of Argyle," Marcus S. Snook.
Vocal Solo — "Robin Adair" (with guitar accompaniment), Mrs. N. Caichling.
Reading—"Cotter's Saturday Night," G. A. Dobinson.
Vocal Solo—Scotch ballad, Miss George.
Address—"Scotland as Seen by an Irishman," Hon. E. F. Spence.
Vocal Solo—"Scots Wha Ha'e Wi' Wallace Bled," Marcus S. Snook.
Vocal Solo—"Come, Buy My Flowers," Miss Maud Rose.
Vocal Solo—"We Better Bide a Wee," Mrs. W. W. Buckingham.
Reading — "Jamie Douglas," Tom Barnes.
Vocal Solo—Scotch ballad, Miss George.
Dancing—"Sailor's Hornpipe," Miss Maud Rose.
"Auld Lang Syne."

Gregory McDonald will play selections on the great Highland bagpipes during the evening.

There will be dancing at the conclusion of the entertainment.

Take Notice.

Watch well next year—there will be the largest emigration ever known to Southern California. We have it from the best authenticated source. You never hear abroad any other place spoken of but Los Angeles and Pasadena. Dr. and Mrs. Dr. Carr, Carmelita, S. P. Jewett and others. Dr. Congar's Arroyo Vista, where the sale takes place. Buy in this beautiful valley—sell if you see it before the sale you will surely buy here, in the heart of the city, two minutes' walk to the postoffice, churches, drive from Los Angeles. Our round trip only $2.75, including lunch at the villa. A floor. Every lot a gem, covered with orange groves and vines. Trees breaking down with the luscious golden fruit. This syndicate is composed of the following well-known gentlemen in Pasadena: F. M. Gerke, Esq.; Judge N. O. Forrest; C. S. Martin, Esq., H. G. Bennett, Esq., and Ward Bros. This is a sufficient guarantee for anybody.

Free lunch. Long credit sale.

Sunday is a nice, quiet day. Go and see it. Sale at 10:30. Sale at 10:30. Catalogues now ready.

C. L. S. C.

The various Chautauqua Circles of the city will unite in a general celebration of the anniversary of the starting of the "Chautauqua Idea," on Tuesday evening, February 23, at the Presbyterian Church, Second and Fort streets. A cordial invitation is extended to Chautauquans and to the general public. Members are requested to wear a bunch of Marguerites on the left breast, as a badge for the evening. The exercises will commence at 7:45.

The programme will include vocal solos by Misses Bush and Palmer, and Messrs. Nay and Rees; class choruses, with original words by members; paper or address, by Rev. Dr. Weller, on the founder, Dr. Vincent, and his work; crystalline, or glass music; experiments in electricity, by Prof. Dozier; poem, by Mrs. Weller, and other papers.

Admission free, and no collection.

Creating a Panic

In the dry goods trade, Monday, by offering 500 nice hoopskirts at 10 cents each, 500 Ball's Health Corsets at 40 cents, worth $1.25; fifty dozen fine embroidered handkerchiefs at 16⅔ cents, worth 35 cents, and 30,000 yards of ribbon at about one-fourth their real value, Monday, between 9 and 10 we offer 10,000 yards Lonsdale bleached muslin at 5 cents per yard. The above bargains can all be found in our basement salesroom, without doubt the cheapest salesroom in California. Come once and you are sure to come again. Hundreds of remnants of all kinds at way-down prices.

Two first-class salesmen and two first-class saleslad ies are wanted. Good wages will be paid to the right parties.

J. T. SHUMARD.

The Wheelmen.

The bicyclists will give a grand parade on their steel and nickel-plate horses to-morrow, starting from their club-room at 1 p. m. When they reach the Athletic grounds, corner of Sixth and Flower streets, the following programme will be carried out: Half-mile heat race, club; three-mile bicycle, open to all; one mile walk, members L. A. A. C.; one mile bicycle, club; 100 yards run, L. A. A. C.; 100 yards bicycle slow race, club.

Pythian Knights of Pasadena.

Pasadena Lodge, K. of P., celebrated the 22d anniversary of the institution of the order on Friday evening, with appropriate exercises, at Williams Hall. In response to the invitations issued about 150 were present. The programme was carried out as arranged, and much satisfaction was expressed with the initial entertainment of this young order in Pasadena. Music, both instrumental and vocal, was rendered throughout the literary exercises, which were opened with an address of welcome by Chancellor Commander R. K. Jones.

Past Chancellor J. E. Clarke followed with an address sketching the history and defining the principles of this order. Rev. M. N. Cornelius added to the interest of the occasion with telling remarks. An amusing sketch entitled "The Wrong Bottle," was rendered by L. Herman and C. W. Bell.

Following these exercises the company enjoyed a most bountiful supper, spread by Misses Nay and Willard, after which dancing and a general good time socially was indulged in.

Pasadena Lodge is only a little more than three months old, but has already an active membership from among the best citizens.

AH WUHEE.

A Desperate and Elusive Chinese Convict.

Capt. P. M. Darcy got back yesterday noon from his protracted absence north. Upon his arrival at the Sheriff's office, he was warmly welcomed and dragged into the inner room. Here Deputy Sheriff Will Hammel made an eloquent speech and presented the prodigal two expressive cartoons by Short. They represented a scene on the train, with Darcy sitting by a window intent on seven-up, while from the opposite end of the car back his handcuffed Chinaman is diving headlong.

It will be remembered that on the 15th Ah Wuhee, whom Capt. Darcy was taking to San Quentin under a five-years' sentence for burglary, jumped from a carriage window in the night at Colachepi, with the handcuffs on him, and escaped. He landed on his head, but was not injured. It took a seventy-five mile chase to catch the fellow, who was very desperate. Capt. Darcy had everyone along the line on the lookout, and Ah Wuhee was finally captured at Sumner on the 17th. He had got some Chinese section-hands to saw off the handcuffs, and fought fiercely when captured. When on the ferry-boat later, in charge of Capt. Darcy, he tried to jump overboard and drown himself. Capt. Darcy landed him safe in San Quentin, however, and has the receipt for him.

THE BRIBERY SCANDAL.

No New Developments, but the Lowden Working.

Nothing new was developed yesterday in the bribery scandal brought out in the investigation by the Supervisors Friday.

Stenographer Cherry was busy all day transcribing the evidence taken down by him, and he expected to have his task completed Monday. Then—"we shall see what we shall see." District Attorney Holton and Lawyer Williams are said to be looking up the law. S. B. Mills, of the W. H. Perry Lumber Company, who was not present at Friday's investigation, returned to the city yesterday. He told a reporter of the TIMES that the paper answering to Document No. 1 (Hall's promissory note) was not in the possession of his firm. Further than this he did not add his conversation reported, but he was willing to appear before the Supervisors at any time and testify.

Sheriff Gard is deeply interested home to-morrow, and he will no doubt embrace the first opportunity to appear before the Supervisors and testify in his own behalf.

The First Orange Train.

L. E. Mosher, General Commercial Agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, favors the TIMES with a photograph of the first special orange train made up under the auspices of the Orange Growers' Protective Union, and which pulled out of the Los Angeles yard early last week. The picture shows an engine and seventeen fruit cars, backed by the Southern Pacific freight depot and a section of hills and houses in perspective. Unfortunately the marxin of the picture cuts of the caboose and a second engine which brought up the rear of the train. It is, however, a very attractive view, and the significance of it is one of its best features. Much obliged, Hank!

An Important Notice.

Readers see what is to take place on Tuesday. The great, grand auction sale—the great, grand excursion—and don't you go on any other excursion until you have been with us once. John C. Bell, the auctioneer, will sell on the grounds on Tuesday, at 10:30. Cars will leave the depot at 9:30. Lots of people got left last time. Go early and get a good seat. The sale will take place in the orange grove by order of Ward Bros., real estate agents of Pasadena. Discoursing of music by the Pasadena Cornet Band. Splendid free lunch, in the orange grove—level as a floor. Best of drainage. Finest climate on the face of God's earth.

Pasadena.

Pasadena has been the miracle of Southern California. Like some charmed spots we read of in fairy tales everything there has prospered. It has grown from an insignificant hamlet in 1877 to a thriving, prosperous community in 1886, and the fame of the beauty of its surroundings has gone all over the civilized world. A chance for a profitable investment in real estate in the very heart of Pasadena is offered by the auction sale of lots which is to take place there next Tuesday. A low excursion rate is offered and the opportunity should be improved.

Tourists, Make a Note On't.

The short trip by the San Gabriel Valley railroad and carriage via Pasadena to Rose's, Baldwin's and Sierra Madre Villa, requires only a short drive to view the charming scenery and sighs of the valley and foothills—the famous orange groves, vineyards and gardens of our paradise. Rail to Pasadena avoids the thirty-mile drive from Los Angeles. Our round trip only $2.75, including lunch at the villa.

The Knights of Labor.

The Knights of Labor, at their regular meeting last evening, indorsed the action of the Trades Council on boycotting the Chinese. It is stated to the TIMES that there will be no meeting next Saturday, but that the Knights of Labor will attend the mass meeting at the Tabernacle next Saturday evening in a body.

A Pasadena Investment.

Next Tuesday, February 23, the Congar tract, in Pasadena, will be sold at public auction. This property is, indeed, the dream of all properties in that beautiful suburban place. This is, indeed, a rare chance for those seeking an investment.

Mrs. Hunter Found.

Mrs. Hunter, whose mysterious disappearance was noted in yesterday's TIMES, has been found at her house at Colton, whither she wandered in her suffering and aberration. She is very sick.

BRIEFS.

Sheriff Gard is expected home to-morrow.

The grand picnic excursion to Lamanda Park to-morrow. There will be a union of States.

The bond of Rose Williams was yesterday declared forfeited in the Superior Court, and a bench warrant was issued.

Judge Cheney will deliver an address appropriate to Washington's birthday, at University Chapel, West Los Angeles, at 2 o'clock to-morrow.

Coroner McFarland held an inquest Friday on a man who died suddenly at San Pedro of hemorrhage of the lungs. Particulars are not at hand.

It is announced that a special fruit train will leave Los Angeles to-day for the East. It will keep ahead of the passenger train all the way through.

Filed in the Recorder's office yesterday: thirty-three deeds, fifteen mortgages, thirteen satisfactions, four marriage licenses, and five miscellaneous papers.

The committee of the Trades Council have secured the Tabernacle, on Main street, near Fourth, for the holding of the anti-Chinese meeting next Saturday evening.

Marriage licenses were yesterday issued to C. Garcia and Rafaela Feliz, José N. Maria and Carmen Vega, Michael Clark and Delia Quinn, and Rodolfo Laughlin and Celeste Vignes.

The TIMES force is under obligations to J. Jorchow, of San Gabriel Mission, for a box of fine Navel oranges sent to the office yesterday. The fruit proved to be of excellent flavor and very sweet.

The reconstructing force of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley Railroad from the railroad bridge to the freight depot, on the west side of the river. Men and teams are at work filling up the vacuum where the passenger depot used to stand.

The People's Store are Going to Give Away Glassware this Week Free to Every Purchaser of $7, $12 and $20.

Besides this, we are going to cut prices all through the house this week. We want to make our February sales the best on record. The merchants in our lines say that "we have no business capacity, that all we understand is to draw crowds by selling goods for less than cost." Well, we will show them that we understand drawing crowds and that we are "keen knifers." We've been selling goods so long for less than cost that, as they say, we're expected to keep company with the sheriff daily. It's your benefit; this week we'll give you a free ride in prices. We expect to draw a big crowd this week as we've laid out some splendid values for sacrifice. We have mentioned some splendid values in shoes in our advertisement elsewhere in this paper. Our shoe department is deservedly popular. Our boys' clothing department likewise. Many of the goods in these departments are sold less than shoemen in the trade pay for them. We have added a hat and cap department. You will find men's and boys' straw and felt hats 50 per cent. cheaper than any hat store in town.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

Lands and Lots for Sale by Lyman Allen, Pasadena.

$950. Lot on Villa street, near Moline avenue, 100x145; extra fine trees, and only $9.50 per front foot.

$200. Lot, northwest corner Moline and Villa, 50x145; fine building site.

$400. Fine lot on Chestnut street, 50x140; a good bargain, close to business center.

$800. Lot 100x250, on high ground, giving the finest and extended views.

$450. One acre, corner lot, in trees, an oak tree.

$1,100. Two and a half acres, corner lot, mostly set, a fine live oak tree location, and has a high, beautiful building spot. Hard to beat.

$850. Two and a half acres, corner lot, handsome ground.

$625. Five acres good land, good water right.

$1,000. Five acres good land, water piped, mostly set, small house.

$1,800. Forty and seven-tenths acres, corner lot, mostly in trees, water piped; cheap.

$2,750. Ten lots, bearing trees, on two good streets; good place to put some of your surplus coin.

$3,300. Five acres, good bearing trees, fine building sites, on nice avenue, would divide up well, is a decided bargain.

$4,500. Ten acres, bearing trees, house of 5 rooms.

$1,500. Thirty-three lots near Raymond Hotel, some of them very nicely, very low prices.

$3,000. Twenty acres, choice land, mountain water piped.

Cut this out and put it in your vest pocket.

Ladies, Attention!

Have you attended the great bargain sale at Mosgrove's the past week and inspected the unequaled bargains they are offering and will continue to offer for some time?

The immense crowds that daily visit the store prove to the most skeptical that the goods offered are veritable bargains, and must be seen to be appreciated.

Jerke's jersey waists in great variety. Capes and Jersey Newmarkets are marked down fully one-half, and we advise the ladies to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain such genuine bargains. Don't fail to visit Mosgrove's this week.

Ladies suffering from female weakness, irregularities and diseases incident to their sex, should consult Mrs. Dr. Hall, a whose specialty is diseases of women, and whose method of treatment gives immediate relief. 341 Spring street.

Dr. E. Robbins, corner First and Spring streets, diagnoses disease without explanation from the patient free of charge.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, at 2:30 p. m., at the First Presbyterian Church.

If you want a pleasant trip and cheap rates, go with the old reliable excursion company, February 23. Leave 12:30 a. m.

BAKER & DENISON,
304 N. Main street.

E. Adam's Clothing House.

Busy, busy. We have been busy last week making our customers happy with unparalleled bargains in suits. There is still a lot of them left. Don't be too late in securing one of those splendid $14.50 silk mixed suits. Call soon at 18 S. Spring street.

Card to the Public.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19, 1886.

To the Insuring Public: I take pleasure in recommending the Western Fire and Marine Insurance Company of California, represented in Los Angeles by Mr. Theo. Summerland, he having paid me this day the amount of my loss in full by the fire which occurred Feb. 18, at 660½ San Fernando street.

JOSEPH BAYER.

$1000 Reward for that Man

That can find any nitrate of silver, sugar of lead, sulphur or oils in the great California Golden Age Hair Reproducer and Tonic. Hair stops falling out. Dandruff removed and diseases of the scalp cured at once. Hair grown on bald heads in 60 or 90 per cent. of those that use the Golden Age. It gives the hair a beautiful, healthy appearance. Try it; only $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5. The Wonderful Sea Foam for shampooing the head is pronounced by leading physicians and business men to be the best article known. Only 50 cents per bottle, at all druggists, or sent C. O. D. to all parts of the United States All orders sent to S. Brown & Co., P. O. Box 892, Los Angeles, Cal. Agents wanted everywhere.

Passenger Movements.

TO ARRIVE BY RAIL.

By Telegraph to the Times.

DENVER, Feb. 20.—The following passengers, bound for Los Angeles, passed here this evening:

Wm F Sharp, San Francisco; A G Ainsworth, Wm H Mills, Oakland; Wm N Bryan, San Francisco; T B Lemmon and wife, Nebraska; Miss H Wightman, Miss E Wightman, Texas; Mrs H B Bliss, Mrs E W Bliss, San Francisco; C P Longstreet and wife, Los Angeles; Mrs S A Judd, San Francisco; Mrs E S Clark, Portland.

OFFICE: Room 5, P. O. Block. RESIDENCE: 213 Dorn thouse street.

Dr. E. C. Manning.
Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. tf

USE QUEEN LILY SOAP.

Guaranteed to Wash Without Rubbing.

Try a box and be convinced that "imitation is the sincerest form of flattery."

The best proof that the Queen Lily Soap has extraordinary merits and is in good repute with the public is that it is so extensively imitated and counterfeited.

These counterfeits resemble the Queen Lily Soap in appearance and style of packing only. They lack the purity and general excellence of the genuine.

This notice is necessary, as vilely injurious and dangerous imitations, liable to produce chronic inflammation of the skin, are often substituted for the Queen Lily, because they pay a larger profit.

The price of the Queen Lily is as low as consistent with the cost of making such a high grade of pure soap. The price, compared to the quantity and the size of the cakes, makes it the cheapest soap for every body and for every wash.

Consumers have simply to insist upon having the Queen Lily, remembering that if any substitute is offered it is for the advantage of the seller.

The Queen Lily is the finest soap known for laundry and general household use. It is made of vegetable oils, and everything used in its manufacture is the purest and the best, so it is absolutely pure.

Ladies will find this soap especially adapted for washing laces, infants' clothing, silk hose, cleaning gloves and all articles of fine textures and delicate color, and for the various uses about the house that daily arise requiring the use of soap that is above the ordinary in quality.

For the bath, toilet or nursery it is preferred to most of the soap sold for toilet use, being purer and much more pleasant and effective, and possessing all the desirable qualities of the finest unadulterated White Castile Soap. Respectfully,

NEW ENGLAND SOAP CO.,
Cor. Sixteenth and Utah sts., San Francisco.

The name "Queen Lily" registered as a trade mark and box label patented. Any infringement will be prosecuted.

For sale by all grocers on Pacific Coast.
fe21 1m

A. L. AUSTIN & CO.,

Real Estate & Loan Agents

Offer for sale or trade a choice list of city and county property, also Eastern property to sell or exchange for property in this vicinity.

We solicit patronage from all wishing to buy, sell or exchange.

Please call at the office, 113 N. Spring st., or send description and price through the Postoffice. fe21tf

A PHYSICAL WONDER.

Hundreds of Abandoned and Hopeless Sufferers Made Happy by Relief.

Dr. MacLennan, the Distinguished Vitapathic Physician of San Francisco—His Methods of Treatment a Success here in Los Angeles — Cures that Challenge Belief.

[Advertisement.]

So many thousands are already acquainted with his mode of operating it seems necessary only to say that by this method an equilibrium of the vital powers is at once established, and an equalization of the circulation maintained, thus Nature is enabled to throw off effete matter which generates and fosters disease, and health at once ensues.

Dr. MacLennan heals by bringing into action the all-potent elements of Nature, and the recuperative forces of the human system; he adopts a natural course which commends itself to the humblest understanding. His often effects an immediate cure of cases deemed beyond all reach, because, in connection with natural agencies, he brings into requisition

POWERS AND ELEMENTS WRAPPED IN MYSTERY to the ignorant, and ignored by the regular schools of Materia and Medicine, though recognized by Sacred History of all times, and the most eminent physicians of every age, but as yet only taught in the American Health Colleges of Ohio, whose graduates are now found to perform the same marvelous cures, causing ministers, physicians, scientists and the public generally to stand in wonder and amazement. One thing is sure, they are making a record in the history of the cure of diseases so far ahead of the other schools of medicine that a few years back they would have set the world agog as "miracle workers."

Dr. MacLennan, the most successful exponent of this progressive system now before the public, does not only remove the disease for the time being, but removes the causes, producing a permanent cure.

To prove the above assertion he submits the following cases for publication. Dr. MacLennan can be consulted free at 111 South Main street, near Second, opposite the Cathedral.

I deem it a duty to let the public know, through your valuable paper, of the sudden and wonderful cure of paralysis of my right hand wrought on me by Dr. MacLennan. He restored to me the use of my hand by one week's treatment. DENNIS RIORDAN, Round House, S. Main st., Los Angeles.

Mr. Marsh, with California Furniture Company, Main street, Los Angeles, says: "Dr. MacLennan cured me of a severe trouble in my back and kidneys in two treatments. I consider him a very wonderful man."

Mr. Hinton, a carpenter slopping at 89 South Water street, Los Angeles, says: "I was nearly dead with heart disease when I went to Dr. MacLennan. He gave me instant relief and saved my life."

Mr. T. F. Conway, a well known citizen, residing at 47 South Los Angeles street, says: "My affliction was an uncontrolable mystery to physicians, but Dr. MacLennan handled my disease like a toy, and restored me speedily to health."

Mr. W. H. Cooper, 1036 Temple street, says: "I have doctored in vain, both here and in the East, for spinal trouble, but found no help until I took treatment of Dr. MacLennan, who gave me immediate relief."

Liver and kidney trouble of four years' standing cured in one month, and the patient gains sixteen pounds, and goes to work.

Mr. H. C. Rice, 127 First street, says: "I was a very sick man when I first went to Dr. MacLennan. For four years I suffered with liver and kidney trouble. Under the Doctor's treatment I commenced immediately to improve. I gained sixteen pounds the first month, and was able to go to work."

ASTHMA OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING YIELDS TO THE VITAPATHIC TREATMENT.

Mr. Dockwiler, another of Los Angeles' pioneers, and an old and much respected citizen, says: "I had asthma for over twenty years, and I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I am happy, however, to say that money could not buy from me the relief obtained at the hands of Dr. MacLennan."

"Yes," said Mr. Foot, of Chicago, now stopping at 211 Fort street, "I am now taking what the best physicians in the world recommended me, and it is helping me. Dr. MacLennan is a power, and his treatment will benefit, if not cure, all persons."

NEURALGIA CURED INSTANTLY.

Mr. Thomas McKay, 28 South Main street, says: "I was nearly crazy for four nights with neuralgia; blistered my face with poultices, plasters and liniments; afforded no relief. I went to Dr. MacLennan, who cured me in less than one minute by simply laying his hand on my face."

Mr. L. B. Huntington, of Anaheim, Cal., says: "Dr. MacLennan helped me instantly of extreme nervous weakness and neuralgia."

THREW AWAY HIS CRUTCHES.

Mr. Ira Brokaw, 26 South Main street, says: "I went to Dr. MacLennan on two crutches; inside of three weeks I threw them away and I am now a well man."

A BAD CASE OF SCIATICA RHEUMATISM CURED IN TEN DAYS.

Mr. William Allen, carpenter foreman of the Los Angeles Cable Railroad Company, and living at the corner of Wilmington and First streets, says: "The pain which I suffered seemed almost unbearable. My leg was drawn up and contracted; nothing seemed to afford me any relief until I took treatment of Dr. MacLennan. Immediate improvement followed, and I was well in ten days."

PROGRESSIVE PARALYSIS CURED IN A FEW DAYS.

Mr. C. G. Miller, of Wilmington, says: "My lower limbs were so weak that I was hardly able to walk. A few treatments from Dr. MacLennan cured me of all my infirmities. I do sincerely advise all who are out of health to try him."

TAKEN FROM A BED OF SUFFERING.

Mr. Paul Koch, 726 Main street, an old and well-known citizen, says: "For four long months I suffered untold agony. Owing to the failure of others to give me relief, I reluctantly and with great persuasion tried Dr. MacLennan's treatment, with extraordinary good results. He has taken me off a bed of sickness."

NEVER WAS SO HAPPY IN MY LIFE.

Mrs. Carns, residing at Artesia, says: "I never was so happy in my life as I am now, since I got cured of my rheumatism, which had completely crippled me the last two years. Dr. MacLennan has removed all my lameness and pain."

MR. J. C. M'MENOMY,

The well-known plumber, gas and steam fitter, 7 and 9 First street, says: "I will always speak well of the bridge that carries me safely over. Dr. MacLennan has accomplished great deal of good in my family."

NEVER FELT SO WELL IN FOUR YEARS.

Mr. Henry Ahrens, stopping at the corner of Olive and Second streets, says: "I have suffered for four years with indigestion in an aggravated form. Physicians had given my case up. Dr. MacLennan has cured me in one month."

These are but a few brief extracts from hundreds of testimonials received within the past few weeks, from people you know right here among us. It is by such labor as this that the fame of Dr. MacLennan is growing, and will continue to grow. Humanity cares less for medical schools than it does for the end of all medical work—the alleviation of suffering—and when a healer is found who does not belie his title abundance of patronage will flow to him.

Dr. MacLennan has moved to 111 S. Main street, below Second, and directly opposite the Cathedral.

Temperance Lecture APPOINTMENTS.

W. B. WADMAN, OF SAN FRANCISCO, G. W. P. of the Sons of Temperance, and Dr. Stephen Bowers, of the Ventura Free Press, will deliver addresses at—

Compton, Monday, February 22.
Pasadena, Tuesday, February 23.
Santa Monica, Wednesday, February 24.
Downey, Thursday, February 25.
Orange, Friday, February 26.
Santa Ana, Saturday, February 27.

The friends of temperance in each above-named locality are asked to make arrangements for these meetings and give notice thereof. A general invitation is given to all to attend and hear these able and eloquent speakers. fe21

NEW PARAGON SCHOOL DESK!
The Best in the World.

The undersigned have this day been appointed Sole Agents for Southern California for the sale of the "Paragon School Furniture," and are now prepared to quote LOWEST RATES to all requiring a FIRST-CLASS SCHOOL DESK.

LAZARUS & MELZER,
Educational Booksellers,
LOS ANGELES.....CAL

BARGAINS

FOR THE PEOPLE

—AT—

MOSGROVE'S

For the Next Thirty Days.

This superb and extensive stock is now thrown on the market without reserve, and must be sold before March 15.

We are cramped for space, and must make room for our spring importations, as we propose adding a complete line of Ladies' Spring and Summer Ready-Made Suits.

We have no old and shop worn goods to sell. Our garments have an established reputation for their superior fit and finish.

Below we give the list of an immense variety of bargains. You will have no cause to object to prices. Call at once and secure a first choice.

SHOULDER CAPES AT HALF PRICE

50 Plush Capes, reduced from $5 to $2 50 each.
62 Astrakhan Capes, reduced from $5 to $2 50 each.
43 Cut Astrakhan Capes, reduced from $7 to $3 50 each.
30 Curly Astrakhan Capes, reduced from $10 to $5 each.
23 Curly Astrakhan Capes, with silk quilted lining, reduced from $12 50 to $6 50 each.
35 Fawn Silk Plush Capes, reduced from $13 to $6 50 each.
20 Cut Russian Plush Capes, with quilted silk lining, reduced from $17 to $8 50 each.

SPECIAL!

75 Black Coney Fur Shoulder Capes, with quilted satin lining, reduced from $6 50 to $3 50 each.

Ladies' Walking